Puppet Plans No Neutrality For Hungary

Premier Kadar Vows To Keep Country Tied To Kremlin Bosses

VIENNA (AP) — Russia's puppet premier of Hungary, Janos Kadar, today rejected neutrality as a future policy for the nation and refused any negotiations with former Premier Imre Nagy as long as he remains in the Yugoslav Embassy in Budapest.

Kadar set the policy of his regime in a statement to a workers' delegation, broadcast by Budapest radio, which showed clearly he has no intention of walking out of the Soviet-dominated Warsaw Pact or giving up the close ties with Moscow which set off the three-week revolution.

Kadar said that a neutral Hungary, which Nagy had proposed during his brief tenure as premier, would be "exploited by the imperialists and lead to war." The international political situation, he added, does not favor a policy of neutrality.

Kadar claimed he had reached an agreement with Soviet military authorities in Hungary that "no one may be deported," and declared the government would "hold no one responsible for participating in the uprising of the past three weeks."

• • •

THIS CONTRADICTED a Budapest radio broadcast Wednesday which admitted the Soviet army is deporting Hungarians to the East in sealed railway cars in a desperate effort to stamp out revolutionary elements. The radio told of the deportations in explaining why the general strike had not ended.

Kadar declared in today's statement only persons arrested during commission of "acts of terror" would be prosecuted.

As for the man the revolt had made premier briefly, Kadar said an agreement with Nagy "could be possible only if he changes his attitude and comes out of the Yugoslav Embassy to negotiate."

Nagy took refuge with the Yugoslavs when the Russians poured troops into Hungary and Budapest to suppress the revolution.

Budapest radio said Kadar also told the workers' delegation that the only parties which would be allowed to participate in elections would be those which "stand for Socialist principles and serve the interests of the workers."

The puppet premier reiterated his previous stand that negotiations for the withdrawal of the Russian forces from Hungary can only be opened after order and peace have been restored.

The rebel guns were silent in Budapest today after the end of armed resistance at the big plants on Czepel Island, in the Danube just south of the capital. But the workers there, after downing their guns, joined in the nationwide general strike.

Undaunted by the Soviet tanks and troops lining the roads to Czepel, the workers held a mass meeting demanding the ouster of the Kadar government and the reinstatement of Nagy, who before the Russians kicked him out Nov. 4 had promised free elections and negotiations for the withdrawal of Soviet troops.

Danish Troops Earliest To Land In Canal Zone

Shuttle Service To Be Speeded, Spokesman Says

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

First units of the United Nations police force landed in the Suez Canal Zone today.

The first Swiss airliner loaded with 45 Danish troops touched down behind the Egyptian lines at Abu Suweir. A second plane carrying 47 Norwegians also landed. Abu Suweir is on the west side of the canal near Ismailia.

A third plane carrying equipment for the international police force landed 45 minutes later. The Swissair planes were chartered by the U. N. to move the police units and supplies to Egypt.

A U. N. spokesman said a second group of about 100 men will leave the Capodichino, Italy, staging area Friday for Egypt. He said the second contingent would be made up of the first Colombian troops and another party of Norwegians.

The U. N. command at Capodichino announced that the "technical problems with which we were faced seem now to be solved."

A spokesman added that the shuttling of planes between the staging area and the canal zone will be speeded up.

• • •

NOTHING WAS said, however, about solution of the major political problems of where the force would operate in Egypt and for how long.

Hurry-up orders for the U. N. peace army to get moving to Egypt were issued Wednesday night after an Arab diplomatic source had reported in Moscow that President Nasser had requested Russia to send so-called volunteer forces to Egypt immediately.

Moscow dispatches today said Egyptian diplomatic sources there still declined to discuss the report. There was a complete blackout on information at the Egyptian Embassy there. Requests for confirmation or denial of the report were met by "no comment" or "no one is available to discuss this matter."

The New York Times said in a dispatch from Cairo that official sources in the Egyptian capital denied that Egypt had asked the Soviet Union to send "volunteers" to Egypt at this time.

The dispatch said one source added that Egypt "naturally" had not repudiated offers from the Soviet Union, Communist China or any other nation to send "volunteers" if Nasser felt they were needed. But the source said that since there now is a cease - fire and U. N. forces have been ordered to the scene, Egypt felt no need for the entry of foreign "volunteers."

Before the vanguard's takeoff, the international force at Capodichino had swelled to 467 men of four nations — Denmark, Norway, Colombia and Canada. More are to come, with the force finally totaling perhaps 10,000.

THERE STILL was no word of a clear-cut agreement on the exact

Ex-Con Tells Of Attack on Victor Riesel

NEW YORK (AP)—An ex-convict, confessed conspirator in the acid attack on Victor Riesel, has detailed his version of a slain hoodlum's story of how the labor columnist was blinded for a $500 fee.

Joseph Peter Carlino, who pleaded guilty to helping plot the acid attack on Riesel last April 5, testified Wednesday for the prosecution before a federal jury of eight men and four women.

Carlino was the first witness in the trial of Domenico Bando, Leo Telvi and Gondolfo Sheikie Miranti. Four others, including labor racketeer John Johnny Dio Dioguardi, will be tried later.

Throughout his testimony, Carlino referred to "the boys uptown," whom he did not identify.

The government said Wednesday it would not try to prove Bando, Leo Telvi and Miranti plotted the attack, but only that they helped get Abe Telvi out of town on orders from "the bosses uptown."

The trio on trial, as well as the four others to be tried later, all were indicted on two counts: one of conspiracy to interfere with a federal grand jury by blinding a prospective witness, and another of conspiring to conceal the existence of the alleged conspirancy harbor Abe Telvi and cause his unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. The three are being tried on the latter count.

Railroads Ask Hike in Rates In 'Emergency'

COLUMBUS (AP)—Railroads hauling freight in Ohio today asked the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to grant them a seven per cent emergency rate increase. The commission indicated it would hold a public hearing in mid-December on the request.

The railroads Oct. 23 requested a 15 per cent increase in rates, but said today they need an emergency increase.

The railroads pointed out that they signed a new contract with non-operating union employes who make up 70 per cent of all employes. The contract granted a 10 cent wage increase Nov. 1 plus increased welfare benefits that add another 2½ cents an hour. The increase also calls for wage increases next November and in November, 1958.

Pay increase demands of operating employes are still pending.

The railroads recently asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for both permanent and emergency rate increases for freight carried from one state to another.

News in Brief

'Volunteer' Danger Decried

BONN, Germany (AP) — Syrian Minister Idbrahim Istuani said today "the question of volunteers for Egypt is no longer of interest."

Istuani, who said he was speaking for all the Arab states, said:

"We wish now for the United Nations to take the matter in hand. Up to now no volunteers have arrived in Egypt. There is no Soviet volunteer on Arabian soil."

VIENNA (AP)—With nearly 30,000 new Hungarian refugees on their hands within the last 10 days, Austria's relief organizations are in trouble.

The Austrian government declared that unless more financial and material help was received immediately, the refugee aid program was endangered. Only about 1,000 refugees have left Austria for other countries.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet's top leaders turned out today to give a full-scale reception to Wladyslaw Gomulka, jailed as a Polish Titoist during Stalin's regime and now the spearhead of Poland's drive for equality with Moscow.

Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev, Premier Bulganin and President Klementi Voroshilov headed party and government officials who greeted the Polish Communist party chief and his four-man delegation on their arrival in Moscow.

GENEVA (AP) — U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Wang Ping-nan of Communist China held their 61st meeting today and agreed to meet again Nov. 30. The two envoys have been negotiating for 16 months on the questions of the release of 10 American civilians still imprisoned in China.

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The Colombian government said last night it will admit up to 10,000 Hungarian refugees.

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—British Prime Minister Eden told the Swiss government today a summit meeting of the Big Four powers and India "would not be profitable at this time." The Swiss government last week urged the five powers to meet to seek an end to the danger of a third world war.

President Eisenhower turned down the suggestion, saying the United States preferred to act within the United Nations at this time.

22 Seamstresses Trim Needling Men

NEW YORK (AP)—Fifteen men took a trimming Wednesday from 22 lady employes of a hand embroidery plant when the males tried to needle them into going on strike.

The men, members of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, invaded the shop and told the women:

"Strike—everybody out!"

Then the lady employes went into action. With screams, brooms, chairs and other improvised weapons they went to work on the men. The males retreated.

Control Failure Cited in Jet Crash

WASHINGTON (AP)—Loss of the Navy's second jet-powered seaplane resulted from failure of a control mechanism.

The Navy said Wednesday it had been determined the XP6M1 Seamaster crashed last Friday after it looped out of the pilot's control and then broke apart in midair.

This accident bore a resemblance to the crash of the first Seamaster last December. In both cases, destruction of the planes was attributed to malfunctioning of control gear.

Despite the loss of the first two SeaMasters, costing $5,600,000 apiece, a spokesman said the Navy plans to continue its jet seaplane program. It has ordered 24 SeaMasters from the Glenn L. Martin Co. of Baltimore.

Nimrods Jam Fields; Boy, 13, First Casualty

Hundreds of hunters took to the fields in Fayette County Thursday as the pheasant and rabbit hunting season opened at 9 a. m.

The first accident was reported 10 minutes after the season began, when Douglas Wright, 13, of Hamilton, hunting with a group of boys two miles south of Washington C. H., was peppered with shotgun pellets.

Memorial Hospital attaches reported that his wounds were minor despite the fact that he was hit in the right arm, right leg, and chest. He was treated and released.

At 11 a. m., William Schehl, 22, of Cincinnati, was treated at Memorial Hospital for superficial buckshot wounds in the head, face, neck and left hand. Schehl, after his release from the hospital, told Sheriff Orland Hays he and approximately 15 other men were hunting in a field off the CCC Highway, west of the city, when the mishap occurred.

Schehl didn't know where the buckshot came from.

• • •

THE PHEASANT crop is especially good this year, according to Game Protector Dave Krupla, and most hunters are concentrating on the birds.

It looked as though opening day might be spoiled by weather. Although there was morning sunshine, rain and possible thunderstorms were predicted for later in the day.

All over the city people appeared in hunting clothes early Thursday, and shotguns outnumbered lamp posts. Many workers reported early in an effort to get their tasks finished so that they could join those already in the fields.

AT Washington High School, students were excused during the morning if they met four requirements: (1) Possession of hunting licenses, (2) Permission from each of their teachers, (3) Permission from their parents, and (4) No truancy.

Marine Private Admits Pair of Maltreatment Raps

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—Marine Pfc. Frederick A. Renton, accused of more than a dozen cases of maltreating recruits at this Marine base, pleaded guilty at his courtmartial Wednesday to two specifications against him.

Several more charges remained against the 19-year-old New York City youth as the trial entered its second day.

Renton admitted forcing privates Robert A. Palaisa and Clement R. Ploof Jr. to suspend themselves on their elbows and toes while the point of a bayonet was held under their stomachs.

Renton was accused of holding the bayonet himself in the case of Palaisa while another recruit allegedly was forced to do it in the case of Ploof.

Another trainee, Joseph W. Androlowicz, testified that he beat a fellow recruit on the instigation of Renton.

Town Gets Laws, But Fires Its Cop

EAU CLAIRE, Mich. (AP)—This southwestern Michigan town of about 500 persons which for five months had a policeman but no laws to enforce, now has laws but no policeman.

For two years city elders worked on a new set of ordinances to replace the old set which unexplainably "disappeared."

At the same time they approved the ordinances, the village councilmen fired the town's only fulltime policeman. They said they couldn't afford his $3,600-a-year salary.

10-Engine Jet Falls; 21 Injured

DENVER (AP) — A 10-engine B36 bomber with 21 persons aboard crashed and burned north of Denver's municipal airport today, but first reports said there was no loss of life.

An officer at Lowry Air Force Base said all 21 men were taken to the hospital. He said the condition of 17 was reported not critical, but he had no reports on the others. The crash was at the edge of federal government property of the Rocky Mountain Arsenal.

Real Wintry Weather Seen In Plains Area

CHICAGO (AP)—Wintry weather, with snow, strong winds and falling temperatures, prevailed in wide areas in the western half of the nation today. It was fairly mild, with some showers, in eastern sections.

Strong, northwesterly winds fanned the cold air rapidly south and eastward across the plains states. The chilled areas extended from the Pacific Coast eastward through the northern Great Lakes region and Kansas.

Snow fell from Colorado and Wyoming into Nebraska, the Dakotas and western Minnesota. Falls measured around 4 inches in many places, although larger amounts were reported in mountain areas. Readings in the snow belt were mostly in the teens with near zero marks in the mountains.

The blowing snow caused heavy drifting in some areas and highway travel was hazardous.

The snow was expected to spread into parts of Kansas, Iowa and most of Minnesota and Wisconsin during the day.

Scattered showers and thunderstorms were in prospect from eastern Texas to Alabama and northward to the lower Great Lakes region. Partly cloudy skies will prevail in the northeast and the northwest, with rain forecast for the Pacific northwest.

U. N. Slated To Hear Outline Of U. S. Policy in Hot Areas

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. is scheduled to spell out today for the U. N. General Assembly America's position on the Middle East and Hungarian crises.

There was some question, however, whether the 79-nation body would become bogged down in a wrangle over completing its agenda that might delay the start of general debate until Friday.

The United States Wednesday night pushed a resolution through the powerful Steering Committee recommending that the Assembly postpone for another year any action on seating Red China in the U. N. The 8-5 decision countered India's proposal that the Assembly put the question on its agenda.

India and the Soviet Union were expected to carry their fight to the Assembly. Although there was little likelihood of the committee's decision being upset, a protracted debate could follow.

TENSION OVER the Middle East eased a little in the Assembly Wednesday night when word came that first units of the new U. N. police force had been ordered by Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to move into Egypt immediately. The secretary left to take personal charge of the operation.

Hammarskjold acted as dispatches from Moscow said Egypt had called on Russia to permit thousands of "volunteers" to go to the Arab state.

President Eisenhower commented in Washington that the United States would oppose — probably through the U. N. — the entry of any such volunteers into Egypt.

Before leaving New York's Idlewild Airport Hammarskjold voiced hope the U. N. force could succeed in "establishing peace and order."

"It is the first experience of its kind," he said. "Let us hope it will succeed."

Hammarskjold will confer in Italy with Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, commander of the U. N. force, before pushing on to Cairo. Before leaving, Hammarskjold made public a letter from U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., giving details of the American offer of help for the emergency force.

Lodge said the United States would provide air and surface transport for an estimated 3,500 to 5,000 man and their equipment to staging areas as requested by the U. N. command.

Southern Ohio Tree Fires Battled

CHILLICOTHE (AP)—Several forest fires, kindled by winds and low humidity, were reported burning in southern Ohio Wednesday. One is under control.

Fire Warden Robert O'Donnell said one "good sized" fire was reported in progress in western Gallia County near Center Point.

A smaller blaze was in progress in Lawrence County, he reported, "evidently set in three places."

Volunteer groups also battled fires in Scioto County.

A roaring timber and grass fire in southwestern Ross County was brought under control by 30 firefighters who managed to save a house in the path of the blaze.

Egypt Apparently Has Not Yet Filed Appeal for Communist 'Volunteers'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Has Egyptian President Nasser asked Russia to send "volunteers" to the Suez Canal Zone or hasn't he?

News developments today indicate that the Egyptian chieftain has not yet formally asked—but he may.

An Arab diplomatic source in Moscow said Wednesday Nasser had instructed his ambassador there to ask for the dispatch of volunteers immediately.

But in Moscow today, an Egyptian Embassy spokesman said Egypt will ask that Soviet volunteers be dispatched to Egypt only if British, French and Israeli troops do not withdraw promptly.

He said he did not know of any time limit on the British-French and Israeli withdrawal.

Egypt, he added, wanted to abide by decisions of the United Nations.

The spokesman today apparently made his statement on direct instructions from Cairo.

He said there appeared to have been some slight misunderstanding by the Arab diplomatic source that had reported a request for volunteers had been made. He indicated that a formal request for volunteers had not yet been made to the Soviet Union.

In Washington, American officials expressed hope that unwillingness to place his fate in the hands of the Russians would cause Nasser to spurn volunteers and put his trust in the U. N.

American strategists believe Russia is making a dangerous gamble for very high stakes with its "volunteer" offer.

The danger is that large-scale Soviet military intervention in this vitally important area of the world, even through the device of volunteers, could lead to a conflict that would touch off World War III.

President Eisenhower told a news conference Wednesday that the United States would back the U. N. in any steps to oppose entry of Russian or Red Chinese "volunteers."

He did not say what precise steps might be contemplated. The U. N., he said, "is not by any manner of means limited to resolutions."

The prize which may be luring the Russians on is ultimate domination of the region. The men in the Kremlin may see the present confused and uncertain conditions in the region as an opportunity to try for a stranglehold on the flow of oil, the sea lanes and the air bases that make the Middle East one of the most strategically important pieces of geography anywhere.

Yet the risks are great and some officials are still of the opinion that the Soviets perhaps are bluffing. They argue that even a Soviet bluff, backed up possibly by token assignments of "volunteers," would serve three large purposes:

1. To present the Soviet Union as the protector and defender of the Arab world and thereby earn Arab good will which would create long-range political influence for Moscow in the area.

2. To frustrate the United Nations peace program, based on putting a U. N. police force into Egypt and getting the British and French out. The underlying aim would be to keep the Middle East in turmoil as long as possible and see what further opportunities might open up for building Russian strength and influence there, perhaps with less risk than at present.

3. To throw a war scare into the Western nations and thereby divert their attention from Russian brutality in Hungary.

First U. N. Police Units Reach Suez

Danish Troops Earliest To Land In Canal Zone

Shuttle Service To Be Speeded, Spokesman Says

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

First units of the United Nations police force landed in the Suez Canal Zone today.

The first Swiss airliner loaded with 45 Danish troops touched down behind the Egyptian lines at Abu Suweir. A second plane carrying 47 Norwegians also landed. Abu Suweir is on the west side of the canal near Ismailia.

A third plane carrying equipment for the international police force landed 45 minutes later. The Swissair planes were chartered by the U. N. to move the police units and supplies to Egypt.

A U. N. spokesman said a second group of about 100 men will leave the Capodichino, Italy, staging area Friday for Egypt. He said the second contingent would be made up of the first Colombian troops and another party of Norwegians.

The U. N. command at Capodichino announced that the "technical problems with which we were faced seem now to be solved."

A spokesman added that the shuttling of planes between the staging area and the canal zone will be speeded up.

* * *

NOTHING WAS said, however, about solution of the major political problems of where the force would operate in Egypt and for how long.

Hurry-up orders for the U. N. peace army to get moving to Egypt were issued Wednesday night after an Arab diplomatic source had reported in Moscow that President Nasser had requested Russia to send so-called volunteer forces to Egypt immediately.

Moscow dispatches today said Egyptian diplomatic sources there still declined to discuss the report. There was a complete blackout on information at the Egyptian Embassy there. Requests for confirmation or denial of the report were met by "no comment" or "no one is available to discuss this matter."

The New York Times said in a dispatch from Cairo that official sources in the Egyptian capital denied that Egypt had asked the Soviet Union to send "volunteers" to Egypt at this time.

The dispatch said one source added that Egypt "naturally" had not repudiated offers from the Soviet Union, Communist China or any other nation to send "volunteers" if Nasser felt they were needed. But the source said that since there now is a cease - fire and U. N. forces have been ordered to the scene, Egypt felt no need for the entry of foreign "volunteers."

Before the vanguard's takeoff, the international force at Capodichino had swelled to 467 men of four nations — Denmark, Norway, Colombia and Canada. More are to come, with the force finally totaling perhaps 10,000.

THERE STILL was no word of a clear-cut agreement on the exact

Ex-Con Tells Of Attack on Victor Riesel

NEW YORK (AP)—An ex-convict, confessed conspirator in the acid attack on Victor Riesel, has detailed his version of a slain hoodlum's story of how the labor columnist was blinded for a $500 fee.

Joseph Peter Carlino, who pleaded guilty to helping plot the acid attack on Riesel last April 5, testified Wednesday for the prosecution before a federal jury of eight men and four women.

Carlino was the first witness in the trial of Domenico Bando, Leo Telvi and Gondolfo Sheikie Miranti. Four others, including labor racketeer John Johnny Dio Dioguardi, will be tried later.

Throughout his testimony, Carlino referred to "the boys uptown," whom he did not identify.

The government said Wednesday it would not try to prove Bando, Leo Telvi and Miranti plotted the attack, but only that they helped get Abe Telvi out of town on orders from "the bosses uptown."

The trio on trial, as well as the four others to be tried later, all were indicted on two counts: one of conspiracy to interfere with a federal grand jury by blinding a prospective witness, and another of conspiring to conceal the existence of the alleged conspirator Abe Telvi and cause his unlawful flight to avoid prosecution. The three are being tried on the latter count.

Railroads Ask Hike in Rates In 'Emergency'

COLUMBUS (AP)—Railroads hauling freight in Ohio today asked the Public Utilities Commission of Ohio to grant them a seven per cent emergency rate increase. The commission indicated it would hold a public hearing in mid-December on the request.

The railroads Oct. 23 requested a 15 per cent increase in rates, but said today they need an emergency increase.

The railroads pointed out that they signed a new contract with non-operating union employes who make up 70 per cent of all employes. The contract granted a 10 cent wage increase Nov. 1 plus increased welfare benefits that add another 2½ cents an hour. The increase also calls for wage increases next November and in November, 1958.

Pay increase demands of operating employes are still pending.

The railroads recently asked the Interstate Commerce Commission for both permanent and emergency rate increases for freight carried from one state to another.

News in Brief

'Volunteer' Danger Decried

BONN, Germany (AP) — Syrian Minister Idbrahim Istuani said today "the question of volunteers for Egypt is no longer of interest."

Istuani, who said he was speaking for all the Arab states, said:

"We wish now for the United Nations to take the matter in hand. Up to now no volunteers have arrived in Egypt. There is no Soviet volunteer on Arabian soil."

VIENNA (AP)—With nearly 30,000 new Hungarian refugees on their hands within the last 10 days, Austria's relief organizations are in trouble.

The Austrian government declared that unless more financial and material help was received immediately, the refugee aid program was endangered. Only about 1,000 refugees have left Austria for other countries.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet's top leaders turned out today to give a full-scale reception to Wladyslaw Gomulka, jailed as a Polish Titoist during Stalin's regime and now the spearhead of Poland's drive for equality with Moscow.

SAIGNON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A hurricane struck southwestern Viet Nam, drowning 56 aboard junks and killing 6 persons ashore.

ALGIERS (AP)—Nationalist rebels derailed a gasoline train north of Constantine Wednesday, sending 50,000 gallons up in flame.

CANNES, France (AP)—Ex-Queen Elizabeth of Greece, a great-granddaughter of Queen Victoria related to most of Europe's royalty, died today after a long illness. She was 72.

GENEVA (AP) — U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Wang Ping-nan of Communist China held their 61st meeting today and agreed to meet again Nov. 30. The two envoys have been negotiating for 16 months on the questions of the release of 10 American civilians still imprisoned in China.

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP) — The Colombian government said last night it will admit up to 10,000 Hungarian refugees.

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—British Prime Minister Eden told the Swiss government today a summit meeting of the Big Four powers and India "would not be profitable at this time." The Swiss government last week urged the five powers to meet to seek an end to the danger of a third world war.

President Eisenhower turned down the suggestion, saying the United States preferred to act within the United Nations at this time.

Egypt Apparently Has Not Yet Filed Appeal for Communist 'Volunteers'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Has Egyptian President Nasser asked Russia to send "volunteers" to the Suez Canal Zone or hasn't he?

News developments today indicate that the Egyptian chieftain has not yet formally asked—but he may.

An Arab diplomatic source in Moscow said Wednesday Nasser had instructed his ambassador there to ask for the dispatch of volunteers immediately.

But in Moscow today, an Egyptian Embassy spokesman said Egypt will ask that Soviet volunteers be dispatched to Egypt only if British, French and Israeli troops do not withdraw promptly.

He said he did not know of any time limit on the British-French and Israeli withdrawal.

Egypt, he added, wanted to abide by decisions of the United Nations.

The spokesman today apparently made his statement on direct instructions from Cairo.

He said there appeared to have been some slight misunderstanding by the Arab diplomatic source that had reported a request for volunteers had been made. He indicated that a formal request for volunteers had not yet been made to the Soviet Union.

In Washington, American officials expressed hope that unwillingness to place his fate in the hands of the Russians would cause Nasser to spurn volunteers and put his trust in the U. N.

American strategists believe Russia is making a dangerous gamble for very high stakes with its "volunteer" offer.

The danger is that large-scale Soviet military intervention in this vitally important area of the world, even through the device of volunteers, could lead to a conflict that would touch off World War III.

President Eisenhower told a news conference Wednesday that the United States would back the U. N. in any steps to oppose entry of Russian or Red Chinese "volunteers."

He did not say what precise steps might be contemplated. The U. N., he said, "is not by any manner of means limited to resolutions."

The prize which may be luring the Russians on is ultimate domination of the region. The men in the Kremlin may see the present confused and uncertain conditions in the region as an opportunity to try for a stranglehold on the flow of oil, the sea lanes and the air bases that make the Middle East one of the most strategically important pieces of geography anywhere.

Yet the risks are great and some officials are still of the opinion that the Soviets perhaps are bluffing. They argue that even a Soviet bluff, backed up possibly by token assignments of "volunteers," would serve three large purposes:

1. To present the Soviet Union as the protector and defender of the Arab world and thereby earn Arab good will which would create long-range political influence for Moscow in the area.

2. To frustrate the United Nations peace program, based on putting a U. N. police force into Egypt and getting the British and French out. The underlying aim would be to keep the Middle East in turmoil as long as possible and see what further opportunities might open up for building Russian strength and influence there, perhaps with less risk than at present.

3. To throw a war scare into the Western nations and thereby divert their attention from Russian brutality in Hungary.

Mrs. Frank Dill Named 4-H Council Head At Advisors Banquet

Mrs. Frank Dill was selected to serve as president of the 1957 4-H Council at the annual 4-H Advisors Banquet Wednesday evening at the Washington Country Club.

The event was conducted by the Fayette County 4-H Junior Leadership Club.

Mrs. Jean Ruff of Marysville, former home demonstration agent and International Farm Youth Exchange student to Norway, was the principal speaker.

She told of her experiences with the Norwegian families with whom she lived during her five months' visit, and pointed out that the IFYE program promotes international understanding among rural families.

Mrs. Jesse Crago, president of the 1956 4-H Council, stated that the objectives of the 4-H program are to develop desirable ideals and standards for farming, homemaking, personal living, family life, community life, citizenship and leadership.

* * *

OTHER OFFICERS elected were: Gene Gustin, vice president; Mrs. Walter Carman, secretary; and Mrs. Ancil Creamer, treasurer.

Mrs. Lloyd Moberly, chairman of the 4-H Council Awards Commtitee, reported that at this year's county fair, local merchants, businessmen and farmers, contributed $1,600 worth of trophies, gift certificates, cash and animals to make up the largest 4-H awards program in Fayette County history.

Mrs. Moberly presented certificates of honor to the following 4-H clubs in the county for having the most complete programs: Wilson Country Sisters, Magic Makers, Jeff's 16 Girls, Marion Marvels, Button 'n' Batter, Cherry Hill Jolly Jumpers, Bella Donnas, Scizzirs Whizzors, The Pixies, Thimble Sisters, Marion Circlettes, Twin Oaks Twigs, Wayne Snipper Snappers, Bloomingburg Star Fashionettes and Buzzin' Duzzin'.

The We Dood It Club received a certificate for being one of the top 10 clubs in the state in the Health Improvement Contest.

* * *

THE Junior Leadership Club also placed in the top 10 clubs in the state for their recreation club work and received a certificate.

Ray Brandenburg, president of the Fayette County Agricultural Society, spoke briefly.

Barbara Sue Kneisley and David Whiteside served as mistress and master of ceremonies respectively. The musical part of the program was presented by Joan Little, Sharon Warnock, Sara Sue Davidson, Janet Knedler, Brian and Lynn Frock, Barbara Sue Kneisley, Edna M. Hoppes, Jackie Hoppes, Mrs. Loren C. Johnson and Joyce Theobald.

Mary Ann Hackett delivered the invocation.

Mrs. Dorothy Gorby and Robert McCormick, members of the State 4-H Club staff, were among the guests.

Adventists To Begin Week of Prayer

Saturday will mark the opening of a special week of prayer for members of the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

The Adventist Church on Broadway here, will join in the observance with churches of the denomination all over the world, Mrs. Della Ford, spokesman for the local congregation, said.

Of the week of prayer, the Rev. Charles Shobe, pastor of the church here, said: "The present world crisis emphasizes the need for deeper personal piety."

On Thanksgiving evening, the members will be given an opportunity to express publicly their gratitude for the blessings they have received during the year.

As a more tangible evidence of their gratitude, members of the church are to make their annual "sacrifice offering" on Nov. 24 at the close of the week of prayer.

In some cases, the pastor said, this will consist of the contribution to the church of a week's salary and for others, their income for one day.

Friends of the church are welcome to attend the services.

Trailer Burns; Fires Sweep Fayette Fields

A trailer was destroyed and farm buildings were threatened Wednesday in two rural Fayette County fires.

Three fire departments were called to fight the blazes.

A grass fire swept over an estimated 100 acres on the farms of Ernest Chaney, Loren Hynes, Robert Haines and the Misses Lizzie and Cora Plymire in Jasper Township late in the afternoon.

The flames raged across fields of combined soybeans and dry fall weeds and grass, consuming trees and fences in its path before the Jeffersonville and Concord-Greene fire departments brought them under control.

The firefighters said several farm buildings were in danger for a time as the wind whipped the blaze rapidly ahead of it.

EARLIER in the afternoon, a house trailer owned by Dwight Lovett was destroyed by fire at West Lancaster.

Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson and Game Protector Dave Krupla, cruising the countryside in a pre-hunting season patrol, saw the smoke and lent a hand. They called the Jeffersonville and Bloomingburg fire departments and then butted the blaze with the fire extinguisher in the patrol car, but with little effect.

The Jeffersonville equipment, first to arrive, had the blaze well under control when the tanker arrived from Bloomingburg, nearly twice as far away.

The trailer was burned out inside.

Causes of the fires were undetermined, and the damage unestimated.

Hungarian Refugees Due in Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first of some 5,000 Hungarian refugees may arrive here next week.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said they will be housed temporarily at the Army's Camp Kilmer, N. J.

Last week, President Eisenhower ordered this country's doors opened for up to 5,000 Hungarians who have fled Soviet oppression.

Hagerty said officials who run the refugee relief law have been "snowed under" by offers from Americans to provide the Hungarians with homes and jobs.

3 Ohio Newsmen Slated for Honor

Ohio River Said Important As Seaway as a Waterway

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The president of the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn., told a forum on the St. Lawrence Seaway here Wednesday that the Ohio River is as important a waterway as the Seaway will someday become.

Harry M. Mack of Cincinnati indicated in his talk that some businessmen along the Ohio River view the coming of the Seaway with apprehension. Mack said he believes the Seaway will take away some of the Ohio River traffic.

Mack did not use a speech prepared for the forum, held during the 63rd annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce. He said those at the meeting had seen it already.

In the prepared speech he stressed gains that could be forthcoming from improvements on Ohio River navigations facilities and from expansion of Great Lakes shipping over the Seaway.

"If we have the necessary imagination and foresight," said Mack, "the entire community between the lakes and Ohio (River) will benefit immeasurably" from both the new Seaway and improved Ohio River facilities.

Ohio Valley steel mills, Mack continued, would be able to expand operations with cheaper freight costs over the two waterways.

William Papier, director of research for the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, warned that "the biggest bottleneck to Ohio's future industrial growth may easily be widespread shortages of professional, skilled and technical personnel."

Declaring that "part of Ohio's remarkable growth in recent years may be credited to the Seaway project," Papier said that to anticipate future needs "we should be thinking . . . of more effective ways to use our manpower."

Among other things, Papier said "we should check the extent to which other states have been pulling our engineers, scientists, teachers and others away from Ohio, and why."

Hundreds of millions of dollars, said Papier, which have been invested in the Seaway and related projects, "have found their way into the pockets of Ohio employers and their workers."

Col. Loren W. Olmstead, district engineer at Buffalo for the Army Corps of Engineers, said that to get maximum benefits from Seaway improvements, Ohio ports "need facilities to accommodate the largest type of ship that can pass through the St. Lawrence Seaway and the Welland Canal."

Olmstead indicated that channel depths are inadequate in many Ohio ports. He said "in certain cases there are quite serious restrictions such as sharp bends in the harbor channels or vertical clearances beneath bridges or overhead crossings too low to Seaway traffic."

T. Coleman Andrews, former U. S. commissioner of internal revenue, addressed the Chamber of Commerce banquet in the evening.

task of the police force in Egypt. This apparently remained to be worked out by U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, who flew into Rome today for conferences with Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, commander of the U. N. international police force.

Squarely confronting the U. N. operation were the conflicting stands of Egypt and Britain, France and Israel on the role of the police force.

Egypt demands that the British, French and Israel invasion forces withdraw immediately, that the U. N. force take up positions along the 1949 Egyptian-Israeli armistice lines, and that Egypt resume full control of canal.

Britain and France say their troops now holding the north third of the canal will give up that area only to the U. N. force. They also have indicated that they expect the U. N. to put the canal back into operation and to control it until a settlement with Egypt is reached.

Mrs. Frank Dill Named 4-H Council Head At Advisors Banquet

Mrs. Frank Dill was selected to serve as president of the 1957 4-H Council at the annual 4-H Advisors Banquet Wednesday evening at the Washington Country Club.

The event was conducted by the Fayette County 4-H Junior Leadership Club.

Mrs. Jean Ruff of Marysville, former home demonstration agent and International Farm Youth Exchange student to Norway, was the principal speaker.

She told of her experiences with the Norwegian families with whom she lived during her five months' visit, and pointed out that the IFYE program promotes international understanding among rural families.

Mrs. Jesse Crago, president of the 1956 4-H Council, stated that the objectives of the 4-H program are to develop desirable ideals and standards for farming, homemaking, personal living, family life, community life, citizenship and leadership.

* * *

OTHER OFFICERS elected were: Gene Gustin, vice president; Mrs. Walter Carman, secretary; and Mrs. Ancil Creamer, treasurer.

Mrs. Lloyd Moberly, chairman of the 4-H Council Awards Commtitee, reported that at this year's county fair, local merchants, businessmen and farmers, contributed $1,600 worth of trophies, gift certificates, cash and animals to make up the largest 4-H awards program in Fayette County history.

Mrs. Moberly presented certificates of honor to the following 4-H clubs in the county for having the most complete programs: Wilson Country Sisters, Magic Makers, Jeff's 16 Girls, Marion Marvels, Button 'n' Batter, Cherry Hill Jolly Jumpers, Bella Donnas, Scizzirs Whizzors, The Pixies, Thimble Sisters, Marion Circlettes, Twin Oaks Twigs, Wayne Snipper Snappers, Bloomingburg Star Fashionettes and Buzzin' Duzzin'.

The We Dood It Club received a certificate for being one of the top 10 clubs in the state in the Health Improvement Contest.

* * *

THE Junior Leadership Club also placed in the top 10 clubs in the state for their recreation club work and received a certificate.

Ray Brandenburg, president of the Fayette County Agricultural Society, spoke briefly.

Barbara Sue Kneisley and David Whiteside served as mistress and master of ceremonies respectively. The musical part of the program was presented by Joan Little, Sharon Warnock, Sara Sue Davidson, Janet Knedler, Brian and Lynn Frock, Barbara Sue Kneisley, Edna M. Hoppes, Jackie Hoppes, Mrs. Loren C. Johnson and Joyce Theobald.

Mary Ann Hackett delivered the invocation.

Mrs. Dorothy Gorby and Robert McCormick, members of the State 4-H Club staff, were among the guests.

Trailer Burns; Fires Sweep Fayette Fields

A trailer was destroyed and farm buildings were threatened Wednesday in two rural Fayette County fires.

Three fire departments were called to fight the blazes.

A grass fire swept over an estimated 100 acres on the farms of Ernest Chaney, Loren Hynes, Robert Haines and the Misses Lizzie and Cora Plymire in Jasper Township late in the afternoon.

The flames raged across fields of combined soybeans and dry fall weeds and grass, consuming trees and fences in its path before the Jeffersonville and Concord-Greene fire departments brought them under control.

The firefighters said several farm buildings were in danger for a time as the wind whipped the blaze rapidly ahead of it.

* * *

EARLIER in the afternoon, a house trailer owned by Dwight Lovett was destroyed by fire at West Lancaster.

Deputy Sheriff Don Thompson and Game Protector Dave Krupla, cruising the countryside in a prehunting season patrol, saw the smoke and lent a hand. They called the Jeffersonville and Bloomingburg fire departments and then butted the blaze with the fire extinguisher in the patrol car, but with little effect.

The Jeffersonville equipment, first to arrive, had the blaze well under control when the tanker arrived from Bloomingburg, nearly twice as far away.

The trailer was burned out inside.

Causes of the fires were undetermined, and the damage unestimated.

Ohio River Said Important As Seaway as a Waterway

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The president of the Ohio Valley Improvement Assn., told a forum on the St. Lawrence Seaway here Wednesday that the Ohio River is as important a waterway as the Seaway will someday become.

Harry M. Mack of Cincinnati indicated in his talk that some businessmen along the Ohio River view the coming of the Seaway with apprehension. Mack said he believes the Seaway will take away some of the Ohio River traffic.

Mack did not use a speech prepared for the forum, held during the 63rd annual meeting of the Ohio Chamber of Commerce. He said those at the meeting had seen it already.

In the prepared speech he stressed gains that could be forthcoming from improvements on Ohio River navigations facilities and from expansion of Great Lakes shipping over the Seaway.

"If we have the necessary imagination and foresight," said Mack, "the entire community between the lakes and Ohio (River) will benefit immeasurably" from both the new Seaway and improved Ohio River facilities.

Ohio Valley steel mills, Mack continued, would be able to expand operations with cheaper freight costs over the two waterways.

William Papier, director of research for the Ohio Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, warned that "the biggest bottleneck to Ohio's future industrial growth may easily be widespread shortages of professional, skilled and technical personnel."

Declaring that "part of Ohio's remarkable growth in recent years may be credited to the Seaway project," Papier said that to anticipate future needs "we should be thinking . . . of more effective ways to use our manpower."

Among other things, Papier said "we should check the extent to which other states have been pulling our engineers, scientists, teachers and others away from Ohio, and why."

Hundreds of millions of dollars, said Papier, which have been invested in the Seaway and related projects, "have found their way into the pockets of Ohio employers and their workers."

Col. Loren W. Olmstead, district engineer at Buffalo for the Army Corps of Engineers, said that to get maximum benefits from Seaway improvements, Ohio ports "need facilities to accommodate the largest type of ship that can pass through the St. Lawrence Seaway and the Welland Canal."

Olmstead indicated that channel depths are inadequate in many Ohio ports. He said "in certain cases there are quite serious restrictions such as sharp bends in the harbor channels or vertical clearances beneath bridges or overhead crossings too low to Seaway traffic."

T. Coleman Andrews, former U. S. commissioner of internal revenue, addressed the Chamber of Commerce banquet in the evening.

task of the police force in Egypt. This apparently remained to be worked out by U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, who flew into Rome today for conferences with Maj. Gen. E.L.M. Burns, commander of the U. N. international police force.

Squarely confronting the U. N. operation were the conflicting stands of Egypt and Britain, France and Israel on the role of the police force.

Egypt demands that the British, French and Israel invasion forces withdraw immediately, that the U. N. force take up positions along the 1949 Egyptian-Israeli armistice lines, and that Egypt resume full control of canal.

Britain and France say their troops now holding the north third of the canal will give up that area only to the U. N. force. They also have indicated that they expect the U. N. to put the canal back into operation and to control it until a settlement with Egypt is reached.

Adventists To Begin Week of Prayer

Saturday will mark the opening of a special week of prayer for members of the Seventh Day Adventist Church.

The Adventist Church on Broadway here, will join in the observance with churches of the denomination all over the world, Mrs. Della Ford, spokesman for the local congregation, said.

Of the week of prayer, the Rev. Charles Shobe, pastor of the church here, said: "The present world crisis emphasizes the need for deeper personal piety."

On Thanksgiving evening, the members will be given an opportunity to express publicly their gratitude for the blessings they have received during the year.

As a more tangible evidence of their gratitude, members of the church are to make their annual "sacrifice offering" on Nov. 24 at the close of the week of prayer.

In some cases, the pastor said, this will consist of the contribution to the church of a week's salary and for others, their income for one day.

Friends of the church are welcome to attend the services.

News Briefs

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) —One Briton was shot to death and another wounded in Nicosia today as anti-British rebels intensified their campaign for union of Cyprus with Greece. The two British victims, both engineers in civilian clothes, were shot down on a street.

VIENNA (AP) — Prague radio announced today that a 10-member Czech government delegation had flown to Budapest on a "friendship" mission. The announcement led to speculation that the Kremlin may have summoned satellite leaders to discuss ways and means of preventing outbreak of Hungary style revolutions in other Communist countries.

The famed Comstock Lode in Nevada may soon again be paying a dividend. New methods of mining are making the long neglected low-grade ore deposits pay their way.

Hungarian Refugees Due in Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—The first of some 5,000 Hungarian refugees may arrive here next week.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said they will be housed temporarily at the Army's Camp Kilmer, N. J.

Last week, President Eisenhower ordered this country's doors opened for up to 5,000 Hungarians who have fled Soviet oppression.

Hagerty said officials who run the refugee relief law have been "snowed under" by offers from Americans to provide the Hungarians with homes and jobs.

3 Ohio Newsmen Slated for Honor

COLUMBUS (AP) — Three Ohio newspapermen who died prior to 1948 will be honored at the 18th Ohio Journalism Hall of Fame dinner at Ohio State University Saturday, Dec. 1.

The three men recently were elected to the Hall of Fame. They were Louis H. Brush of Salem, co-founder of Brush-Moore Newspapers; W. O. Littick, president of Zanesville Newspapers, and Hugh (Ching) Fullerton Sr., originally from Hillsboro, noted sports writer.

It's the Law!

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The law is the law, even in the case of a 200-pound hog which was docketed at Little Rock police headquarters.

Although the charge against the black Hampshire was pretty vague, it was placed under a city ordinance that says stray animals must be booked and sold at auction if not claimed within five days.

Another and Better Way In Foreign Aid

For a long time, perhaps several years at least, most all of us have been hearing complaints about this nation's give-away programs for foreign countries.

New businessmen of the United States are showing our federal government just how America really can help the less fortunate and less favored nations in various parts of the world.

From all that we have learned it can be taken for granted, by this time, that even our legislators and bureaucrats, who long have seemed fond of finding ways to spend other people's money, are beginning to learn that giving the hard-earned money of the American taxpayer to so-called underprivileged nations has won us very few friends, that, as a matter of fact, the reverse has been true in too many cases.

Through several national administrations our country has, in a sense, seemed to have a bull by the tail and has been afraid to let go.

Just let the donor discontinue dishing out and in the eyes of the former recipient, the former donor becomes the biggest "heel" in recorded history.

However while federal government has been messing up our relations with foreign nations by its mistaken policy of handouts, American businessmen have been making friends for us.

In 1946, the year following World War II, $7.2 billion of U. S. investors' money was invested over the globe—just nine years later, at the end of 1955, this had grown to the almost unbelievable sum of $19.2 billion.

These investments abroad by American businessmen are not induced by hearts bleeding for the poor peoples of the world—they are made in the hope of making a profit. So far that hope is being realized—last year they earned a record $2.8 billion, almost 15 per cent on their direct foreign investments. This compares with 12.6 per cent on their investments in this country.

Now, of course, there has been some slight grumbling in some of these countries where American industries have built plants, the usual charge of Yankee imperialism, but for the most part the American dollar has been welcomed with open arms and profits thereon have not been begrudged. As a matter of fact, a number of foreign countries have even set up organizations whose one purpose is to persuade American business to build additional plants in their countries.

The benefits of American dollars to these countries go far beyond the immediate employment of their citizens. A considerable portion of raw materials and supplies is purchased within these countries, thus helping to further increase employment and payrolls.

Then, also, in addition to creating employment, American investments provide vital foreign exchange to these dollar-hungry nations. Investment of American dollars for profit in foreign countries is of enduring help to those nations and makes friends of them. Giveaway of American tax - money to foreign countries, it has been demonstrated, gives only temporary relief and does not make friends of them.

The 85th Congress, when it assembles in January of next year, can render no greater service to America and the world than to look facts in the face—then, as gracefully as possible, cut down on federal government economic aid to foreign nations and set up a policy of encouraging further expansion of private investment capital overseas.

Is Retirement a Curse?

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Twenty years ago a middle-aged man had the hope that if he could just keep his ulcer quiet until he was 65 he could retire and live happily ever after.

Today the idea seems to be spreading around that it is work that keeps a fellow young, and retirement that causes him ulcers.

Ever since man first climbed down out of the trees he has dreamed of a day when he could gnaw a twilight bone in peace without having to do battle with a saber-toothed tiger.

He finally has the answer—the old age pension. But many today seem to view retirement as a life-shortening curse instead of a blessing. All they mention about a pension is the tension it supposedly brings, the unhappy lost feeling of uselessness when there is no longer any duty to walk the treadmill of the daily job.

It has taken two centuries of argument, strikes, occasional headthumpings and the growth of social responsibility to win pensions in our machine age. Yet now some corporations are denounced as "heartless" because they retire employes at 65.

You get a mental picture of thousands upon thousands of faithful old employes dying of heartbreak because they no longer have the joyous privilege of keeping their noses to the grindstone until they keel over dead.

Somehow this picture doesn't square with the facts of the situation as I run across them.

The theory of retirement is like the practice of sex. It may be subject to certain justified criticisms, but nothing will ever make it downright unpopular with the masses.

Quitting at 65 a job held for many years is a sad blow to many men, and it is a major readjustment in living for any man. But the biggest holler made by most codgers on "R" (for retirement) Day isn't made because they yearn to go on endlessly laboring. Their real squawk, often justified, is, "My pension check isn't big enough for me to live the way I want to."

Most men in any period of history have been willing, if they could do so without starving, to quit paddling their own canoe at 65 and float quietly along for the rest of their journey, enjoying the view.

Most men still are. A man who doesn't have enough imagination or memories to live gracefully in retirement probably isn't much of a fireball at his job either, and you can't blame an employer for wanting to turn him out to pasture and replacing him with a younger man.

Only a dull or basically selfish man is bored to actual death by retirement. If he's still an eager beaver at 65 being pensioned at 65 won't kill him. There are a thousand ways in which he can still make himself useful to the community and to himself. No man with an outgiving heart or hand has any reason to feel useless in this world, unless his real desire is to indulge in self-pity.

Most of the men I know who retired—including a couple who practically cried with regret at the time—have found a new way of life and a greater freedom from worry.

More about Money Matters

By George Sokolsky

Sooner or later, the American people of this generation will rediscover that money is an honorable device to be employed for many purposes, some virtuous and some evil, but that it loses value when its integrity is not respected.

The greatest enemy of money, throughout history, has been government which has often debased its value by over-issuance, which has clipped it to lessen its metallic contents and which has reduced its purchasing power by dishonest management.

Elliot V. Bell, who edits "Business Week" and used to be superintendent of banks in New York State, had much to say on this subject when he spoke to the American Bankers Assn. convention, but whether it did the bankers any good to hear him is another matter as they are excessively regulated and over-controlled almost like the railroads which are in a bureaucratic strait jacket.

Bell said:

"There seems to be a very widespread assumption that, having turned over to government the responsibility for maintaining the economic health of the country, government, in turn, can simply pass the buck to the Federal Reserve System, and the Fed, in turn, can achieve the goal simply by manipulation the reserves of the banking system and inconveniencing nobody except perhaps a few government bond dealers. I have a feeling that so great an enterprise cannot be accomplished quite so simply."

It is questionable whether it can be done that way at all, and the proof that it cannot is that the American dollar is now worth about one - half in purchasing power and that the cost of living is inordinately high during a period of such plenty that over-production has become an established fact, dangerous to the public welfare and involving our country in an oblique foreign policy based on the assumption that the only way to maintain full employment at excessive wages is to dump between five and six billion dollars of American goods upon the rest of the world for no compensation.

Bell correctly analyzes the cause of the depression and its cure:

"Back in 1929, the discount rate got up to 6 per cent and call money went to 20 per cent, but security loans kept right on going up until finally the whole business collapsed and we headed for the great depression. Then the Fed struggled for years to bring about a recovery by easy money.

The discount rate went to one per cent and treasury bills went to a negative yield. But it was not easy money that finally cured the unemployment of the 30s.

"It was the vast deficit spending of war."

The new deal had no answer to unemployment and was saved from disaster by war. And we have been living through a war economy from 1939 to the present day and have used money not so much as an instrument of exchange, but as a political device of power, just as we had used taxes not so much for revenue but as a means for the redistribution of wealth.

What is it that we learned from the depression? Of course, the politicians learned that if it is possible to say that a third of a nation is in poverty, a president can be elected four times; politicians also learned that in times of great troubles, it is possible to fragment a people until they vote in racial, religious and national blocs instead of as individual citizens exercising the right of choice; politicians also learned that if any special privileges are to be made available, they are to go to those segments of the population which are most numerous and where there are the most votes.

Elliot Bell learned this, which we need to think about today because it applies today:

"The events of the great depression destroyed the illusion that mere tightening or loosening of the total volume of credit was a surefire cure - all for economic ups and downs. The simple monetary explanation of the business cycle withered away to be replaced by more complex ideas of the inter - relation of federal spending, taxes, savings and investments, income, employment and money too. And so the new hope of preventing depressions came to rest not just on central banking techniques but on 'compensatory fiscal and monetary policy.'"

When government bonds are down in any economy, the nation is in real, economic trouble.

Cross-Burning Verdict: Innocent

COLUMBUS (AP) — A Columbus couple was acquitted Wednesday night by an all-white municipal court jury of participating in a cross-burning on the lawn of a Negro neighbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Jones were found innocent of violating a state law prohibiting rioting. The jury deliberated three hours. The charge grew out of a cross burned on the lawn of Mr. and Mrs. George Lawson last Aug. 14.

Office Problems May Cause Employe Ills

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

Are you generally tired and irritable after putting in a day's work at the office or factory? If you are, you probably blame it on "overwork" like most people.

In most instances, however, this isn't the real reason.

While some of you undoubtedly do work too hard, the majority of cases of both mental and physical ailments stemming from the working day usually are not related directly to the work itself.

Stem From Conflicts

Rather, they result from conflicts with other employees— usually those doing similar work—disagreements with superiors, especially a new boss, and various unhappy relationships with other personnel.

In short, it's generally other employees, or employers, who are the source of an individual's worktime anxiety, not the work itself.

Deep Concern

For example, you might develop a good case of worrying should an employee doing the same sort of work as you suddenly die of a heart attack. Even if you aren't working in the same office, even if you don't know the victim, you arelikely to develop deep concern simply because he was performing the same general type of duties.

This is especially true if he was about your age.

Fear of being inadequate at a new task also will contribute to your anxiety.

If overwork really is the source of the trouble, you'll probably feel much better after a vacation or even after a good night's rest.

But if you're just as irritable and just as fatigued at the beginning of the day as at the conclusion; if you come back from a vacation and begin griping right away, I doubt it's the work that is bothering you.

See Doctor

If you fit into this category better see your doctor. He might advise a psychiatric consultation. If nothing else solves the problem, perhaps it might be advisable to change jobs.

But be sure to check with your doctor before making any such drastic moves.

Airman, 17, Killed By Jet's Intake

COLUMBUS (AP) — A 17-year-old airman, believed to be the youngest jet fighter crew chief in the Air Force, was killed Wednesday when sucked into the intake of an F86-D Saberjet at Lockbourne Air Force Base.

A base spokesman said A-3C Raymond Michler of Meadville, Pa., was killed when drawn into the intake while the plane was warming up.

The Nation Today

James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP)—The kind of world leadership President Eisenhower asserts now may mean the difference between a new war and none and between the retention of Western influence in the Middle East or the loss of it to Russia.

Two main choices confronted him:

1. He could have taken a strong, individual position for the United States — even outside the United Nations — and even to the extent of warning the Russians of direct American intervention if they send their "volunteers" into Egypt.

2. Or he could — as he did — throw the weight of the United States behind the U.N. without any explicit warnings beyond saying this country would back up the world organization to keep peace in the Middle East by opposing "volunteers" in Egypt.

Only time will show whether this choice was the wiser one or whether, since Eisenhower left obscure how this country would back up the U.N., the Russians may interpret it as weakness and send in their "volunteers."

But if he had chosen No. 1 the Russians might have felt it necessary to chance war by defying him. To appear to back down under his direct warning would mean not only humiliation for them but loss of their influence in the Middle East.

By choosing to work through the U.N. and avoiding provocative statements Eisenhower achieves at least these three things:

He maintains this country's moral position; he strengthens the U.N., which was badly weakened by the Russian assault on Hungary and the British-French-Israeli invasion of Egypt; and he assures this country of allies if it gets into the fighting as a result of a U.N. demand for military action by its members in the Middle East.

Maybe Eisenhower's choice is the best way to go about it. Only the Russians know the answer to that. But neither the U. N. nor the Russians nor Americans know at this moment how far Eisenhower would go to back up the U. N.

The President has a habit of being vague at his news conferences. But his meeting Wednesday with reporters — almost at the moment reports from Moscow said the Egyptians were requesting Russian "volunteers" — may have set a new record for obscurity.

He was asked what this country would do if the Russians sent "volunteers" into Egypt. His answer: "I believe . . . it would be the duty of the United Nations, which would include the United States, to oppose such an effort. . . ."

But oppose how: by making speeches, merely approving pious resolutions, or by force if necessary? He was asked what form "our opposition" would take. He said: "I don't know exactly what we would do. It would depend upon the circumstances."

And he added that the U. N. "is not by any manner of means limited to resolutions."

If this vagueness discourages the Russians from trying a military adventure in Egypt, or confuses them, or sounds like a go-ahead to them, at least Eisenhower indicated before his news conference started he might be vague.

He told the reporters in his preliminary statement he did not want to say anything which might upset the delicate efforts now being made by the U. N. to move into the Suez Canal area and assure and end to the fighting.

Another and Better Way In Foreign Aid

For a long time, perhaps several years at least, most all of us have been hearing complaints about this nation's give-away programs for foreign countries.

New businessmen of the United States are showing our federal government just how America really can help the less fortunate and less favored nations in various parts of the world.

From all that we have learned it can be taken for granted, by this time, that even our legislators and bureaucrats, who long have seemed fond of finding ways to spend other people's money, are beginning to learn that giving the hard-earned money of the American taxpayer to so-called underprivileged nations has won us very few friends, that, as a matter of fact, the reverse has been true in too many cases.

Through several national administrations our country has, in a sense, seemed to have a bull by the tail and has been afraid to let go.

Just let the donor discontinue dishing out and in the eyes of the former recipient, the former donor becomes the biggest "heel" in recorded history.

However while federal government has been messing up our relations with foreign nations by its mistaken policy of handouts, American businessmen have been making friends for us.

In 1946, the year following World War II, $7.2 billion of U. S. investors' money was invested over the globe—just nine years later, at the end of 1955, this had grown to the almost unbelievable sum of $19.2 billion.

These investments abroad by American businessmen are not induced by hearts bleeding for the poor peoples of the world—they are made in the hope of making a profit. So far that hope is being realized—last year they earned a record $2.8 billion, almost 15 per cent on their direct foreign investments. This compares with 12.6 per cent on their investments in this country.

Now, of course, there has been some slight grumbling in some of these countries where American industries have built plants, the usual charge of Yankee imperialism, but for the most part the American dollar has been welcomed with open arms and profits thereon have not been begrudged. As a matter of fact, a number of foreign countries have even set up organizations whose one purpose is to persuade American business to build additional plants in their countries.

The benefits of American dollars to these countries go far beyond the immediate employment of their citizens. A considerable portion of raw materials and supplies is purchased within these countries, thus helping to further increase employment and payrolls.

Then, also, in addition to creating employment, American investments provide vital foreign exchange to these dollar-hungry nations. Investment of American dollars for profit in foreign countries is of enduring help to those nations and makes friends of them. Giveaway of American tax - money to foreign countries, it has been demonstrated, gives only temporary relief and does not make friends of them.

The 85th Congress, when it assembles in January of next year, can render no greater service to America and the world than to look facts in the face—then, as gracefully as possible, cut down on federal government economic aid to foreign nations and set up a policy of encouraging further expansion of private investment capital overseas.

He was asked what this country would do if the Russians sent "volunteers" into Egypt. His answer: "I believe . . . it would be the duty of the United Nations, which would include the United States, to oppose such an effort. . . ."

But oppose how: by making speeches, merely approving pious resolutions, or by force if necessary? He was asked what form "our opposition" would take. He said: "I don't know exactly what we would do. It would depend upon the circumstances."

And he added that the U. N. "is not by any manner of means limited to resolutions."

If this vagueness discourages the Russians from trying a military adventure in Egypt, or confuses them, or sounds like a go-ahead to them, at least Eisenhower indicated before his news conference started he might be vague.

He told the reporters in his preliminary statement he did not want to say anything which might upset the delicate efforts now being made by the U. N. to move into the Suez Canal area and assure and end to the fighting.

Grand Officer Is Guest of BPO Does

The regular meeting of the B.P.O. Does Drove No. 80 held in the Elks Lodge room, was highlighted with a visit from the Supreme President of the Grand Lodge, Mrs. Isal Burr, of Des Moines, Iowa.

The president, Mrs. Darrell Williams, conducted the opening ritual and thirty-two members responded to roll call.

Mrs. Williams presented Mrs. Burr who was the inspecting officer, for two ritualistic services which were exemplified during the evening.

MRS. ISAL BURR

The secretary's report was given by Mrs. Thomas Sever and treasurer's report by Mrs. John O'Conner pro-tem.

Standing committee reports were also heard, and Mrs. Charles Fults, social chairman, repoted that the next meeting would be highlighted with a "President's Party".

A gift of appreciation from the Drove was presented to Mrs. Thomas Sever, who has resigned as secretary, since her residence in Xenia.

Mrs. Burr spoke to the members, stressing the importance of the several offices, the co-operation of every member, and the addition of new members.

She announced that the Grand Lodge Convention would be held in Idaho Falls; Idaho, the coming year, and at the conclusion she complimented the president and her corps of officers on their excellent work in the exemplification of the ritual.

The meeting was adjourned and a delicious buffet supper was served from a table centered with an arrangement of purple and yellow mums flanked with candles in the same shades carrying out the colors of the drove.

Mr. Samuel Douds, Exalted Ruler of the B.P.O. Elks, was included as a supper guest and was presented to Mrs. Burr.

In charge of the social hour and supper were members of the social committee: Mrs. Donald Bowers, Mrs. Charles Funk, Mrs. Mark Bennett, Mrs. William Lucas Sr., Mrs. Heber Roe, Mrs. Samuel Douds, Mrs. Loren L. Bennett, Mrs. Harold Maddux, Mrs. Thomas Sever, Mrs. Charles Fults and Mrs. Bryan Steele.

Sorority Chapter Holds Meeting

The regular business meeting of Beta Iota Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority was held at the home of Miss Ann Washburn.

The opening ritual was conducted by the president, Mrs. Marlyn Reno, and Mrs. Reno and Miss Madeline Denen read correspondence from International Headquarters.

It was decided to dispense with the selling of Christmas cards and plans for a rummage and a bake sale to be held in the near future were discussed, with Miss Jean Ann Boylan appointed to be in charge of the time and places.

Plans were also discussed for the annual Christmas Party to be held Dec. 11 at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Arnold, which will include a covered dish dinner and gift exchange.

The meeting was closed with the closing ritual and a social hour followed during which the hostess was assisted by her sister, Miss Bonnie Washburn in the serving of light refreshments.

Church Society Holds Meeting At Noble Home

Mrs. W. P. Noble was hostess to members of the comrades of the Second Mile.

Mrs. Loren Noble, president, called the short business meeting to order and Mrs. Herbert Ricketts led in the devotions including Scripture reading from the 96th Psalm, and closed with prayer.

The committee for Thanksgiving Cheer baskets, composed of Mrs. Don Thornton for this society and Mrs. Jerry Nessell for the W.S.C.S. announced a called meeting at the home of Mrs. Loren Noble Tuesday afternoon to pack these baskets.

The program leader, Mrs. Herbert Ricketts, introduced Mr. Donald Hawk, a missionary to Honduras, home on furlough, who showed slides taken in this country depicting the mode of living, telling of weather conditions and progress of missionaries. Concluding his talk Mr. Hawk answered many questions.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Noble was assisted by Mrs. Donald Mossbarger and Mrs. Howard Foster in the serving of refreshments.

Mrs. Robert Huff was included as a guest.

Club Meeting Is Highlighted With Luncheon

Mrs. Arthur Schlichter entertained members of the Sugar Grove Home Demonstration Club for the monthly meeting which featured a delicious covered dish luncheon.

Following the luncheon a brief business session was held during which members responded to roll call by giving their names backwards.

A called meeting at the home of Mrs. Carrie Wilson was planned for Nov. 26 at 7:30 p. m. when the members will bring finished trays and plans will also be completed for the Christmas at Home Party, Nov. 30.

The project worked on was the making of aluminum and colored trays.

Sewers, Alleys On Council Slate

No Action Taken At Brief Session

City Council, in a half-hour session Wednesday night, heard a brief report from City Manager James F. Parkinson on a recently launched program of interceptor sewer repairs and informally discussed possibilities of setting up one - way traffic in some downtown alleys running north and south from Court St.

There was no legislation of any kind.

The alley discussion followed an afternoon meeting of Council's Safety Committee, headed by C. L. Musser. The committee chairman offered several suggestions but no formal recommendations, and the city legislators deferred any action until further investigation can be made.

Councilman Robert Sanderson acted as president pro-tem in the absence of Council President Ronald Crnwell.

City Court Collects $5,854 in October

Municipal Court collections for the month of October totaled $5,854.25, according to a report filed with Council by Mrs. Ruth Glass, court clerk.

During the month the court, over which Municipal Judge Max G. Dice presides, made collections from the following sources: fines in city cases, $2,626; costs in city cases, $711.60; fines in Highway Patrol cases, $946.26; fines in state cases, $933.44; costs in state cases, $343.61; state liquor case fines, $20; state conservation case fines, $25; sheriff's costs, $66.44; traffic tickets, $182.

Monies collected were distributed as follows: City of Washington C. H., $2,734.91; Fayette County treasurer, $1,026.77; state treasurer, $466.41; Fayette County Law Library, $1,500; Fayette County sheriff, $66.44; witness fees, $59.72.

The United States is largely fed by products from about 3.8 million farms which are home to some 15 million people, says the Population Reference Bureau.

Auxiliary Plans Many Projects At Meeting

The regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary was held in Legion Hall, Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Philip Ford, president, conducted the opening ritual and Mrs. Charles Foster gave the secretary's report as did the treasurer, Mrs. Russell Whited.

Mrs. Hugh Gidding, re-habilitation chairman, reported on a recent trip to the Veteran's Hospital at Chillicothe also requested articles contributed by members for Christmas gifts at the hospital be taken to her before November 21.

It was reported that the Wesley Mite Society had made a contribution for gifts for Veteran's Hospital at Chillicothe and it was also announced that the auxiliary would serve the Booster's Club banquet on Nov. 19, also the Legion Installation dinner Nov. 26, and telephone employees dinner on Dec. 7.

The American Legion Commander Mr. Russell Whited was presented in brief talk during which various projects were planned in conjunction with the auxiliary.

The Christmas party and gift exchange was planned for December 12 with the officers as hostesses.

The meeting was adjourned in ritualistic form.

Mrs. Ensign Is Hostess To DAR Members

Mrs. Marie Ensign extended the hospitality of her home in Jeffersonville, for the regular meeting of the William Horney Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution for the November meeting.

Miss Louise Fults, regent, opened the meeting according to the ritual and Mrs. John Robbins, chaplain, conducted the devotions.

Mrs. Vere Foster, chairman of the Correct Use of the Flag, led in the Pledge of Allegiance also in the singing of America.

Twenty two members responded to roll call, two new members, Mrs. Cecil Long and Mrs. Harold Cline, were presented by the regent, who welcomed them in behalf of the Daughters, charging them with their obligations and presented them with small silk American Flags and year books.

The secretary, Mrs. Harold Zimmerman, gave her report, and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. A. E. Kemp, both of which were accepted as read.

The President General's message was read by Mrs. John C. Cannon, which reminded the members of the first Thanksgiving and the gratitude of the early settlers, which in three and one-half centuries we have seen settlement and birth of a nation with that nation growing into a young giant. The saga of America is great, because "America Is Great," and with God's help we will keep her great. Mrs. J. A. Wissler gave the State Regent's message, also stressing Thanksgiving as we in America have much to be thankful for and for each Daughter to put into practice the program theme for the year," cherish and maintain American Freedom."

Mrs. Frank R. Marshall, chairman of the ways and means committee, announced that the Christmas candy had arrived and urged the co-operation of each member in the sale.

The chapter planned to send a box of candy to each of three boys, of the Jeffersonville Community now stationed overseas with the armed forces, who are Clark Coe, Lewis Carr, in Germany, and Roger Stockwell in Korea.

Mrs. Ralph N. Agle, chairman of National Defense, gave her report using an article entitled "What Price Freedom?" from the National D.A.R. magazine.

Mrs. Marie Ensign, chairman of Advancement of American music was in charge of the program and presented Mrs. S. C. Creamer, who gave a most interesting paper on "American Composers," and spoke of the many well known songs with Mrs. Ensign singing three familiar numbers, "Beautiful Dreamer," "At Dawning," and "We're All Americans," accompanied by Mrs. Creamer.

Miss Gayle G. Morrow played a flute solo "Bless This House," accompanied by Miss Carolyn K. Ritenour, and Miss Ritenour closed the program with a beautiful piano solo, "Valse."

During the social hour Daughters and their guests were served delicious refreshments carrying out Thanksgiving suggestions with miniature turkeys as favors.

Assisting Mrs. Ensign as hostesses were: Mrs. Marie Thompson, Mrs. Ralph Dill, Mrs. John Robbins, Mrs. A. E. Kemp, Mrs. J. A. Wissler, Mrs. C. L. Culberson, and Mrs. O. J. Glaze

Class Plans Christmas Party At Meeting

Mr. Homer Chaney, president, conducted the meeting of the Philathea Class of First Baptist Church, held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Doyle, with Mrs. Dwight Coffman class teacher and Mr. Coffman included as guests. Mrs. Eldon Carlin led in the devotions reading Scripture from the 100th Psalm, and the poem "The Art of Finding Good".

The business session included the usual reports and the naming of a committee Mrs. Homer Chaney, Mrs. Robert Lambert and Mrs. Curt Leguire to be in charge of distributing Thanksgiving baskets to worthy families.

A committee composed of Mrs. Dwight Coffman, chairman, Mrs. Eldon Carlin and Mrs. Howard Burnett was appointed to choose officers for the coming year.

The next meeting will be highlighted with the annual Christmas party of the class on Dec. 17 at the home of the teacher, Mrs. Dwight Coffman and Mr. Coffman.

At the close of the meeting group singing was led by Miss Clara Belle Robinson and was followed with prayer by Mrs. Coffman.

Mrs. Doyle was assisted by Miss Robinson in the serving of tempting refreshments during the social hour.

Watch Those Wages

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—You can ask the government for an audit of the wages collected for social security. A University of Michigan economist advises people to do so.

Progress Club Holds Meeting

The Progress Club met with Miss Corrinne Barker of Jeffersonville, with eighteen members present and Mrs. Mary Lee Keller as a welcome guest.

Miss Louise Fults, vice president, presided and the members responded to roll call by naming an American who by his life and work, had contributed to the culture of our nation.

Mrs. Grace Lanum gave the first paper of the evening. She traced the establishment and growth of the great seaports of America, pointing out the hazards to the shipping industry that had to be met in the development, and the constant vigilance necessary to maintain these areas of entrance to our cities.

Mrs. Lanum pointed out that engineers, have had to take into consideration in each case, the prevailing winds, heights of waves during storms, the tides, the silt currents and have built series of break waters to counteract some of the currents and waves.

In New York harbor a dredge operates around the clock seven days a week to keep channel open to 45 feet depths and widths of 2,000 feet, and vessels of the Queen Mary Line draw 39 feet.

Labor trouble, racketeering and crime constantly harass this port of entry, yet the major portion of the world's overseas' commerce makes this the greatest maritime center on the face of the earth.

The bay at San Francisco is quite shallow and 450 miles of rivers carry down from the hills through the valleys the swift silt currents and deposit them at the gate where the current meets the tides and it has taken man's ingenuity and constant watch to develop 100 miles of ports within this bay area.

Mrs. Lanum concluded with the information that since 1914, when the Panama Canal was opened, the San Francisco Bay area, has become the Pacific Coast's largest distribution center and the West's financial capital.

Miss Maud Routson in the second paper of the evening had as her subject "We Who Built America." She followed the immigrants who came to our shores and settled in the various regions— the Dutch, French, Germans, Swedes, Danes, Irish, Scotch and Finns, and each contributed their best of old world culture, folk songs, customs, traditions, crafts and the appreciation of old works of art and music. Because of the diversity of religions, religious tolerance in this new country was an absolute necessity.

She also paid tribute not only to the outstanding immigrants who have won fame by their contributions to the world of business industry, music, art and science, but also to the countless 1,000's of skilled workmen, their dependable and thorough craftmanship who in turn trained American apprentices, the plain, homely virtues of perseverance, industry, patience and thrift combined a rich measure of the idealism of the true pioneer.

While since about 1910 our doors have been closed to the free flow of imigration, our American culture of today is the result of the absorption of the best from all other lands.

A pleasant social and discussion hour followed and the hostess served tempting and seasonal refreshments.

One good cook likes to spread sponge - cake shells with a mixture of honey and butter or margarine; then the shell are toasted in a hot oven. The shells are filled with sliced fruit, given a dollop of whipped cream and served at once.

Cecilians Enjoy Well Rendered Musical Program

The November meeting of Cecilians was held at the home of Mrs. John Trace with a good crowd in attendance.

Mrs. Paul S. Craig, president, conducted the business meeting. Mrs. P. Ben Hummel reported on the District Federated meeting and Mrs. Donald Schwaigert told of plans for the Messiah to be given Dec. 2 at Grace Methodist Church which is being sponsored by Cecilians.

Mrs. J. Rankin Paul led a discussion on the hymn "O Worship the King," which the group later sang with Mrs. Herbert Hoppess at the piano.

The theme for the month was "Music to Express Thanksgiving," and was cleverly presented with Mrs. Edmond Woodmansee, chairman and Mrs. John E. Rhoads assisting.

The program was as follows:

"The Origin of Thanksgiving" was given by Mrs. John E. Rhoads and a sextet composed of Mrs. Laverne Morgan, Mrs. Coyt Stookey, Mrs. Woodmansee, Miss Jane Trent, Mrs. Mary Gillespie and Mrs. G. B. Vance sang "Over The River," and "Prayer of Thanksgiving," with the solo part by Mrs. Woodmansee.

Mrs. Laverne Morgan sang as a vocal solo, "Thanks Be To God," with Mrs. Hoppess as accompanist who also presented a piano solo "1620 A. D."

"Bless This House," was the title of a vocal solo by Mrs. Coyt Stookey and the sextet sang "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," to close a most beautifully and ably presented program.

During the social hour a dainty dessert course was served by the social committee, Mrs. Donald Schwaigert, chairman, Mrs. Malcolm Parrett, Mrs. Weldon Kaufman and Mrs. Fred Enslen.

Have you tried butternut squash? It's delicious mashed with butter or margarine, salt and pepper. Serve it with a pretty sprinkling of minced parsley.

Mrs. Cunningham Is Guest at Club Meeting

Members of the Friendly Dozen Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Elza Arnold with eleven members present and three guests included.

The president, Mrs. Robert Edgington, presided over the brief business session, during which the usual reports were given and approved.

The president announced that the club will assist with the tea table at the Christmas at Home Party, Nov. 30 at the Dayton Power and Light Company, and will contribute candy, cookies and craft gifts on display.

Plans were completed for the Christmas Party and gift exchange on Dec. 19 in the private dining room at the Anderson Drive In.

Mrs. Norma Cunningham, county agent, a guest at the meeting, gave interesting ideas on the current project "Spice Up Your Costume," using jewelry, scarfs and other accessories for suits, prints and basic dresses.

During the social hour, Mrs. Arnold served light refreshments.

Guests included were Mrs. Frank Coulter, Mrs. Clarence Chrisman, Jr., and Mrs. Cunningham.

Women Should Become Acquainted With New Social Security Rules

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is the fourth of a series prepared by Leonard S. Garrard, field representative for the Social Security Administration in Fayette County, Garrard's home office is in Columbus.

By LEONARD S. GARRARD

Today, I'm addressing my discussion of the new social security law to women—to wives of retired insured workers, to widows of deceased insured workers, to women workers who are in employment or self-employment that counts toward old - age and survivors insurance benefits, and to those dependent mothers who might become eligible for survivors payments if an insured son or daughter should die.

Heretofore there has been a uniform age at which benefit payments could start for all beneficiaries other than children and wives or widows with children in their care. That age was 65; it remains 65 for male beneficiaries. The 1956 amendments to the law, however, lower the age at which women can receive benefits. Beginning with November of this year (1956) women can start getting payments at age 62.

Widows and (in case there is no surviving child or spouse entitled to benefit payments) dependent mothers, may begin getting survivors benefit payments when they reach age 62.

They will get the same monthly benefit that they would have started to get at age 65 under the old law.

* * *

WIVES of retired insured workers and retired insured working women can, if they choose, start getting benefit payments at age 62. However, the monthly benefit amount payable to them will be somewhat less than the amounts of the benefits they would have received had they waited until age 65.

In case a wife or an insured working woman elects to start getting benefits before age 65, she will continue to receive a reduced amount after she reaches that age. The longer a woman waits after reaching age 62 and before age 65 to start getting payments, the less the reduction in the amount of the monthly benefi.

As I have said above, however, once she sarts getting monthly payments at a reduced rate, she cannot later qualify for the full amount.

* * *

LET'S TAKE the example of a woman who has been employed in work covered by social security long enough to become insured.

Assume that her full monthly benefit amount, based on her average earnings in covered work, is $78.00. If she waits until she reaches age 65 to retire, she will get that full amount every month from then on. But she will reach 62 in November 1956.

If she decides to retire then, she can get old-age payments starting with November. The amount she would receive if she waited until she reached 65. This will be $62.40 monthly instead of $78 per month. If she waits until age 63 to start getting retirement payments, her benefit amount will be $67.60 monthly.

Every year, and every month within a year in which the woman worker puts off receiving retirement benefits up to age 65, will increase her benefit amount slightly. I want to point out again, however, that once such a woman starts getting reduced payments, she will not be able to qualify later for the full payment.

* * *

THE ABOVE example applies also to the wife of a retired insured worked receiving benefits. In the wife's case, however, the amount of the monthly benefit she would get, if she chose to claim payments at age 62, would be 75 per cent of what she would get if she waited until she reached age 65.

As in the case of the woman worker, the wife's monthly payments will be a little larger each month she puts off claiming benefits after her 62nd birthday and before she reaches 65.

However, if a woman's retired insured husband should die at any time after she has begun to receive her reduced benefits she will begin receiving full widow's benefits plus the lump-sum death payment.

Now that the starting age for women beneficiaries is 62 instead of 65, less time in work covered by social security may be required in some cases for a woman worker to become insured. Generally, the required time is one - half the time elapsing after 1950 up to the time the woman reaches age 62 instead of age 65, with a minimum of at least 1½ years of covered work.

Under the amended law, a person who works continuously after 1955 can become insured with fewer quarters of coverage.

* * *

I MENTIONED insured status for women workers because it is important not only to those now 62 or nearing that age, but also to some women workers who reached age 65 after June 30, 1954, without having enough covered work to be insured under the old law.

If they had enough work to be insured under the amended law, they or their survivors may be able to qualify for benefit payments.

Today, I've explained how age 62 has become important to women under the new social security law.

In my next article I'll tell why age 50 is of great significance to many now disabled workers formerly in employment or self-employment that counts toward old-age and survivors insurance benefits.

Mentalist Stumps Californians with Perfect Vote Guess

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jack Swimmer, who calls himself a mentalist, had the Board of Supervisors stumped.

For inside a box, locked inside another box that had been locked in the county safe since last month, the supervisors found just what Swimmer said they'd find—the exact figures for President Eisenhower's vote tallies in California, Los Angeles County and the nation in last week's election.

Women Should Become Acquainted With New Social Security Rules

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is the fourth of a series prepared by Leonard S. Garrard, field representative for the Social Security Administration in Fayette County, Garrard's home office is in Columbus.

By LEONARD S. GARRARD

Today, I'm addressing my discussion of the new social security law to women—to wives of retired insured workers, to widows of deceased insured workers, to women workers who are in employment or self-employment that counts toward old - age and survivors insurance benefits, and to those dependent mothers who might become eligible for survivors payments if an insured son or daughter should die.

Heretofore there has been a uniform age at which benefit payments could start for all beneficiaries other than children and wives or widows with children in their care. That age was 65; it remains 65 for male beneficiaries. The 1956 amendments to the law, however, lower the age at which women can receive benefits. Beginning with November of this year (1956) women can start getting payments at age 62.

Widows and (in case there is no surviving child or spouse entitled to benefit payments) dependent mothers, may begin getting survivors benefit payments when they reach age 62.

They will get the same monthly benefit that they would have started to get at age 65 under the old law.

* * *

WIVES of retired insured workers and retired insured working women can, if they choose, start getting benefit payments at age 62. However, the monthly benefit amount payable to them will be somewhat less than the amounts of the benefits they would have received had they waited until age 65.

In case a wife or an insured working woman elects to start getting benefits before age 65, she will continue to receive a reduced amount after she reaches that age. The longer a woman waits after reaching age 62 and before age 65 to start getting payments, the less the reduction in the amount of the monthly benefi.

As I have said above, however, once she sarts getting monthly payments at a reduced rate, she cannot later qualify for the full amount.

* * *

LET'S TAKE the example of a woman who has been employed in work covered by social security long enough to become insured.

Assume that her full monthly benefit amount, based on her average earnings in covered work, is $78.00. If she waits until she reaches age 65 to retire, she will get that full amount every month from then on. But she will reach 62 in November 1956.

If she decides to retire then, she can get old-age payments starting with November. The amount she would receive if she waited until she reached 65. This will be $62.40 monthly instead of $78 per month. If she waits until age 63 to start getting retirement payments, her benefit amount will be $67.60 monthly.

Every year, and every month within a year in which the woman worker puts off receiving retirement benefits up to age 65, will increase her benefit amount slightly. I want to point out again, however, that once such a woman starts getting reduced payments, she will not be able to qualify later for the full payment.

* * *

THE ABOVE example applies also to the wife of a retired insured worked receiving benefits. In the wife's case, however, the amount of the monthly benefit she would get, if she chose to claim payments at age 62, would be 75 per cent of what she would get if she waited until she reached age 65.

As in the case of the woman worker, the wife's monthly payments will be a little larger each month she puts off claiming benefits after her 62nd birthday and before she reaches 65.

However, if a woman's retired insured husband should die at any time after she has begun to receive her reduced benefits she will begin receiving full widow's benefits plus, the lump-sum death payment.

Now that the starting age for women beneficiaries is 62 instead of 65, less time in work covered by social security may be required in some cases for a woman worker to become insured. Generally, the required time is one - half the time elapsing after 1950 up to the time the woman reaches age 62 instead of age 65, with a minimum of at least 1½ years of covered work.

Under the amended law, a person who works continuously after 1955 can become insured with fewer quarters of coverage.

* * *

I MENTIONED insured status for women workers because it is important not only to those now 62 or nearing that age, but also to some women workers who reached age 65 after June 30, 1954, without having enough covered work to be insured under the old law.

If they had enough work to be insured under the amended law, they or their survivors may be able to qualify for benefit payments.

Today, I've explained how age 62 has become important to women under the new social security law.

In my next article I'll tell why age 50 is of great significance to many now disabled workers formerly in employment or self-employment that counts toward old-age and survivors insurance benefits.

Copter Gets Ticket

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP)—Patrolman Paul Ramsey couldn't believe his eyes when he saw the helicopter land on the street at Fountain Square. He asked the pilot what was going on. The pilot said he stopped to let off a couple of passengers while enroute to Tennessee. Patrolman Ramsey pondered a moment, then wrote a traffic ticket for the pilot.

He was double parked.

New Task·Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

They "flattened" Yukon mountains with the most modern truck V8's of all!

Rated G.V.W. of these payload-carrying heavyweights goes all the way up to 32,000 pounds!

New V8-powered '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded, made one of the world's toughest roads look easy! In a straight-through test run, they rolled over the famous ALCAN Highway to Alaska—in less than 45 hours (normally a 72-hour run). Here's proof-in-action of power that'll handle your toughest jobs—and keep coming back for more!

Six new Task-Force huskies made the run. And six ultra-modern Chevy engines proved their power and performance—with gas mileage up to 18.17 miles per gallon! Two of the engines were not stopped once, and they hummed along at peak efficiency the entire 1,520 miles!

Chevy's big V8's—including the new 283-cu.-in. Super Taskmaster—turned in top performance jobs. They hauled typical loads up and down towering grades and through washouts that sucked wheels into hub-deep mud. They roared on through miles of heavy dust that narrowed visibility to a few hundred feet. And in spite of the varying altitudes and temperatures, not a single truck was forced to drop out or turn back! Stop by and see them soon!

Alcan run supervised, certified by the AAA.

Whatever your job, there's an Alcan-proved Chevrolet Task-Force truck ready right now to save you time and money!

Proved on the Alcan Highway
Champs of every weight class!

$49½ Million Total Urged As Aid to Schools in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A research report Tuesday recommended that the state spend $49,532,695 during the next four years to help school districts relieve overcrowded classrooms.

The report, made by Robert Heller & Associates of Cleveland to the state board of education, said most school districts needing state aid are in northeastern and southwestern Ohio.

Top priority for the aid, the report said, should go to these districts in 1957:

Wayne District of Montgomery County, $545,220; Mad River-Green of Clark County, $468,689; Strongsville of Cuyahoga County, $228,515; Perry of Allen County, $580,330, and a consolidation of Amelia, Glen Este-Mt. Carmel and Withamsville - Tobasco of Clermont County, $837,514.

State aid will come largely from part of a 150-million-dollar bond issue approved by voters. About 60 million dollars is left to be distributed among universities, public schools and public buildings.

The education board is preparing legislation that will let districts take advantage of bond issue money. The plan calls for the state to sell schools, built from bond issue money, to needy districts.

The board added $280,000 to the two-year state education department budget for personal service and maintenance, bringing the total to $7,124,726. During the biennium that ends next June 31, the department will have spent about four million dollars for the same items. Amounts are higher now because the board has authorized more services.

Also approved for the two years were $5,200,000 for school buses; five million dollars for school rehabilitation, and amounts for additions and operating subsidies for special and vocational education. These figures bring the combined budget total to $18,946,889.

The board approved county board of education budgets totaling $804,000 for the last three months of this year. The state will pay $354,000 for the amount.

Among annexations approved by the board was territory from Granville Exempted Village School District to the Newark City School District.

U.S. Air Chief Says Russians Building Long-Range Jets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Air Force Quarles said yesterday that long-range jet bombers, "capable of delivering atomic weapons on our homeland," are coming off Soviet production lines.

Large Russian fleets of advanced jet fighters and light bombers already are in operation, he added in an address for the American Assn. of Land - Grant Colleges and State Universities.

He said, too, that "the Soviets are capable of building atomic weapons at an imposing rate" and in view of Russian claims about developing ocean - spanning missiles "we must assume that they will be able to deliver nuclear warheads with accuracy."

Ironton Area Eyes Possible New Plant

IRONTON (AP) — Speculation is mounting that a new $50 million petro-chemical plant may be built in this area, possibly in the vicinity of Huntington, W. Va., directly across the river from Lawrence County.

Speculation arose after the Commercial Solvents Corp., and the Columbia Gas System, Inc., announced jointly Tuesday the proposed plant would be constructed in the Ohio Valley.

School-Age Total Growing Rapidly

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country's school-age population is increasing nearly 1½ millions a year, the Census Bureau reports.

The bureau estimates that as of July 1 there were 38,756,000 children of elemeetary and high school age, a gain of 8,167,000 since 1950.

Farm Support Cost: $5.91 Per Capita

WASHINGTON (AP)—Suppose that each adult and child in America contributed $5.91 to a special fund.

The total, an Agriculture Department spokesman said today, would come to about $975 million, the amount it costs to run the farm price support system in the year ended June 30.

Those figures were supplied at the request f a reporter who asked what expenses are entailed in the government's job of stabilizing farm prices.

"Actually," said the spokesman, "over the years the average cost of the farm price support program has been much less than 975 million.

"In fact, over the entire 23-year period that the Commodity Credit Corporation has been supporting farm prices, the net cost has been $3,624,000,000.

"That averages to 158 million dollars a year."

This money has been spent to assure what the government considers a fair price to farmers on crops and products in which surpluses have developed.

Both Democratic and Republican administrations have acted on the assumption that prices on surplus items, such as wheat and corn, would sometimes drop to unreasonably low levels if left to the law of supply and demand.

Tranquilizing Drugs Can Be Danger

CHICAGO (AP) — A professor of psychiatry believes that the use of tranquilizing drugs over prolonged periods is unwise.

"Tranquilizers relieve only the symptoms of anxiety and anxiety fatigue without affecting the underlying causes," said Dr. Henry H. Dixon, professor and head of the department of psychiatry at the University of Oregon.

He told the ninth annual scientific assembly of the Illinois Academy of General Practice that their chief value is to calm the patient enough to permit reeducation, conditioned relaxation and psychologic reorientation.

$49½ Million Total Urged As Aid to Schools in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A research report Tuesday recommended that the state spend $49,532,695 during the next four years to help school districts relieve overcrowded classrooms.

The report, made by Robert Heller & Associates of Cleveland to the state board of education, said most school districts needing state aid are in northeastern and southwestern Ohio.

Top priority for the aid, the report said, should go to these districts in 1957:

Wayne District of Montgomery County, $545,220; Mad River-Green of Clark County, $468,689; Strongsville of Cuyahoga County, $228,515; Perry of Allen County, $580,330, and a consolidation of Amelia, Glen Este-Mt. Carmel and Withamsville - Tobasco of Clermont County, $837,514.

State aid will come largely from part of a 150-million-dollar bond issue approved by voters. About 60 million dollars is left to be distributed among universities, public schools and public buildings.

The education board is preparing legislation that will let districts take advantage of bond issue money. The plan calls for the state to sell schools, built from bond issue money, to needy districts.

The board added $280,000 to the two-year state education department budget for personal service and maintenance, bringing the total to $7,124,726. During the biennium that ends next June 31, the department will have spent about four million dollars for the same items. Amounts are higher now because the board has authorized more services.

Also approved for the two years were $5,200,000 for school buses; five million dollars for school rehabilitation, and amounts for additions and operating subsidies for special and vocational education. These figures bring the combined budget total to $18,946,889.

The board approved county board of education budgets totaling $804,000 for the last three months of this year. The state will pay $354,000 for the amount.

Among annexations approved by the board was territory from Granville Exempted Village School District to the Newark City School District.

U.S. Air Chief Says Russians Building Long-Range Jets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Air Force Quarles said yesterday that long-range jet bombers, "capable of delivering atomic weapons on our homeland," are coming off Soviet production lines.

Large Russian fleets of advanced jet fighters and light bombers already are in operation, he added in an address for the American Assn. of Land - Grant Colleges and State Universities.

He said, too, that "the Soviets are capable of building atomic weapons at an imposing rate" and in view of Russian claims about developing ocean - spanning missiles "we must assume that they will be able to deliver nuclear warheads with accuracy."

These Are Dangerous Months, Police Warn

The three months beginning with November are the most dangerous in the year for pedestrians, Police Chief Vaiden Long said that November and December of last year and January of this averaged 50 pedestrian deaths a month. Although most of the people cross streets at corners, 35 percent of the deaths occurred in the middle of the block. Long felt that this was sufficient evidence to convince anyone that they are far safer going to the corner to cross the street.

It isn't just enough to cross the street at the corner, the chief points out. It is necessary to wait on the curb until you get the "Walk" signal or the "Green" on the traffic signal in the direction that you wish to go.

Remember that streets in the next few month: may be a little slippery from moisture, frost or snow, and the motorist may not always be able to stop as quickly as he thinks he can.

"Keep a look-out as you are crossing the street, so that you will not be surprised by a vehicle bearing down on you, which you thought was going to stop", Long warned.

"It isn't a good idea to rely on the motorist seeing you. Most of the hours of the day will be dark enough to require artificial illumination. Your clothing may be so dark that the motorist can not see you until too late, unless you wear or carry somethigg white."

* * *

IN RESPONSE to a question the chief said that stepping into the traveled portion of the street from beween parked cars almost should be classed as suicide. At no season of the year does this stunt give the motorist a good chance to avoid striking you, but during the winter season the chance is even less than usual.

Some motorists don't realize that they become pedestrians the instant that they step from a parked car and a number of them still have the unfortunate habit of using the left hand door to get in or out of it. For the greatest safety get out of your car at the right hand door and walk to the corner to cross the street.

Where there are no traffic signals pedestrians should be sure that they have ample space to cross the street. The chief felt that for town speeds at least 300 feet from the crosswalk to the nearest approaching vehicle was the minimum that the pedestrian should have for a safe crossing.

The chief said "I don't want to give the impression that the pedestrian has the entire responsibility for escaping the accident statistics. The motorist has some things that he must do too. First of all, he should wait for pedestrians to reach a place of safety before starting up, even though he has received the green light, which would permit him to go ahead".

It's unfortunate that a number of drivers use their parking lights in twilight hours. Long urges that the low headlamp beam be used whenever the car is moving. That will give the pedestrian a sure indication that the car is approaching, but further, the headlamps will reveal a pedestrian on the roadway quite a bit sooner than the parking lamps can.

* * *

MOTORISTS need to be somewhat more careful on left turns. Many of the pedestrian injuries at crosswalks occur as the result of contact by a left-turning vehicle. The driver probably is so intent on getting out of the way of approaching motor traffic that he does not maintain an appropriate look-out for folks who are legally using the crosswalk.

Often in these circumstances the motorist is trying to get ahead of that traffic instead of waiting until the intersection is clear and he has an opportunity to make the turn safely.

All motorists should reduce speed when they see a pedestrian crossing the roadway, whether he is doing it legally or not. The fact that you see the pedestrian doesn't mean that he sees you. Extra care is needed in nasty weather when the pedestrian is intent on getting across the street and may not be watching to the sides as much as he should.

* * *

THE CHIEF felt that special attention should be called to the school zones. While almost everyone knows that the 20-mile limit applies at times when students are enroute to and from school, the need for reduced speed may arise at other times.

A good tell-tale is light in the school building after the normal hours. These should alert the motorist to the possibility of pedestrians in the school area.

Extra caution is needed when driving from brilliantly lighted areas into streets which have only normal or average street lighting. It requires several seconds for the eye to become used to the dimmer light and those several seconds can be long enough to obscure a pedestrian until it is too late to avoid contact with him. Be sure that your pace always is such that you can stop your car in the assured clear distance ahead and remember that the assured clear distance is never farther than you can see.

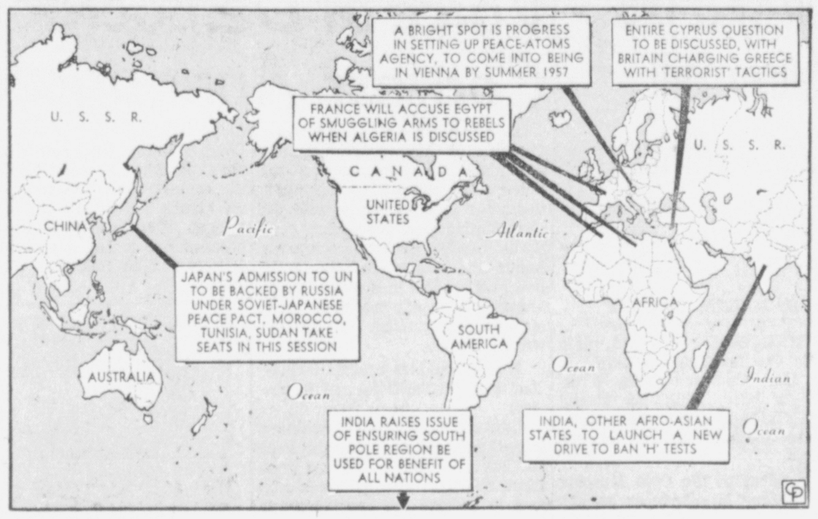

Road Stripes Hot

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—New highway striping equipment which applies hot paint to highways, is now being used by the Oregon State Highway Dept.

The paint is heated right in the machine and reaches the road at approximately 160 degrees. The drying time of the paint is also speeded up in this machine.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband and I face a problem that involves a young girl's future.

We are established residents in one of the older sections of town, active in church and school work, hence well known in the vicinity. We have five children, the eldest age 11, and our large old house usually is full of visiting children.

We've had various baby sitters, but one girl, 15—I'll call her Lucy, we've liked especially. She is dependable, capable, energetic, level-headed and so nice; and such a favorite with the family that we included her as one of us, in family picnics, museum trips, boat rides, etc., until she began to decline the majority of invitations, and then, suddenly, wasn't allowed to baby-sit for us any more.

Although her parents are educated people, they have a reputation for undue harshness with Lucy, their only child, and their strict, unwarranted refusal to let her associate with us has created a growing problem.

Lucy continues to flee to us for friendship, and once came seeking refuge, after severe physical punishment; and she begs us never to tell her parents. They forbid her to see us, calling us a bad influence, but she is allowed to baby-sit for other families nearby.

Her parents have never take up the subject with us, and many times I've suggested to Lucy that I talk with them, but she begs me not to—saying it would only make her miserable home life more unbearable.

How can we communicate with them and still be fair to Lucy, who obviously needs friends and a home?

R. F.

DEAR R. F.: One significant aspect of your letter is that you aren't putting your cards on the table. You aren't as helpfully frank as you might be, which indicates that you aren't a disinterested seeker of truth, exactly.

It seems you know what Lucy's parents are saying against you—charges that you deplore as most unreasonable and oddly bitter. So why don't you give the gist? It might throw light on their personalities and manner of thinking, and also show how you look to them, and thus spark insight into the difficulty that needs to be clarified and treated, for Lucy's benefit.

One senses that you are on the defensive in the situation, and unwilling to admit that you are—much less concede that there may be straws of justification for the distrustful attitude of Lucy's parents.

Your failure to specify what Lucy's parents object to, suggests that you feel uncomfortably "exposed" by their claims, as if you recognized some grains of truth, at least, even though distorted, exaggerated, etc.

Had Lucy got a crush on you and-or your husband, that was diluting her allegiance to her parents?—a trend that you were endorsing by tacit acceptance, so that her parents became distrustful of the whole exchange? Something of the sort may be back of Lucy's continuing sneak visits to you, and her assumption that you will cooperate.

Now, to be blunt, if you really want to help Lucy, if your interest isn't just camouflaged selfishness, you can prove it by going deeply into your concern, with a staff counsellor at the Family Service Agency in your city. The situation calls for a psychologist, to study the facts first-hand and then devise constructive action.

M. H.

Cheap Food Makes Expensive Minks

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—What gives mink that expensive look?

It's an inexpensive, quick frozen food made out of ground-up fish.

George Lewis, Portland businessman, owns four New England factories that produced 100 million pounds last year out of whiting, and what's left of redfish, or ocean perch, after the fillets have been cut out.

He estimates his plants provide nearly three fourths of the nation's mink farm food requirements.

Honor and Obey

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (AP)—The woman pulled a heavy gold wedding ring from her finger and insisted it be used to fill her teeth, despite the dentist's assurance there was a cheaper way.

She explained:

"I promised my first husband before his death that I'd always wear his ring. I'm getting married next week and the man I'm going to marry has made me promise that I'll wear only his ring. This way, I can keep my promise to both."

Hungarian Rebel Reveals Some Russians Joined Revolt

WASHINGTON (AP) — An escaped leader of the Hungarian revolution testified here Wednesday that many Russian troops in Hungary "were on the side of the rebel." He said some even turned guns on their own comrades.

The witness, however, said the Soviets threw fresh and tougher troops into the fighting later who "terrorized" dissidents and compelled them to help crush the revolt.

The testimony came from a young Hungarian refugee, concealing his identity behind a mask of white surgical gauze and an assumed name lest he be recognized and reprisals taken on relatives he left behind.

He used the assumed name of Istvan Laszlo. The witness swore he personally had seen during the revolution torture chambers where men were crushed to death or mangled and a crematory captured from the Soviet-bossed Hungarian secret police.

Laszlo said he escaped with Mrs. Anna Kethly, a woman member of the revolutionary Cabinet of Imre Nagy, and has been in this country since Nov. 5.

He said many Soviet soldiers "refused to fight us" and asked the Nagy government for asylum.

In Budapest, an officer got out of his tank with a white flag and gave the tank to the rebels.

Also in Budapest, Laszlo said, the lead tank in a Soviet column moving down a broad boulevard "turned its guns on the tank behind it and shot at his comrades."

Woof with Woof

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Judges at the 36th annual Wisconsin Designer Craftsman Show had to admit the coat woven by Mrs. Belle Schultz of Milwaukee was her pet project.

The warp was nothing unusual, but the woof —!

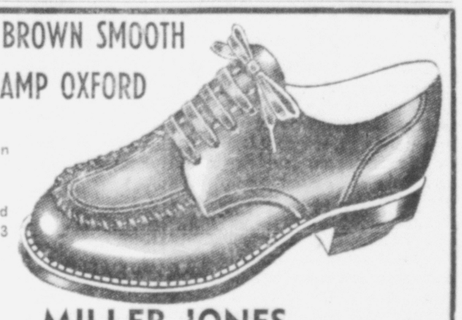

The woof was the comings from her pet Scotch collie.

These Are Dangerous Months, Police Warn

The three months beginning with November are the most dangerous in the year for pedestrians. Police Chief Vaiden Long said that November and December of last year and January of this averaged 50 pedestrian deaths a month. Although most of the people cross streets at corners, 35 percent of the deaths occurred in the middle of the block. Long felt that this was sufficient evidence to convince anyone that they are far safer going to the corner to cross the street.

It isn't just enough to cross the street at the corner, the chief points out. It is necessary to wait on the curb until you get the "Walk" signal or the "Green" on the traffic signal in the direction that you wish to go.

Remember that streets in the next few month: may be a little slippery from moisture, frost or snow, and the motorist may not always be able to stop as quickly as he thinks he can.

"Keep a look-out as you are crossing the street, so that you will not be surprised by a vehicle bearing down on you, which you thought was going to stop", Long warned.

"It isn't a good idea to rely on the motorist seeing you. Most of the hours of the day will be dark enough to require artificial illumination. Your clothing may be so dark that the motorist can not see you until too late, unless you wear or carry somethigg white."

* * *

IN RESPONSE to a question the chief said that stepping into the traveled portion of the street from beween parked cars almost should be classed as suicide. At no season of the year does this stunt give the motorist a good chance to avoid striking you, but during the winter season the chance is even less than usual.

Some motorists don't realize that they become pedestrians the instant that they step from a parked car and a number of them still have the unfortunate habit of using the left hand door to get in or out of it. For the greatest safety get out of your car at the right hand door and walk to the corner to cross the street.

Where there are no traffic signals pedestrians should be sure that they have ample space to cross the street. The chief felt that for town speeds at least 300 feet from the crosswalk to the nearest approaching vehicle was the minimum that the pedestrian should have for a safe crossing.

The chief said "I don't want to give the impression that the pedestrian has the entire responsibility for escaping the accident statistics. The motorist has some things that he must do too. First of all, he should wait for pedestrians to reach a place of safety before starting up, even though he has received the green light, which would permit him to go ahead".

It's unfortunate that a number of drivers use their parking lights in twilight hours. Long urges that the low headlamp beam be used whenever the car is moving. That will give the pedestrian a sure indication that the car is approaching, but further, the headlamps will reveal a pedestrian on the roadway quite a bit sooner than the parking lamps can.

* * *

MOTORISTS need to be somewhat more careful on left turns. Many of the pedestrian injuries at crosswalks occur as the result of contact by a left-turning vehicle. The driver probably is so intent on getting out of the way of approaching motor traffic that he does not maintain an appropriate look-out for folks who are legally using the crosswalk.

Often in these circumstances the motorist is trying to get ahead of that traffic instead of waiting until the intersection is clear and he has an opportunity to make the turn safely.

All motorists should reduce speed when they see a pedestrian crossing the roadway, whether he is doing it legally or not. The fact that you see the pedestrian doesn't mean that he sees you. Extra care is needed in nasty weather when the pedestrian is intent on getting across the street and may not be watching to the sides as much as he should.

* * *

THE CHIEF felt that special attention should be called to the school zones. While almost everyone knows that the 20-mile limit applies at times when students are enroute to and from school, the need for reduced speed may arise at other times.

A good tell-tale is light in the school building after the normal hours. These should alert the motorist to the possibility of pedestrians in the school area.

Extra caution is needed when driving from brilliantly lighted areas into streets which have only normal or average street lighting. It requires several seconds for the eye to become used to the dimmer light and those several seconds can be long enough to obscure a pedestrian until it is too late to avoid contact with him. Be sure that your pace always is such that you can stop your car in the assured clear distance ahead and remember that the assured clear distance is never farther than you can see.

Road Stripes Hot

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—New highway striping equipment which applies hot paint to highways, is now being used by the Oregon State Highway Dept.

The paint is heated right in the machine and reaches the road at approximately 160 degrees. The drying time of the paint is also speeded up in this machine.

EGYPT, HUNGARY AREN'T THE ONLY PROBLEMS

THE EGYPT-ISRAEL and Hungary problems aren't the only ones facing the 1956 session of the United Nations General Assembly. In addition to the problems indicated on this map, the assembly will discuss disarmament, economic aid for under-developed countries, probably Red China application.

"Mary Haworth's Mail"

How can we communicate with them and still be fair to Lucy, who obviously needs friends and a home?

R. F.

DEAR R. F.: One significant aspect of your letter is that you aren't putting your cards on the table. You aren't as helpfully frank as you might be, which indicates that you aren't a disinterested seeker of truth, exactly.

It seems you know what Lucy's parents are saying against you—charges that you deplore as most unreasonable and oddly bitter. So why don't you give the gist? It might throw light on their personalities and manner of thinking, and also show how you look to them, and thus spark insight into the difficulty that needs to be clarified and treated, for Lucy's benefit.

One senses that you are on the defensive in the situation, and unwilling to admit that you are—much less concede that there may be straws of justification for the distrustful attitude of Lucy's parents.

Your failure to specify what Lucy's parents object to, suggests that you feel uncomfortably "exposed" by their claims, as if you recognized some grains of truth, at least, even though distorted, exaggerated, etc.

Had Lucy got a crush on you and-or your husband, that was diluting her allegiance to her parents?—a trend that you were endorsing by tacit acceptance, so that her parents became distrustful of the whole exchange? Something of the sort may be back of Lucy's continuing sneak visits to you, and her assumption that you will cooperate.

Now, to be blunt, if you really want to help Lucy, if your interest isn't just camouflaged selfishness, you can prove it by going deeply into your concern, with a staff counsellor at the Family Service Agency in your city. The situation calls for a psychologist, to study the facts first-hand and then devise constructive action.

M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of this newspaper.

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: My husband and I face a problem that involves a young girl's future.

We are established residents in one of the older sections of town, active in church and school work, hence well known in the vicinity. We have five children, the eldest age 11, and our large old house usually is full of visiting children.

We've had various baby sitters, but one girl, 15—I'll call her Lucy, we've liked especially. She is dependable, capable, energetic, level-headed and so nice; and such a favorite with the family that we included her as one of us, in family picnics, museum trips, boat rides, etc., until she began to decline the majority of invitations, and then, suddenly, wasn't allowed to baby-sit for us any more.

Although her parents are educated people, they have a reputation for undue harshness with Lucy, their only child, and their strict, unwarranted refusal to let her associate with us has created a growing problem.

Lucy continues to flee to us for friendship, and once came seeking refuge, after severe physical punishment; and she begs us never to tell her parents. They forbid her to see us, calling us a bad influence, but she is allowed to baby-sit for other families nearby.

Her parents have never take up the subject with us, and many times I've suggested to Lucy that I talk with them, but she begs me not to—saying it would only make her miserable home life more unbearable.

Cheap Food Makes Expensive Minks

PORTLAND, Maine (AP)—What gives mink that expensive look?

It's an inexpensive, quick frozen food made out of ground-up fish.

George Lewis, Portland businessman, owns four New England factories that produced 100 million pounds last year out of whiting, and what's left of redfish, or ocean perch, after the fillets have been cut out.

He estimates his plants provide nearly three fourths of the nation's mink farm food requirements.

Honor and Obey

BLUEFIELD, W. Va. (AP)—The woman pulled a heavy gold wedding ring from her finger and insisted it be used to fill her teeth, despite the dentist's assurance there was a cheaper way.

She explained:

"I promised my first husband before his death that I'd always wear his ring. I'm getting married next week and the man I'm going to marry has made me promise that I'll wear only his ring. This way, I can keep my promise to both."

Hungarian Rebel Reveals Some Russians Joined Revolt

WASHINGTON (AP) — An escaped leader of the Hungarian revolution testified here Wednesday that many Russian troops in Hungary "were on the side of the rebel." He said some even turned guns on their own comrades.

The witness, however, said the Soviets threw fresh and tougher troops into the fighting later who "terrorized" dissidents and compelled them to help crush the revolt.

The testimony came from a young Hungarian refugee, concealing his identity behind a mask of white surgical gauze and an assumed name lest he be recognized and reprisals taken on relatives he left behind.

He used the assumed name of Istvan Laszlo. The witness swore he personally had seen during the revolution torture chambers where men were crushed to death or mangled and a crematory captured from the Soviet-bossed Hungarian secret police.

Laszlo said he escaped with Mrs. Anna Kethly, a woman member of the revolutionary Cabinet of Imre Nagy, and has been in this country since Nov. 5.

He said many Soviet soldiers "refused to fight us" and asked the Nagy government for asylum.

In Budapest, an officer got out of his tank with a white flag and gave the tank to the rebels.

Also in Budapest, Laszlo said, the lead tank in a Soviet column moving down a broad boulevard "turned its guns on the tank behind it and shot at his comrades."

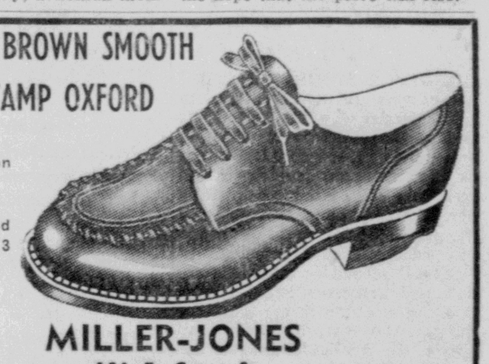

Woof with Woof

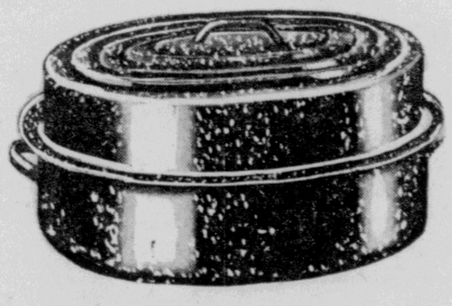

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Judges at the 36th annual Wisconsin Designer Craftsman Show had to admit the coat woven by Mrs. Belle Schultz of Milwaukee was her pet project.

The warp was nothing unusual, but the woof —!

The woof was the comings from her pet Scotch collie.

Hong Kong Glamour Girl Actress Finds Red China Promises Empty

By F. K. WU
(Central Press Association)

HONG KONG—Pretty and sexy Hung Hsien-nu, 35, who was swept off her feet by Communist promises of command performances before kings and queens in the course of a European tour, found that life in Red China is totally unbearable and that the chances of cultivating royalty are exceedingly slim.

The lucious and slim prima donna abandoned a successful stage and screen career in Hong Kong and prospects of being married to a wealthy local scion in order "to serve the people in the motherland."

Communist agents congratulated themselves for their big success inducing Miss Hung Hsien-nu to go back to Canton, where first class stage and screen players are wanted to help the public forget their blues.

"She found wealth, fame and love in Hong Kong," said one of her many fans who watched her meteoric rise to stardom and continued success for the past ten years. "It was vanity or illusion that put her up behind the Bamboo Curtain."

* * *

ANOTHER ADMIRER described her charms and allures as irresistible. That was why the Communists wanted her to appear in theaters and movie houses to drive away, at least momentarily, despair and gloom, he said, although, officially her job was to boost the morale of the people for the cause of "peace and socialistic reconstruction."

Several second or third rate actors and actresses left here for Communist China in the course of the past two years to regain fame before the footlights and on the screen. None of them made the grade to join the two theatrical troupes that visited Europe and Japan, but still they have been useful in amusing the sorely tried audiences in the never ending period of austerity and regimentation.

Smooth-tongued Red Chinese agents comforted the frustrated actress by telling her the pastures in Red China and, still better, those in Paris, London, Berlin and Vienna, The Hague, etc., were greener. Besides, she would render valuable services to her countrymen by her performances.

The prospects of gaining further recognition for her acting and singing talents and graceful curtsies before royalty impelled the ambitious and elated Hung Hsien-nu to wend her way to the "glorious motherland," where a heroine's welcome awaited her.

Hung Hsien-nu

Then, disappointment and setbacks entered the picture as experienced by this glamor girl and thousands of others who were enticed to go home "for the good of themselves and their country."

* * *

A LETTER received by relatives here said Hung Hsien-nu had to toil hard in studying Communist ideology and in rehearsals and received only paltry pay for long hours of work. As a result she has lost weight and is in poor health.

In fact, after the usual surge of welcome and lip service, the actress-singer was criticized for being too bourgeois and completely ignorant of Communist conception of life. She did appear before a command performance for the benefit of drab-looking high officials in Peigping, but that was not what she had in mind.

According to her relatives here, her mother in Hong Kong is supported by rents from local houses owned by Miss Hung, who just made enough to support herself and had to depend also on rents collected here to maintain her three children in Canton.

It also is reported that previously the actress was obliged to make small contributions to this or that "worthy cause," as the Communists know very well she has extensive property holdings in Hong Kong after a decade of box office success.

45,000 Owners Linked to Acre

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — The Oklahoma Highway Department may have to get signatures of 45,000 persons who own a portion of one acre of land needed as a highway right-of-way near Anadarko.

Sold in two-square inch lots at $1 per lot, the land was used to raise funds for an amphitheater.

Wes Wyatt, president of the Redman Land Co. which sold the tiny lots, quoted highway representatives as saying a quit claim deed signed by him and a "dedication deed" by the former owner might clear the property.

Wasn't Telling It to the Marines

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Sgt. Henry D. Patterson's "welcome" talk to 20 new arrivals at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot here was repeatedly interrupted by a waving arm.

Patterson was forced to acknowledge the persistent recruit.

"Sir," shouted the recruit, "I'm supposed to be in the Navy!"

Stunned, Patterson checked the roster and found that 18 of the 20 men were all prospective sailors. They had boarded the wrong bus at the airport.

Vet Home-Buying Soars Under California Plan

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California veterans were buying 58,924 homes and farms in mid 1956 under the Cal-Vet plan — the state's own GI home loan program.

The Department of Veterans Affairs said the low-interest loans represented almost one half billion dollars in property transactions. Men and women who entered the service from California are eligible for loans.

Springfield Woman Urges, Plain Life In Fear of Lord'

By MELVA McCUDDY
(Central Press Association)

SPRINGFIELD, O. — "A plain life in the fear of the Lord" is Mrs. Mary Cameron Archer's formula for good living. She should know, for Mrs. Archer has attained the magnificent age of 106 years.

A resident of the Ohio Masonic Home here, Mrs. Archer recalls her trip to America 102 years ago —on a sailing vessel from her birthplace in Aberdeen, Scotland.

Mrs. Mary Archer

While celebrating her latest birthday, Mrs. Archer revealed that she still has an intense interest in politics. In fact, she still treasures a card and picture which President Eisenhower sent her after the last presidential election.

Almost blind and confined to her wheel chair, Mrs. Archer uses her most useful sense, hearing, to enjoy several hours of radio listening every day—until about 9 or 10 p. m.

* * *

BEING a native Scotswoman, she still has quite a few Scottish phrases in her conversation. She recalled that a "Heelander band of kilties" played for her 100th birthday.

She laughed about her mother's reaction to America when they first arrived. "I dinn alike it here. Take me hame," her mother said.

Mrs. Archer's husband, Joseph H., died in 1912. Mrs. Archer has been a resident of the Ohio Masonic Home since 1942.

When asked if she planned or hoped to be here for her 107th birthday next year, she replied, "I'll thank God if I make it until next Friday."

However, she said similar things at her 105th birthday celebration. And with her own dry humor, she has been making such remarks regularly since her 100th birthday.

Voice of Democracy Contest Announced

The Washington C. H. Junior Chamber of Commerce is completing plans for sponsorship of the Voice of Democracy contest again this year in conjunction with the state and national program.

The contest gives sophomore, junior and senior students in the five high schools in Fayette County opportunity to express their views on democracy, either by voice or written script.

It also provides awards including $500 scholarships and trophies.

Although the contest is getting a later-than-usual start here this year Dr. Lawrence Burris, Jaycee president, said the organization is anxious to provide the opportunity to high school students again this year.

Last year's county winner was Charlotte Moats, of Jeffersonville High School. She received a scholarship to Ohio State University for her talk, judged the best in the county.

* * *

ENTRANTS are judged on the basis of content, originality and delivery of a five-minute script on the subject: "I Speak For Democracy."

The schools are to conduct their own elimination contests to determine the winners. Their talks are to be recorded on tape for judging on the county level, and the county winner's recording is to be entered in the state eliminations. Recordings of the state winners are then to be entered in the contest for national honors.

Judges have not yet been selected. The records may be played for the students in the schools at special assemblies, or, there is a possibility that they may be given in person.

Officials of the high schools at Bloomingburg, Jeffersonville, Good Hope, Madison Mills and Washington C. H. are now being briefed on the contest and provided with entry blanks and details of the competition. A spokesman for the Jaycees said it is hoped that all the schools can be contacted within a week.

Coming to Fayette - A musical comedy, "The Opposite Sex," has been booked at the Fayette Theater Sunday and Monday. June Allyson, upper center, takes the role of a singer who fights against an array of interfering females to keep her husband. Also on the bill will be the Technicolor movie story of "The Battle of Gettysburg."

She laughed about her mother's reaction to America when they first arrived. "I dinn alike it here. Take me hame," her mother said.

Mrs. Archer's husband, Joseph H., died in 1912. Mrs. Archer has been a resident of the Ohio Masonic Home since 1942.

When asked if she planned or hoped to be here for her 107th birthday next year, she replied, "I'll thank God if I make it until next Friday."

However, she said similar things at her 105th birthday celebration. And with her own dry humor, she has been making such remarks regularly since her 100th birthday.

Voice of Democracy Contest Announced

The Washington C. H. Junior Chamber of Commerce is completing plans for sponsorship of the Voice of Democracy contest again this year in conjunction with the state and national program.

The contest gives sophomore, junior and senior students in the five high schools in Fayette County opportunity to express their views on democracy, either by voice or written script.

It also provides awards including $500 scholarships and trophies.

Although the contest is getting a later-than-usual start here this year Dr. Lawrence Burris, Jaycee president, said the organization is anxious to provide the opportunity to high school students again this year.

Last year's county winner was Charlotte Moats, of Jeffersonville High School. She received a scholarship to Ohio State University for her talk, judged the best in the county.

* * *

ENTRANTS are judged on the basis of content, originality and delivery of a five-minute script on the subject: "I Speak For Democracy."

The schools are to conduct their own elimination contests to determine the winners. Their talks are to be recorded on tape for judging on the county level, and the county winner's recording is to be entered in the state eliminations. Recordings of the state winners are then to be entered in the contest for national honors.

Judges have not yet been selected. The records may be played for the students in the schools at special assemblies, or, there is a possibility that they may be given in person.

Officials of the high schools at Bloomingburg, Jeffersonville, Good Hope, Madison Mills and Washington C. H. are now being briefed on the contest and provided with entry blanks and details of the competition. A spokesman for the Jaycees said it is hoped that all the schools can be contacted within a week.

Coming to Fayette - A musical comedy, "The Opposite Sex," has been booked at the Fayette Theater Sunday and Monday. June Allyson, upper center, takes the role of a singer who fights against an array of interfering females to keep her husband. Also on the bill will be the Technicolor movie story of "The Battle of Gettysburg."

Boosters Wrap Up Plans For Monday Grid Dinner

The Boosters Club is putting the finishing touches on plans for its annual football banquet for the Lions of Washington C. H. High School in the American Legion Hall at 6:30 p. m. Monday.

Curly Morrison, former Ohio State star and now a slashing halfback for the Cleveland Browns professional team, is to be the principal speaker.

Morrison was voted the most valuable player in the 1950 Rose Bowl game when he played fullback for Ohio State's Bucks, who defeated the University of California in the New Year's Day classic that year.

CURLY MORRISON

After collgee, he went into professional football and played fullback for the Chicago Bears four years before going to Cleveland where he is now in his third year with the Browns as right halfback and punter.

Last year he gained more yardage than any Brown ever did in pro football. Coach Paul Brown has said of Morrison: "He has excellent speed for his size, catches the ball well and has plenty of power."

Mrs. Morrison is to accompany him here for the banquet.

* * *

HEAD COACH Fred Domenico of the Lions also is to speak at the banquet and make awards to the team. He will discuss the season just ended and prospects for next year.

The Rev. W. Neil Hand, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, is to deliver the invocation and the Rev. Richard J. Connelly, pastor of Saint Colman's Catholic Church, is to be the master of ceremonies.

Willard McLean, president of the Boosters Club, has urged that football fans make their reservations as soon as possible. He explained that, with the entire WHS grid squad as guests, the accommodations are limited. Tickets (which serve as reservations) are available now at Gillen's Drug Store and Bray's News and Sports Center.

Jeff FFA Team Wins Parliamentary Medal

Jeffersonville High School's Future Farmers of America chapter is the proud possessor of a gold medal which hangs in its chapter room in the school.

The medal was won by the FFA chapter's selected team of 10 members in the district parliamentary procedure contest held Wednesday afternoon in the gymnasium of Southeastern High School, South Charleston.

Dick Klever acted as presiding officer in the Jeffersonville chapter's demonstration. Jerry Smith served as the vice president; Jack Matthews the secretary; Roger Howard the treasurer; Karl Johnson the student advisor, Bob Campbell, the sentinel, and Joel McDonald the recorder. Other members of the team were Alva Hanners, Owen Bentley and Harvey Minney.

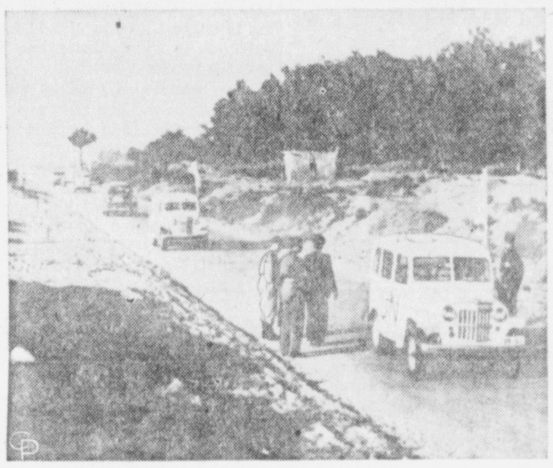

William Haines is the vocational teacher and chapter advisor.

Of the 20 teams entered in the competition, seven were awarded gold medals, five silver medals and three bronze medals.

A huge iron chain, each link about three feet in length, was stretched by Washington's forces across the Hudson River to hold back successfully the British fleet in 1778. The links are now preserved at West Point.

This column has to be a little different because I know more about one of our alumni than I do about school this week. We went to Atlanta to see my brother, Sidney. Dad had gotten tickets through Carl Smith to see the Tennessee-Georgia Tech football game. Our seats were right in the midst of the Tennessee cheering sections and several parents of squad members sat around us and all of their remarks were quite interesting.

They kept us entertained and cheered Carl when he was in the game. We are quite proud that he is from our home town. Some of the fans are calling him "Court House Smith".

Georgia Tech did rank second in the country and Tennessee third, but that has been changed now. They were both undefeated teams and were fighting for a Bowl bid. I think it was the most exciting game I have ever seen. It was a tight game all of the way. Carl will put us on the athletic map if he makes All-American some day.

On the front page of Saturday morning's "Atlanta Constitution" there was a photograph of two tickets to the game with hands from all sides grabbing at them and the headlines, "Tech can't volunteer Grid Tickets or Rooms." Beneath it was an article saying that the most optimistic man in Atlanta Friday was advertising for 10 tickets to the game. Another man had 15 tickets in one block and he wanted a cool $3,000 for them.

It did not say afterward if he got it but we do know that many people were offering $100 for them.

THE LAST football game of the season reminds us that the boys at WHS soon will be trading charley horses and bruises for sore feet and calloused hands on the basketball court.

MENTAL MATURITY tests were given to the seniors Tuesday morning under the direction of Mrs. George O'Briant. We hope they will reveal that we are as grown-up as we feel we are and more grown-up than our parents THINK we are.

THE BAND has put away their marching shoes and have gotten out their soft - cushioned pillows for the concert practicing sessions.

First Baptist Church Salutes 'The Family'

This week has been emphasized as Family Week at First Baptist Church. As a climax to the week's activities, a special Family Emphasis Service will be held at 7:15 p. m. Sunday.

The speaker will be the Rev. A. E. Kannwischer, Protestant chaplain at the Federal Reformatory, Chillicothe. Mr. Kannwischer is known as an able speaker and is thoroughly informed in the causes of juvenile delinquency and how delinquency may often be prevented in the home. The public is invited to hear the address.

Another feature of the service will be the announcement by Judge John P. Case of the Family of the Week and his presentation to them on behalf of the church of a Bible. The Family of the Week is to be chosen from the reports turned in of the projects which the people of the church have engaged in as family groups. A family sandwich supper at 6:15 p. m. will precede the meeting.

Another feature during the week was a family night service Wednesday evening with a story for the children by Mrs. Charles Hurtt, devotions given in the form of a skit by the Walter Hurtt family, a solo by Sandra Mickle and a message by the Rev. Harold Twining, pastor, on the subject, "The Christian Family".

This was followed by refreshments in the church parlors.

Negroes Vote To End Strike Against Buses

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — The Negro bus boycott that became a symbol of mass resistance to racial segregation was voted to an end Wednesday night at the church where it was born 345 days before.

An estimated 5,500 nymn-singing persons crowded into the Holt Street Baptist Church to vote thunderously for an end to the Montgomery boycott.

The Negroes decided to return to city buses as soon as the U. S. Supreme Court's decision that bus segregation is unconstitutional goes into effect.

Their leader, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., told the cheering throng that the decision should reach Montgomery courts in several days. He urged calmness and restraint when it comes.

Until then, boycotters at the church and at a similar meeting on the other side of town agreed unanimously, they will walk to work or share rides with friends.

Manager J. H. Bagley of Montgomery City Lines, Inc., whose bus patronage dropped by more than 30,000 a day during the boycott, said drivers would continue to enforce segregation until formally relieved of the state-prescribed duty.

The Montgomery City Commission has made no comment.

The boycott began the day a Negro seamstress was fined $14 for refusing to move to the rear of a bus.

Lt. Gov. Brown Not Counting On Bit of Glory

State's Number Two Chief Not Surprised Lausche to Stay On

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Republican Lt. Gov. John W. Brown apparently had a valid premonition that he would not be governor for 11 days next January

The former Medina mayor, who lost the gubernatorial nomination in the May primary, said before the Nov. 6 election that he "had a feeling".

Brown expressed belief that if Democratic Gov. Frank J. Lausche won a U.S. Senate seat he probably would remain governor until inauguration day, Jan. 14, rather than resign to be sworn when the Senate meets Jan. 3.

Lausche said after unseating GOP Sen. George H. Bender that he would remain as governor until Republican Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill, who won the gubernatorial race, was sworn in as his successor Jan. 14.

Associates of the governor said he appears determined to serve out his fifth full term despite speculation over his role in the expected organization of the U.S. Senate again by Democrats.

Resignation by Lausche to become senator automatically would elevate Brown to the governorship until O'Neill's inauguration.

In that post Brown would have full power to hire and fire cabinet members and about 100 officials in policy-making posts. He also could fill vacancies on boards and commissions, make judicial appointments, issue proclamations and perform other duties.

The 42-year-old former state highway patrolman didn't say that he would do any of those things if he attained his goal of becoming governor, even for only 11 days.

But Lausche associates asserted the governor was apprehensive and preferred to lose some seniority in the Senate by waiting until after Jan. 14 to be sworn.

The delay means that Lausche, who is 61 today, may not be called on to help organize the Senate. He created a stir by hinting that he might vote with Republicans if that would place control of Congress in the party of President Eisenhower.

But election returns showed that Democrats again could control Senate organization by a paper-thin margin without taking a chance on Lausche. The Democratic House margin is not in doubt.

Brown gave no reason for his premonition. Nor did Lausche's friends say why the governor decided to stay on. But they indicated Lausche apparently was well aware that he and Brown held divergent political and administrative views.

For that reason, if for no other, they said, Lausche apparently felt it would be "unthinkable" to turn over his office to Brown for even a brief period.

Ohio Fuel Gas Expansion OKd

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Power Commission has authorized Ohio Fuel Gas Co. to construct and operate natural gas facilities in Ohio at an estimated cost of $772,360.

Ohio Fuel will construct about 18.8 miles of 5-inch, 12-inch and 16-inch pipeline, replacing or looping existing facilities to serve increased requirements in the Dayton and Toledo areas and the extension of service to one small new market, McCuthensville.

IT'S SO EASY TO PLACE A WANT AD.

DOCTOR Michael Mandarino, of Hannemann Hospital, Philadelphia, is shown with John Doucher, the first patient treated with his revolutionary method of mending broken bones. In his "do-it-while-you-wait" method, the broken bone is laid bare by surgery and a small trough is cut at both ends. A plastic-like substance is poured in. This sets like cement, in a half hour and a cast is needed for only two or three days (International)

Dayton Area Poll Probe Awaited

DAYTON (AP) — The Montgomery County Board of Elections has announced an investigation of voting procedures in a Madison Twp. precinct.

The investigation centered around reports that some residents of the precinct may have been denied voting rights on a zoning issue and that many persons who voted on the issue may have used hastily drawn ballots made of tablet paper.

House Probers Eye 4 Polls For Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special House campaign investigating committee is eyeing election results in four congressional districts.

However, the committee, headed by Rep. Clifford Davis (D-Tenn), has received only one formal complaint of irregularities.

The complaint came from New York's 17th Dist. where incumbent Frederic R. Coudert, Republican, nosed out Anthony B. Akers, Democrat, by slightly more than 300 votes. Akers has filed a complaint charging the use of "scurrilous and false" literature against him.

When Akers first voiced his protest, Coudert immediately caused a stoppage of the material objected to and said he had no prior knowledge of its distribution.

The committee has sent an observer to Iowa to oversee the official canvass of votes in the 4th and 6th districts. The committee acted at the request of two Democrats, Steven V. Carter, who trailed incumbent Karl M. Lecompte, Republican, by 1,300 votes in the unofficial tally, and Merwin Coade, who led incumbent James I. Dolliver, Republican, by 38 votes.

Neither of the two Democrats filed formal complaints, although both cited alleged irregularities.

The committee also is acting as "observer" in the Sept. 10 election in Maine's 1st Dist. The incumbent, Robert Hale, Republican, won by a tentative official count of 29 votes. Democrats are challenging many ballots.

Farms Get Refund

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service has refunded $24,631,474 to farmers for the tax they paid on gasoline and other fuels for use on farms the first half of this year.

Medal of Honor Scholarships OKd

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—The Medal of Honor Society has ended its first national convention after voting to support an educational foundation to provide scholarships for children of members.

The society also thanked President Eisenhower and Congress for "preserving peace in the world and keeping this nation strong."

Swedish shipyards built two destroyers for the Colombia, navy; brought Colombian naval cadets from South America for training in operating the two vessels.

No Handicap Seen For U. S. Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Pennsylvania educator believes that huge enrollments foreseen for the nation's colleges may not prove to be such a handicap to the student after all.

Already, said Dean Harold K. Schilling of Pennsylvania State University, mass education "has set in with a vengeance" at the graduate school level of some universities. He added:

"But I doubt very much that the quality of graduate work at these mass - producing institutions has suffered one bit. The young Ph.D. today is at least as able and as well prepared as his predecessor of 25 or 50 years ago."

Expansion Planned

MOUNT VERNON (AP) — Engine turbochargers, centrifugal compressors and rotary machinery will be made here as part of a $3½ million expansion program at Cooper-Bessemer Corp. here.

A nations wide poll of 500 fire chiefs shows that parents, rather than children, are more responsible for the billion dollar damages from fires in homes in the U. S. each year.

O'Neill Says State To Use Business Management Ideas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Outlook for Ohio's state government:

More management and accounting practices borrowed from business.

More "belt-tightening" to make available funds stretch farther.

Fewer tax loop-holes, possibly fewer tax rebates.

New taxes? Maybe.

Those were the standout points Wednesday as Gov.-elect C. William O'Neill and a panel of legislative leaders discussed 1957 legislative prospects before the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants.

Declared the Republican governor-elect:

"We are going to bring into government the same accounting and management practices as in business. . . .it will take courage to resist the tremendous pressures for the expenditure of money. The level of expenditures is now closer to anticipated revenues than at any other time."

House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan):

"Unless there are curtailments, we could reach the place where we would be spending more than we receive. The question of financing the services required in the state will be one of the big problems in the next session."

Cloud also pointed out it might be possible to avoid new taxes in the next session by eliminating stamps in applying the state sales tax. This could possibly add 10 million dollars a year to the state treasury.

He also spoke of increasing Ohio's corporate franchise tax from one to two-tenths of one per cent—another 10 million a year saving.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), Senate majority leader, promised full cooperation with the new governor.

He said he had heard talk of proposed laws to ban trading stamps and for strict enforcement of Sunday closing laws. The Nelsonville shoe merchant added: "But retailers can rest assured that we will get a fair deal."

Senate Minority Leader Joseph W. Bartunek (D-Cuyahoga) said:

"I hope that we will meet our needs without new taxes, but I don't think so . . . . Before we enact new tax laws, we should examine the rebates."

Rep. A. G. Lancione (D-Belmont), a ranking House member, said state laws now require stores to close on Sundays, but are not enforced. He agreed with Bartunek that stores should be allowed to open on Sundays and added that present laws are so strict that, if enforced, 3.2 beer could not be sold on Sunday.

Lancione pointed to Ohio's growing bonded indebtedness, which will increase because of the Korean bonus approved last week, and commented: "It now costs more for interest to retire bonds than it did to run the state government a few years ago."

Schoolman Undaunted By $100,000 Pay Cut

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The annual town meeting cut School Superintendent Lewis G. Allbee's annual salary by $100,000, but Allbee was undisturbed.

In fact, it wasn't until some time after the meeting that he heard about the vote correcting a typographical error in the town report which listed his salary at $111,000.

Driving Home a Point

MEMPHIS (AP) — A first grader came home the other day with this note from her teacher:

"Mary is capable of doing good work but she is inclined to be carless."

State To Take $22 Million In Bids on New Facilities

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The state department of mental hygiene and correction expects to begin receiving bids next month on about 22 million dollars in projects to start bringing its services up to par.

Included are buildings at Columbus State School, Apple Creek State Hospital, Hawthornden State Hospital, Cleveland Receiving Hospital, Juvenile Diagnostic Center at Columbus, Dayton State Hospital, Toledo State Hospital, Tiffin State Hospital, Cambridge State Hospital, Gallipolis State Institute, Longview State Hospital at Cincinnati, Marion Correctional Institution, Boys Industrial School at Lancaster, Girls Industrial School at Delaware, Dayton Childrens Receiving Hospital and Cleveland State Hospital.

Dr. E. Earl Albrecht, acting department director, said construction will begin in the spring and that the department now is planning projects to be built later on.

Architects already have been selected for 23 more projects that represent a total of $27,590,000 in new facilities that will be started within a two-year period. The projects will be financed with funds from the 150-million-dollar bond issue for public buildings that voters approved last fall.

These projects still are subject to approval by the Legislature and its Capital Planning and Improvement Board, after plans are drawn.

Included in the projects are two phases of a new reformatory at Lebanon in southern Ohio. They will cost $7,600,000 and the entire medium security institution, when built, will cost 11 million dollars.

The 23 projects also include:

An auditorium and chapel for the Marion Correctional Institution to cost $400,000; a $1,560,000 medical and surgical unit and a regional service unit to cost $700,000 for Columbus institutions; an $840,000 reception and treatment unit at Columbus State Hospital; a statewide hospital at Columbus, for mentally-ill with tuberculosis, to cost $2,600,000.

A $750,000 centralized food preparation and service unit at Orient State Institute; a $200,000 central power plant and $150,000 addition to the medical and surgical building at Tiffin State Hospital; utility lines for the new Dayton Receiving Hospital and other construction to cost $200,000; a psychogeriatric building (for the aged mentally ill) at Dayton State Hospital to cost $845,000.

Completion of the rehabilitation and training unit at Apple Creek State Hospital at a cost of $400,000; an $840,000 reception and treatment center at Longview State Hospital; a new children's psychiatric hospital in northeast Ohio to cost $1,700,000.

Receiving and training unit at Rollman Receiving Hospital and State Institute of Psychiatry at Cincinnati to cost $650,000; an $850,000 reception and treatment unit and an $845,000 building for the aged mentally ill at Hawthornden State Hospital; a $750,000 medical and surgical unit at Toledo State Hospital; a $440,000 addition to Summit County Receiving Hospital.

A medium security institution in central Ohio for boys 15 to 18 to cost $3,350,000; a day care school and residential building for the mentally deficient, location undetermined, to cost $1,120,000; and a central food preparation and service unit at Massillon State Hospital to cost $800,000.

Princeton Panel Eyes Capitalism

PRINCETON, N. J. (AP) — A research center to teach the principles of the American capitalistic economy has been established here.

Called the Princeton Panel, the center will invite leading scholars and researchers to "study how American capitalism serves social and moral as well as economic values."

The Panel also aims to show "how the market can be a democratic, free - voting process in which the buying housewife can make or break the producer."

Ohio GOP Leaders Skeptical About Utility Seizure Law

COLUMBUS (AP) — Republican leaders of the Ohio Legislature appear skeptical of Gov. Frank J. Lausche's proposal for emergency powers to seize and operate public utilities hit by strikes.

Lausche Wednesday called a special session of the Legislature for Nov. 26 to consider the proposal. He abandoned plans to ask the Legislature to outlaw utility strikes and compel arbitration of grievances.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), Senate majority leader, said: "I told him (Lausche) that I think it will be a hard thing to pass a utility seizure bill of that type and importance at a special session."

House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan) said he thinks "such legislation can be written" but did not know if there are "constitutional defects." He said the Virginia law, on which the Ohio law would be based, has not been tested as to constitutionality.

CLOUD SAID he thought "there should be something done to protect the public on its utility services." He said he and Mechem were considering "something along this line" for the regular session next year.

Lausche announced the special session after a conference with legislative leaders, state officials and members of the Portsmouth Law and Order Committee.

His action stemmed from attempts to end a strike against Ohio Consolidated Telephone Co. The strike began last July 5.

Portsmouth and surrounding Scioto County on the Ohio River have been without telephone service since Oct. 16 when the company closed its exchanges there after rock-throwing incidents.

The striking Communications Workers of America has denied responsibility for strike violence.

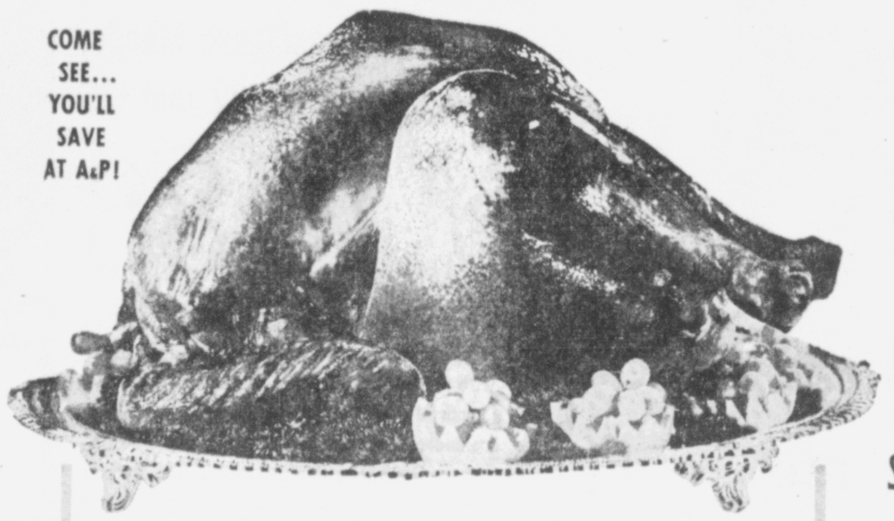

The union has agreed to submit to its members any offer made by the company covering all issues in dispute. A company spokesman said Ohio Consolidated would have no immediate comment on the idea.

O'Neill Says State To Use Business Management Ideas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Outlook for Ohio's state government:

More management and accounting practices borrowed from business.

More "belt-tightening" to make available funds stretch farther.

Fewer tax loop-holes, possibly fewer tax rebates.

New taxes? Maybe.

Those were the standout points Wednesday as Gov.-elect C. William O'Neill and a panel of legislative leaders discussed 1957 legislative prospects before the Ohio State Council of Retail Merchants.

Declared the Republican governor-elect:

"We are going to bring into government the same accounting and management practices as in business. . . it will take courage to resist the tremendous pressures for the expenditure of money. The level of expenditures is now closer to anticipated revenues than at any other time."

House Speaker Roger Cloud (R-Logan):

"Unless there are curtailments, we could reach the place where we would be spending more than we receive. The question of financing the services required in the state will be one of the big problems in the next session."

Cloud also pointed out it might be possible to avoid new taxes in the next session by eliminating stamps in applying the state sales tax. This could possibly add 10 million dollars a year to the state treasury.

He also spoke of increasing Ohio's corporate franchise tax from one to two-tenths of one per cent—another 10 million a year saving.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem (R-Athens), Senate majority leader, promised full cooperation with the new governor.

He said he had heard talk of proposed laws to ban trading stamps and for strict enforcement of Sunday closing laws. The Nelsonville shoe merchant added: "But retailers can rest assured that we will get a fair deal."

Senate Minority Leader Joseph W. Bartunek (D-Cuyahoga) said:

"I hope that we will meet our needs without new taxes, but I don't think so . . . . Before we enact new tax laws, we should examine the rebates."

Rep. A. G. Lancione (D-Belmont), a ranking House member, said state laws now require stores to close on Sundays, but are not enforced. He agreed with Bartunek that stores should be allowed to open on Sundays and added that present laws are so strict that, if enforced, 3.2 beer could not be sold on Sunday.

Lancione pointed to Ohio's growing bonded indebtedness, which will increase because of the Korean bonus approved last week, and commented: "It now costs more for interest to retire bonds than it did to run the state government a few years ago."

Schoolman Undaunted By $100,000 Pay Cut

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The annual town meeting cut School Superintendent Lewis G. Allbee's annual salary by $100,000, but Allbee was undisturbed.

In fact, it wasn't until some time after the meeting that he heard about the vote correcting a typographical error in the town report which listed his salary at $111,000.

Tokyo Celebrates 500th Birthday

U. S. Army's float, in one of the many anniversary parades, draws crowd of Tokyo folk.

By NORMAN SKLAREWITZ
(Central Press Association)

TOKYO, Japan — There's nothing the Japanese like better than a parade and this autumn they're getting them to their heart's delight. It's the 500th anniversary of Tokyo and the event is being celebrated by a gala round of processions, fire works displays and public events.

Americans here are getting in on the fun, too, as the local population dons medieval costumes as a colorful reminder of the city's early days providing exciting fare for camera fans.

Tokyo got its start in the Oriental world of 1456 as a small cluster of houses in the middle of a swamp. The biggest structure around then was a somewhat rundown castle built by Dokan Ota, a feudal Samurai chief who liked to write poetry.

Ota called the community Yedo (estuary). Years later, the site was taken over by Tokugawa Ieuasu, the lieutenant of a powerful warlord. He and his retainers occupied the quiet fishing village and by 1590 it became regional capital.

The land then was torn by battles between the various warlords but finally Tokugawa gained control and became Shogun of all Japan. He made Edo, or Yedo as it was known, capital of the nation and renamed it Tokyo—east capital. By this time it had a busy population of 100,000.

* * *

TODAY, Tokyo is the world's third largest city with a population of more than eight million persons. It has been hit by earthquakes and, during World War II, the United States Air Forces subjected it to great fire raids by B-29 bombers. Entire stretches of the city were turned into blackened ruins as flames from incendiary bombs swept through the flimsy wood and paper houses.

When the war ended, the city was down to less than 2½ million persons. The American occupation, though, proved to be more a blessing than a trial for Tokyoites. The United States military forces spent millions of dollars here and the Japanese were helped to regain their prewar importance in the Far East, thanks to American know - how and funds.

The Korean war made Japan the springboard for thousands of our troops and Tokyo became a military headquarters and rest center for battle - weary soldiers. All this activity also poured more U. S. dollars into the local economy.

* * *

VISITORS ARRIVING here by air and by boat find Tokyo of 1956 the largest city in the Orient. It's to Japan what New York City is to the United States—big, showy and not at all typical of the rest of the nation. Here live 10 per cent of the country's population in a wild and constantly expanding world of noise, color, confusion and crowds.

It's hopelessly overcrowded and yet the population continues to grow at a rate of 100,000 persons a year. The narrow, winding streets that suited the feudal residents of Old Edo hardly meet the requirements of a sprawling Twentieth Century city.

Yet, except for a few main boulevards, the city's narrow streets are choked with streams of bicycles, pedestrians, three - wheel trucks, hand carts and even an occasional rickshaw—and are only wide enough all told for a couple autos abreast.

With all these shortcomings, Tokyo still manages to prosper and is attracting more and more business and industries even though it really has no more room for either.

All of these civic shortcomings are being overlooked this fall, though, as thousands of Tokyoites turn out for the Grand Festival.

* * *

THE MAYORS of about 40 cities of the world responded to invitations to the quincentennial celebration. No United States mayors showed up but the manager of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Arnold Blackman, did come.

While Blackman certainly will not admit it, the Japanese capital probably has a lot in common with his own bustling city at the opposite end of the Pacific Ocean. The smog, the semi - insane drivers and fun - loving people should certainly remind him of home.

Just to prove that traffic jams aren't exclusive with California, Tokyo pulled a somewhat embarrassing boner the day of one of its giant celebrations. To accommodate the thousands of spectators the festival chairmen scheduled six different parades. Trouble arose, though, when they all somehow converged on the same spot—the downtown Ginza district.

It took two hours to untangle the gaily bedecked processions.

George Washington's political party was Federalist; neither Democratic or Republican.

In the San Francisco earthquake of 1906 there was a property loss of $350 million dollars.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Imagine a bull dozer so huge that it could bite into Fayette County and move most of the earth as it plowed down through the area.

That is just what happened when the great ice sheets came down over this section of Ohio many thousands of years ago, sweeping everything before them.

I know from reports of various well drillers in the county, that when the glaciers moved down from the north and northeast and covered Fayette County to a depth of many hundreds of feet (possibly 1,500) that it scooped out the earth or at least most of the earth, down to bedrock.

Well drillers have found time after time that there are glacial bounders in the earth down to bedrock, and have found sand and gravel, further unmistakable evidence of the earth having been moved by the big ice plow, clear down to bedrock.

There are tens of thousands of the glacial boulders, probably some weighing many tons, scattered over Fayette County, most of them being beneath the surface.

Some of those on the surface are up to three feet in diameter, but in all probability the big ones are buried deep beneath the surface.

When a well was drilled on what is now the Central School building grounds, (about where the west end of the stage of the auditorium is located), when Old Central building was standing, a glacial boulder was encountered at about 60 feet, and it was necessary to move the equipment several feet and drill another hole, as the drill would not cut through the big chunk of granite.

The deepest point at which a drill has ever struck a granite or glacial boulder in this area, is on the W. C. Vernon farm, where the edge of one was hit at 125 feet below the surface.

NEVER A CLEAN SLATE

Many years ago a general store and blacksmith shop were in operation at the intersection of the Chillicothe and Bogus Road, 2½ miles southeast of Washington C. H.

Ottice Stookey recalls hearing his father talk about the store, and Pearl Lemons remembers the store and blacksmith shop. John Kennedy was the blacksmith.

The name of the storekeeper could not be learned but my information is that he was "an old Dutchman" kept a slate and pencil hanging on the wall to record the names, dates and amount of those who obtained goods on credit.

If a customer asked for credit, the storekeeper would ask him to look on the slate. If the slate was full, no credit would be extended. If there was room for one or more names, credit was extended.

It seems so many people wanted goods on time that the old Dutchman never had a clean slate.

ELEPHANTS AND ELEPHANTS

Long before people started collecting glass, china, wood, ivory and other kinds of elephants, Mrs. Sallie Saums, who was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Parrett, owners of a great tract of land in Union, Jefferson and Paint townships, was making elephants out of fabric as a hobby.

That was 60 to 70 years ago, and Mrs. Saums lived in the house now occupied by Leonard C. Slager and family, on the Mrs. Harry Parrett farm, Jeffersonville Rd., near the intersection of the Jeffersonville and Hagler Station roads.

Mrs. Saums made the elephants out of various kinds of fabric, and stuffed them. One stood about 30 inches in height, and others were of various sizes.

She must have been artistic in her work, for the kids flocked to see her and enjoy the elephants in her collection.

Today the largest collection of elephants of all kinds (except the live ones) in the county, and possibly in the state insofar as I am aware, is owned by Mrs. Mabel Briggs, of Mark Rd.

She has about 350 in her herd.

For years Mrs. Briggs collected elephants from far and wide, and has them in wood, iron, glass, china, and various other materials, ranging up to one eight inches in height.

She even has some pink elephants, and admits that when she got to seeing elephants in her sleep, she stored most of them away and started collecting old glass and china.

* * *

PHEASANTS ABUNDANT

Apparently pheasants are abundant in some parts of the county this fall as the hunting season arrives.

Recently while driving within a few miles of this city, two cock pheasants flew across the highway in front of me, and I saw two others near the road.

During the past few months I have seen many of the birds near the highways, and once, on a single section of road, I saw three broods of young pheasants, with at least a dozen in each flock.

Schools Boost Sales

WEST POINT, Miss. (AP)—Supt. B. D. McCallister of West Point's city schools says a survey in Mississippi shows that retail sales are highe in cities with better schools.

All other factors being equal, he said, cities with better schools have up to 22 percent more retail business than those with poor schools. He said education increases individual productive capacity which in turn boosts living standards and purchasing power.

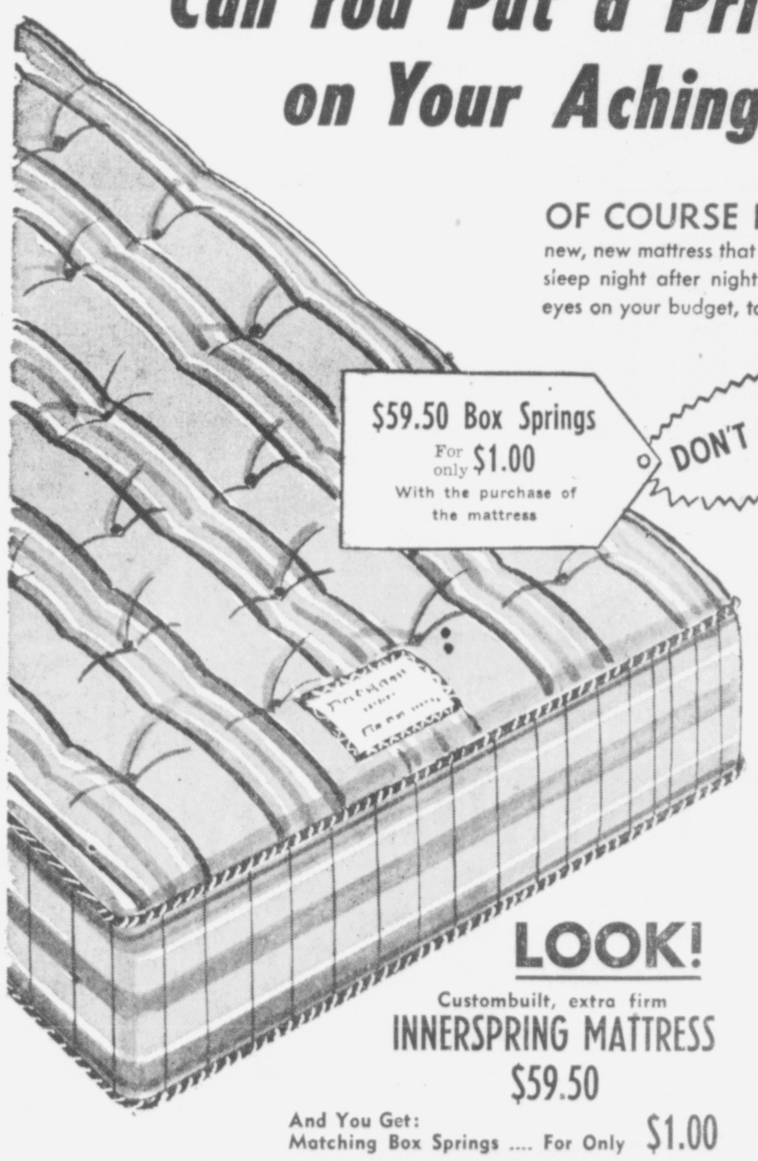

WILLIAM KOCH, 77, tries the ring on the finger of his fiancee, Mrs. Ervey Martin, 97, before their marriage in Albany, N. Y. A widow for 19 years, Mrs. Martin runs a rooming house. Koch is a tenant. Her son, three grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren attended the ceremony. (International Soundphoto)

MATTRESS SALE OF A LIFETIME!
2 FOR THE PRICE OF 1
Can You Put a Price Tag on Your Aching Back?

OF COURSE NOT! But here is a new, new, new mattress that is built to put you into a deep sleep night after night for years. And it's got both eyes on your budget, too.

COME IN AND SEE FOR YOURSELF

Don't mistake us; we're not selling doctors' prescriptions or magic cure-alls. This is just a mattress designed to give you a decent night's sleep. It doesn't shudder if you weigh in at two hundred pounds and it doesn't make like a board if you measure your heft in feathers. It's got 252 well-mannered coils that give in only where they have to . . . padded in all the right places with nature's really soft fiber — pure, new cotton with all the clean, fresh springiness no test tube padding could ever have.

And all of it is covered in a lovely eight-ounce woven striped ticking ordinarily found only on mattresses costing $50 or more. Hurry in for yours today.

Tokyo Celebrates 500th Birthday

U. S. Army's float, in one of the many anniversary parades, draws crowd of Tokyo folk.

By NORMAN SKLAREWITZ
(Central Press Association)

TOKYO, Japan — There's nothing the Japanese like better than a parade and this autumn they're getting them to their heart's delight. It's the 500th anniversary of Tokyo and the event is being celebrated by a gala round of processions, fire works displays and public events.

Americans here are getting in on the fun, too, as the local population dons medieval costumes as a colorful reminder of the city's early days providing exciting fare for camera fans.

Tokyo got its start in the Oriental world of 1456 as a small cluster of houses in the middle of a swamp. The biggest structure around then was a somewhat rundown castle built by Dokan Ota, a feudal Samurai chief who liked to write poetry.

Ota called the community Yedo (estuary). Years later, the site was taken over by Tokugawa Ieuasu, the lieutenant of a powerful warlord. He and his retainers occupied the quiet fishing village and by 1590 it became regional capital.

The land then was torn by battles between the various warlords but finally Tokugawa gained control and became Shogun of all Japan. He made Edo, or Yedo as it was known, capital of the nation and renamed it Tokyo—east capital. By this time it had a busy population of 100,000.

* * *

TODAY, Tokyo is the world's third largest city with a population of more than eight million persons. It has been hit by earthquakes and, during World War II, the United States Air Forces subjected it to great fire raids by B-29 bombers. Entire stretches of the city were turned into blackened ruins as flames from incendiary bombs swept through the flimsy wood and paper houses.

When the war ended, the city was down to less than 2½ million persons. The American occupation, though, proved to be more a blessing than a trial for Tokyoites. The United States military forces spent millions of dollars here and the Japanese were helped to regain their prewar importance in the Far East, thanks to American know - how and funds.

The Korean war made Japan the springboard for thousands of our troops and Tokyo became a military headquarters and rest center for battle - weary soldiers. All this activity also poured more U. S. dollars into the local economy.

* * *

VISITORS ARRIVING here by air and by boat find Tokyo of 1956 the largest city in the Orient. It's to Japan what New York City is to the United States—big, showy and not at all typical of the rest of the nation. Here live 10 per cent of the country's population in a wild and constantly expanding world of noise, color, confusion and crowds.

It's hopelessly overcrowded and yet the population continues to grow at a rate of 100,000 persons a year. The narrow, winding streets that suited the feudal residents of Old Edo hardly meet the requirements of a sprawling Twentieth Century city.

Yet, except for a few main boulevards, the city's narrow streets are choked with streams of bicycles, pedestrians, three - wheel trucks, hand carts and even an occasional rickshaw—and are only wide enough all told for a couple autos abreast.

With all these shortcomings, Tokyo still manages to prosper and is attracting more and more business and industries even though it really has no more room for either.

All of these civic shortcomings are being overlooked this fall, though, as thousands of Tokyoites turn out for the Grand Festival.

* * *

THE MAYORS of about 40 cities of the world responded to invitations to the quincentennial celebration. No United States mayors showed up but the manager of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, Arnold Blackman, did come.

While Blackman certainly will not admit it, the Japanese capital probably has a lot in common with his own bustling city at the opposite end of the Pacific Ocean. The smog, the semi - insane drivers and fun - loving people should certainly remind him of home.

Just to prove that traffic jams aren't exclusive with California, Tokyo pulled a somewhat embarrassing boner the day of one of its giant celebrations. To accommodate the thousands of spectators the festival chairmen scheduled six different parades. Trouble arose, though, when they all somehow converged on the same spot—the downtown Ginza district.

It took two hours to untangle the gaily bedecked processions.

George Washington's political party was Federalist; neither Democratic or Republican.

In the San Francisco earthquake of 1906 there was a property loss of $350 million dollars.

People . . . Places . . . and Things

Round about Fayette County

By B. E. KELLEY

Imagine a bull dozer so huge that it could bite into Fayette County and move most of the earth as it plowed down through the area.

That is just what happened when the great ice sheets came down over this section of Ohio many thousands of years ago, sweeping everything before them.

I know from reports of various well drillers in the county, that when the glaciers moved down from the north and northeast and covered Fayette County to a depth of many hundreds of feet (possibly 1,500) that it scooped out the earth or at least most of the earth, down to bedrock.

Well drillers have found time after time that there are glacial bounders in the earth down to bedrock, and have found sand and gravel, further unmistakable evidence of the earth having been moved by the big ice plow, clear down to bedrock.

There are tens of thousands of the glacial boulders, probably some weighing many tons, scattered over Fayette County, most of them being beneath the surface.

Some of those on the surface are up to three feet in diameter, but in all probability the big ones are buried deep beneath the surface.

When a well was drilled on what is now the Central School building grounds, (about where the west end of the stage of the auditorium is located), when Old Central building was standing, a glacial boulder was encountered at about 60 feet, and it was necessary to move the equipment several feet and drill another hole, as the drill would not cut through the big chunk of granite.

The deepest point at which a drill has ever struck a granite or glacial boulder in this area, is on the W. C. Vernon farm, where the edge of one was hit at 125 feet below the surface.

NEVER A CLEAN SLATE

Many years ago a general store and blacksmith shop were in operation at the intersection of the Chillicothe and Bogus Road, 2½ miles southeast of Washington C. H.

Ottice Stookey recalls hearing his father talk about the store, and Pearl Lemons remembers the store and blacksmith shop. John Kennedy was the blacksmith.

The name of the storekeeper could not be learned but my information is that he was "an old Dutchman" kept a slate and pencil hanging on the wall to record the names, dates and amount of those who obtained goods on credit.

If a customer asked for credit, the storekeeper would ask him to look on the slate. If the slate was full, no credit would be extended. If there was room for one or more names, credit was extended.

It seems so many people wanted goods on time that the old Dutchman never had a clean slate.

ELEPHANTS AND ELEPHANTS

Long before people started collecting glass, china, wood, ivory and other kinds of elephants, Mrs. Sallie Saums, who was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Parrett, owners of a great tract of land in Union, Jefferson and Paint townships, was making elephants out of fabric as a hobby.

That was 60 to 70 years ago, and Mrs. Saums lived in the house now occupied by Leonard C. Slager and family, on the Mrs. Harry Parrett farm, Jeffersonville Rd., near the intersection of the Jeffersonville and Hagler Station roads.

Mrs. Saums made the elephants out of various kinds of fabric, and stuffed them. One stood about 30 inches in height, and others were of various sizes.

She must have been artistic in her work, for the kids flocked to see her and enjoy the elephants in her collection.

Today the largest collection of elephants of all kinds (except the live ones) in the county, and possibly in the state insofar as I am aware, is owned by Mrs. Mabel Briggs, of Mark Rd.

She has about 350 in her herd.

For years Mrs. Briggs collected elephants from far and wide, and has them in wood, iron, glass, china, and various other materials, ranging up to one eight inches in height.

She even has some pink elephants, and admits that when she got to seeing elephants in her sleep, she stored most of them away and started collecting old glass and china.

* * *

PHEASANTS ABUNDANT

Apparently pheasants are abundant in some parts of the county this fall as the hunting season arrives.

Recently while driving within a few miles of this city, two cock pheasants flew across the highway in front of me, and I saw two others near the road.

During the past few months I have seen many of the birds near the highways, and once, on a single section of road, I saw three broods of young pheasants, with at least a dozen in each flock.

Big Boom in Salt

Everybody's heard of salt mines—but have you ever seen one? Here's interior of mine in Avery island.

By LEE HANCOCK

Last year Americans used up some 20 million tons of salt. Some of it was sprinkled on food and a lot of it was shoveled on icy streets. However, by far the largest amount, a whopping 13 million tons, went to the chemical industry.

Salt and its by-products now are used in the production of such diverse items as textiles, fertilizers, plastic shower curtains, synthetic rubber, and high octane gasoline.

Salt has 34 major chemical derivatives—and from salt in the brine comes chlorine, a workhorse in the chemical industry.

Much of the boom in the salt business has been due to the phenomenal growth of the pulp and detergent businesses. Pulp is the basic ingredient of newsprint, and detergents, as every housewife knows, have made vast inroads on the soap market. Both use some form of salt in large quantities.

Scientists still are a little hazy about where all the salt came from. After all, the stuff has been around for so long that exactly how it got there must necessarily belong to the realm of guesswork.

The currently accepted theory is that millions of years ago there were many bodies of water similar to our present Great Salt Lake. These ancient seas were trapped by chances in the earth's crust and gradually evaporated by the sun. Other geological changes eventually covered the salt.

However, rock salt will become plastic if subjected to enough pressure. In sections of the world, particularly in our own South, the pressure of the earth on the salt has been great enough to make it plastic.

• • •

WHENEVER this plastic salt has found a point of little resistance in the layers of earth about it, it has started rising toward the surface.

That is how it happens that we have dozens of salt domes in our Southern states around the Gulf of Mexico. In those same southern states we also have huge salt deposits still too far down for mining, perhaps as deep as five miles.

One of the world's biggest is fabulous Avery Island salt dome. Avery Island is on the Gulf of Mexico about 125 miles west of New Orleans.

Avery island incluses an amazing underground salt city with streets blasted out of solid salt nearly a quarter of a mile below ground. Machine shops and offices with salt walls and salt pillars holding up salt ceilings maintain a constant temperature of 63 degrees fahrenheit, an efficient and comfortable temperature for men at work.

• • •

ONE BIG salt-producing outfit is engaged in salt "farming," instead of mining, at its Saltair, Ut., plant. Situated on the Great Salt lake, the problem here is evaporation of water.

This is accomplished by pumping the water from the Great Salt Lake first into concentrating ponds, and finally into crystalizing ponds. The sun does much of the work and by September of each year a salt bed three to five inches thick is ready for harvest in each of the ponds.

While the production of salt for chemical and industrial use has skyrocketed, its use as a household staple has declined. Each American used to sprinkle seven pounds of salt on his food per year. Now he uses only five pounds.

The reason for the decline in household use is attributed to the housewife's growing preference for already-seasoned prepared foods.

Cattle, however, avid lovers of rock salt, have stepped up their use. Now the salt companies make special blocks of salt for them, with trace minerals added to increase the nutritional value.

New Cincinnati Bridge Studied

CINCINNATI (AP) — Officials of Ohio and Kentucky have agreed to hire a consultant firm to select a site for what would be a sixth bridge across the Ohio River to link Cincinnati with northern Kentucky cities.

There now are four bridges and plans already are underway to build a fifth bridge which would connect Cincinnati with Covington.

The sixth structure would be upstream and would connect Cincinnati with Newport.

Kentucky officials said they need a site selection for the Cincinnati-Newport bridge by Nov. 30 while Ohio wants the selection by Jan. 1.

Mother Sues City

CINCINNATI (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Young, whose son, Ronald Lee Chambers, drowned in Eden Park Reservoir a year ago, Wednesday sued the city of Cincinnati for $50,000 damages, claiming the city was negligent in failing to surround the reservoir with a fence.

Dairy Directors Getting Set for Brucellosis Test

Mobile Laboratory Due Here Tuesday; Contact Men Named

The Fayette County Dairy Directors Assn. has almost completed arrangements for the brucellosis testing laboratory which is coming here Tuesday. At their monthly meeting held in the Extension Office this week, the directors selected men to canvass the 10 townships in Fayette County to inform all the residents of the availability of the milk ring test.

The following assignments have been made: Frank Dill, Union; Joe Saville, Jasper; Lowell Hidy, Madison; Marvin Dement and Gerald Straley, Jefferson; Forrest Haines and Albert Caplinger, Perry; Donald Rife, Green; Robert Klever, Marion; Bill Kearney, Wayne and Rex Bloomer, Paint. Concord township has not been assigned a collector as yet.

These men will visit each farm in their township, beginning Tuesday, to give information concerning the free test. If the farmer decides to take the test, bottles for collecting the sample will be left and the collector will stop at a later time to make the pick-up.

The samples will be checked at the Trailer Lab which is to be located at the Fairgrounds.

• • •

IF THE MILK sample shows signs of the brucellosis bacteria, local veterinarians will take a blood test of the entire herd. This will definitely determine the presence of the reactor within the herd.

Donald Rife, president of the dairy directors, reported on the milk marketing hearing which he attended in Lebanon. Rife told of the discussion of the new milk marketing law which will go before the Ohio Legislature when it convenes next year.

Frank Dill and Marvin Dement were appointed members representing the dairy industry on the Emergency Disease Committee which is now being farmed in Fayette County. This committee, composed of representatives from the dairy, sheep, swine and beef industries, will function in case of an outbreak of the more unusual animal diseases.

Rex Bloomer reported on the Central Ohio Breeding Assn. meeting which he attended as representative from Fayette County.

Capitol Hill Last Resting Place For Senator Who Loved His Work

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(Central Press Association)

WASHINGTON — The history books do not record it, but 23 years ago today they buried Sen. Henry Clay Hansbrough of North Dakota in the dark of the night on Capitol Hill. No stone marks his grave, for his ashes were scattered over the ground beneath a tall and stately elm.

Only a few know where the senator's last remains mixed with the soil he loved so well, for only a small group attended the last rites.

They were carried out in secret under a mantle of darkness because the rules of Congress prohibit burials on Capitol Hill.

Sen. Hansbrough, a Republican, spent some of the happiest years of his life in the nation's capital, so much so that he didn't want to leave it even in death.

When North Dakota was admitted into the Union in 1889, he became the new state's first U. S. representative and as such served from Nov. 2 of that year until March 3, 1891. He then served in the Senate until March 3, 1909, when he was defeated for a fourth term.

• • •

IT WAS a saddened senator who returned in 1909 to Devils Lake, N. D., where he resumed his former business pursuits — but he longed to return to Washington. In 1927, having retired from business, he did so. He then was 79 years old.

During the remaining six years of his life, the aged ex-senator was a familiar figure in the halls of Congress. His tall, erect form often could be seen striding across the Capitol lawns.

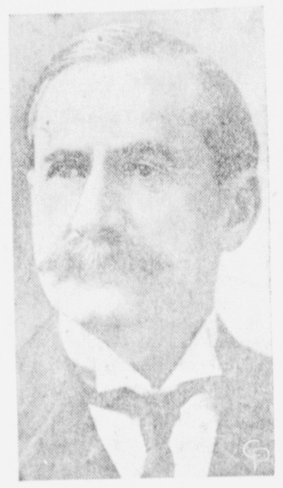

One day in October 1933 he broached to a friend in a senator's office a plan which had long been in his mind. "I want," he told his friend, "to remain always on Capitol Hill where I spent so many happy days and years. When I die, I want my body cremated and the ashes buried under that elm tree over there."

• • •

HANSBROUGH pointed through a window to a tall and imposing tree on the Capitol grounds. His friend demurred. He pointed out that the rules prohibited burials within the grounds of the Capitol, but the aged statesman pleaded and his friend finally gave in.

Less than a month later, as he neared his 86th birthday, Hansbrough died. His body was cremated at a nearby funeral home and the remains were delivered to the senator's friend in a shoe box.

That night, Nov. 16, 1933, the ashes were carried to the spot previously designated by the senator. The small group which attended the last rites included at least one member of Congress. A congressional aide whispered a simple prayer and the ashes then were sprinkled beneath the elm.

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Capitol Hill Last Resting Place For Senator Who Loved His Work

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(Central Press Association)

WASHINGTON — The history books do not record it, but 23 years ago today they buried Sen. Henry Clay Hansbrough of North Dakota in the dark of the night on Capitol Hill. No stone marks his grave, for his ashes were scattered over the ground beneath a tall and stately elm.

Only a few know where the senator's last remains mixed with the soil he loved so well, for only a small group attended the last rites.

They were carried out in secret under a mantle of darkness because the rules of Congress prohibit burials on Capitol Hill.

Sen. Hansbrough, a Republican, spent some of the happiest years of his life in the nation's capital, so much so that he didn't want to leave it even in death.

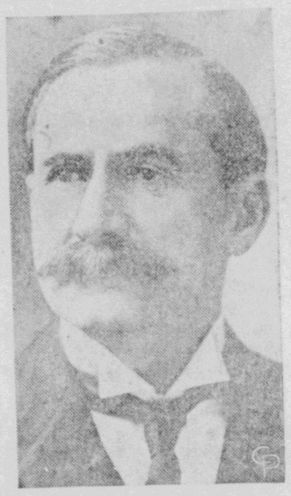

When North Dakota was admitted into the Union in 1889, he became the new state's first U. S. representative and as such served from Nov. 2 of that year until March 3, 1891. He then served in the Senate until March 3, 1909, when he was defeated for a fourth term.

• • •

IT WAS a saddened senator who returned in 1909 to Devils Lake, N. D., where he resumed his former business pursuits — but he longed to return to Washington. In 1927, having retired from business, he did so. He then was 79 years old.

During the remaining six years of his life, the aged ex-senator was a familiar figure in the halls of Congress. His tall, erect form often could be seen striding across the Capitol lawns.

One day in October 1933 he broached to a friend in a senator's office a plan which had long been in his mind. "I want," he told his friend, "to remain always on Capitol Hill where I spent so many happy days and years. When I die, I want my body cremated and the ashes buried under that elm tree over there."

Ex-Senator Hansbrough

• • •

HANSBROUGH pointed through a window to a tall and imposing tree on the Capitol grounds. His friend demurred. He pointed out that the rules prohibited burials within the grounds of the Capitol, but the aged statesman pleaded and his friend finally gave in.

Less than a month later, as he neared his 86th birthday, Hansbrough died. His body was cremated at a nearby funeral home and the remains were delivered to the senator's friend in a shoe box.

That night, Nov. 16, 1933, the ashes were carried to the spot previously designated by the senator. The small group which attended the last rites included at least one member of Congress. A congressional aide whispered a simple prayer and the ashes then were sprinkled beneath the elm.

Ohio GOP House Caucus Scheduled

COLUMBUS (AP)—Rep. Clifton L. Caryl (R-Union) has issued a call for Republicans in the Ohio House of Representatives to meet in caucus Dec. 3.

Caryl, ranking House member, said the caucus will select a speaker, (expected to be Rep. Roger Cloud, R-Logan), and other officers for the 102nd General Assembly which convene Jan. 7.

Rep. James J. McGettrick, (D-Cuyahoga), House minority leader, said he expected House Democrats would be called into caucus Dec. 4.

Aces on Losing Teams in Line For Honors

All-American Nod Seen Possible for Hornung, Dawson and Lundy

CHICAGO (AP) — The victor's spoils in football invariably include All-America honors, but the midwest has some solid contenders for such recognition laboring for buffeted teams.

For instance, take quarterback Paul Hornung of Notre Dame (1-6). Or Len Dawson, quarterback, and Lamar Lundy, end, of Purdue (2-3-2). Or tiny halfback Bob McKeiver of Northwestern (2-4-1). Or fleet halfback Abe Woodson of Illinois (2-4-1).

The midwest selection board for the AP's honor team has taken cognizance of Hornung's No. 2 ranking among the nation's total offense leaders with 1,102 yards on 164 plays.

"Hornung is not most of Notre Dame's football team, he is the Notre Dame team," said board member George Strickler of the Chicago Tribune.

Dawson, although he missed the Michigan State game last Saturday because of injury, also has statistical support with No. 1 ranking Big Ten passing and No. 8 in the nation.

The midwest board also appreciates the fact that Woodson, running for a losing team, is the nation's 10th best rusher with 601 yards on 108 carries.

Lundy was the standout defensive performer on the field last Saturday as Michigan State, the nation's No. 3 team in the AP poll, scraped a 12-9 victory over Purdue.

Mc Keiver, a 5 foot, 5, 160-pounder, is a wonder of the Big Ten. He has averaged almost 5 yards per try rushing, averaged 40 yards on 25 punts and does just about everything except sell programs during a game.

The top drawer teams in this area? of course, all have strong All-America contenders.

Still regarded the midwest's best football player is end Ron Kramer of Michigan. Not far behind is Ohio State's big guard, Jim Parker Iowa has quarterback Ken Pleen and tackle Alex Karras leading a balanced team.

Michigan State still highly regards halfback Clarence Peaks, although injury benched him after five games, and Spartan center Johnny Matsko is a fine player. Minnesota's agile tackle, Bob Hobert, can't be counted out.

When you get back to statistics, Ohio State has two surging backs hard to beat, Don Clark, sixth best rusher in the nation and Jim Roseboro, ninth best. And Purdue's ripping fullback, Mel Dillard, ranks No. 7.

The midwest board members include Strickler; Joe Falls, Detroit Times; John Harrington, Chicago WBBM, Gordy Graham, La Fayette, Ind., Journal Courier; Dick Cullum, Minneapolis Tribune; Si Burick, Dayton, Ohio, News; Gus Schrader, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Gazette; and Henry J. Mc Cormick, Wisconsin State Journal, Madison, Wis.

McLean, Wilson on All-Star Team; Seven Other Lions Win Mention

Two Washington High School football players were selected as members of South Central Ohio League all-star teams at the SCO Fall Meeting at Greenfield McClain High School Wednesday night.

Roger McLean, the Blue Lions' hard-driving halfback, and Jim Wilson, Washington's one - man defensive platoon, were chosen to the all-SCO squads. McLean was elected as offensive halfback, and Wilson made it as a defensive guard.

Seven other Blue Lions were given honorable mention for their play during the past season, with two of them, John Bainter and Kenny Evans, winning honors both for defense and offense. Honorable mention winners came close to being selected for the all-SCO teams.

The teams were selected by coaches from all five SCO schools.

* * *

THE MEETING got under way after a Thanksgiving turkey dinner with all the trimmings had been served to the approximately 35 guests - coaches, school officials, and newspapermen.

Representatives from Washington C. H. included Coaches Fred Domenico, Richard Filbin, Clyde Cramer, and Herb Russell, Principal John Trace, Superintendent W. A. Smith, clerk - treasurer Fred Rost, and Arthur Engle, faculty ticket manager.

In a routine manner, Wilmington was declared the official football champions of the SCO League for 1956. Circleville and Wilmington were declared baseball champions, and Hillsboro received the honors for track.

C. E Booher, Greenfield principal, chaired the meeting.

These are the all-SCO teams chosen:

Mantle Gains Most Valuable Player Award

NEW YORK (AP)—If Mickey Mantle needs any ammunition for his $50,000 salary bid, he can point to his unanimous election as Most Valuable Player in the American League.

Only once before has a player placed first on the ballots of all 24 members of the Baseball Writers Assn. selection committee, three from each league city. Al Rosen of Cleveland did it in 1953.

Mantle's selection was a foregone conclusion when he swept the triple batting crown with a .353 average, 130 runs batted in and 52 home runs.

Actually the 25-year-old New York Yankee center fielder won the "triple crown" of the majors. His marks were higher than corresponding figures in the National. The ast to lead both leagues in all three divisions was Ted Williams of Boston in 1942.

It was Mantle's first MVP award in the greatest of his six seasons at Yankee Stadium. In addition to his three big victories, Mantle topped both leagues in runs scored, 132, and slugging percentage, .705.

A threat to Babe Ruth's all-time homer record of 60 set in 1927, Mantle finally lost out due to a slump in September.

Mantle's sweep and the solid second-place vote for teammate Yogi Berra emphasized again the ease with which the Yanks won the pennant.

Data Given On OSU-Iowa Grid Outfits

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio State aims its league-leading attacking force Saturday against Iowa, one of the Big Ten's defensive leaders, with a share of the football title and assurance of the Rose Bowl trip at stake for the Hawkeyes.

Official conference statistics today show how the teams line up on paper for the important showdown at Iowa City.

The Buckeyes, who set a new one-game record for rushing with 465 yards against Indiana last week, boosted their average to 228½ yards per game, 308 of them on the ground.

Next to Ohio State in rushing is Illinois with a 239.2 average.

Second to the Buckeyes in total offense is Michigan State with 323.8. The Spartans have averaged 225 rushing, 98.8 via air.

A feature of the Buckeye attack is an average of 4.9 yards for every rushing play. They have averaged 62.5 ground plays per game, a Big Ten record pace topping the mark of 61.5 by Ohio State in 1944.

Statistically, Iowa is one of the best equipped teams in the conference to check the Buckeyes' bid for an 18th straight Big Ten victory and an unprecedented third successive undisputed title. The Hawkeyes have been particularly rugged against a running game, giving up only 144.5 yards a game. Purdue is No. 1 in this respect with a yield of 109.4.

OSU-Michigan Tilt Due on Television

COLUMBUS (AP)—Television station WLW-C in Columbus will televise the Ohio State-Michigan football game here Nov. 24.

The game, an 82,600 sellout, also will be carried by WOSU-TV, the Ohio State University station.

NCAA Cleanup Lists 3 Points Against Bucks

DETROIT (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. says probation status for all Ohio State University athletic teams was based on a three-count finding:

1. Emergency loans and gifts to football players.

2. Irregularities in the work program for football players.

3. The offer of the head basketball coach of aid to a prospect.

A Columbus newspaper said: "The athlete involved (in the basketball case) is believed to have been Mike Allen, celebrated all-Ohio center from New Lexington, who quit the Bucks for the University of Dayton last winter. The NCAA charge had nothing to do with the flareup between OSU's Coach Floyd Stahl and Dayton's Tom Blackburn over Allen's transfer."

Jeff FHA Group To Sell Refreshments at Games

The Jeffersonville Future Homemakers of America is making plans to sell hot dogs and ice cream at basketball games.

Beverly Sears and Sharon Smith were chosen at a meeting this week to plan the FHA program for the year. The FHA also will sell slippers at the Jeffersonville Soc Hop Friday.

In Johnny Kucks' only World Series start he blanked the Dodgers, 9-0, winning the 1956 Series for the Yankees.

Title Bout Sought For Kenny Lane

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jack Kearns is beating the drums for an early lightweight title bout for his boy Kenny Lane, and the crafty old manager said he had $75,000 in cash with which to lure the champion, Joe Brown.

"This showed Lane is championship caliber," Kearns said last night afterhis battler from Muskegon, Mich., had taken aunanimous decision over Frankie Ryff.

Lane, the No. 5 lightweight contender in the Ring magazine ratings, stung Ryff with solid southpaw blows to the head and body and was in command all the way.

Jeffcoat Signs New Redleg Pact

CINCINNATI (AP)—Hal Jeffcoat, called "one of the best pitchers in the league in the last half of the 1956 season" by General Manager Gabe Paul, today signed his 1957 contract with the Redlegs.

It wasn't disclosed whether Jeffcoat got a raise in pay as a result of his late-season showing but he said, "They were very generous with me."

Jeffcoat, a former outfielder, was acquired from the Chicago Cubs after the 1955 season. He was used largely in relief until after the midseason mark when Manager Birdie Tebbets began giving him regular starts.

Football Fan Dies As Son Scores TD

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Death tapped R. W. Vollmer as he sat in the stands rooting for his 14-year-old son, a junior high halfback, to make a touchdown. Vollmer, 49, an avid football fan, was stricken seconds before halfback Russell Vollmer plunged over for the score.

A heart attack brought death to the elder Vollmer.

SPORTS

All County Teams In Action Friday

All four Fayette County teams, with but two victories among them, will be in action Friday night, trying to improve their records.

Madison Mills and Jeffersonville, each with a 1-1 record, have the most to show for their endeavors. Madison Mills goes to Fairfield for its game, while the Jeffs play host to Atlanta.

One intra-county game in on tap as the Mad Anthonys of Wayne High School make the short trip to Bloomingburg to tangle with the Bulldogs. Both teams will be looking for their first win, each having dropped two games.

Swap's Broken Leg Healing OK

CHINO, Calif. (AP)—Rex Ellsworth says Swaps' broken leg is healing satisfactorily but that it is too soon to tell whether he'll ever race again.

Swaps, holder of four world records and co-holder of a fifth, was injured during a workout Oct. 9 at Garden State Park, New Jersey. He is still confined there but co-owner Ellsworth says he plans to bring the 4-year-old California colt home "as soon as possible."

Oregon Tackle Is Top Lineman

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — John Witte, who at 232 pounds can run faster than some ball-carriers, is the Associated Press "Lineman of the Week."

If you haven't yet seen Witte in action, you may on New Year's Day in the Rose Bowl game.

For it was Witte's play in the crucial game against Stanford last week that gave Oregon State the inside track to the Bowl.

A 6-foot, 2-inch tackle from Klamath Falls, Ore., he opened the holes that made it possible for Oregon State to overcome a two-touchdown deficit and nose out Stanford, 20-19.

Michigan State's 1957 football schedule lists home game with Indiana, Pudue, Illinois, Notre Dame, Minnesota and Kansas State.

Aces on Losing Teams in Line For Honors

All-American Nod Seen Possible for Hornung, Dawson and Lundy

CHICAGO (AP) — The victor's spoils in football invariably include All-America honors, but the midwest has some solid contenders for such recognition laboring for buffeted teams.

For instance, take quarterback Paul Hornung of Notre Dame (1-6). Or Len Dawson, quarterback, and Lamar Lundy, end, of Purdue (2-3-2). Or tiny halfback Bob McKeiver of Northwestern (2-4-1). Or fleet halfback Abe Woodson of Illinois (2-4-1).

The midwest selection board for the AP's honor team has taken cognizance of Hornung's No. 2 ranking among the nation's total offense leaders with 1,102 yards on 164 plays.

"Hornung is not most of Notre Dame's football team, he is the Notre Dame team," said board member George Strickler of the Chicago Tribune.

Dawson, although he missed the Michigan State game last Saturday because of injury, also has statistical support with No. 1 ranking Big Ten passing and No. 8 in the nation.

The midwest board also appreciates the fact that Woodson, running for a losing team, is the nation's 10th best rusher with 601 yards on 108 carries.

Lundy was the standout defensive performer on the field last Saturday as Michigan State, the nation's No. 3 team in the AP poll, scraped a 12-9 victory over Purdue.

Mc Keiver, a 5 foot, 5, 160-pounder, is a wonder of the Big Ten. He has averaged almost 5-yards per try rushing, averaged 40 yards on 25 punts and does just about everything except sell programs during a game.

The top drawer teams in this area? of course, all have strong All-America contenders.

Still regarded the midwest's best football player is end Ron Kramer of Michigan. Not far behind is Ohio State's big guard, Jim Parker Iowa has quarterback Ken Pleen and tackle Alex Karras leading a balanced team.

Michigan State still highly regards halfback Clarence Peaks, although injury benched him after five games, and Spartan center Johnny Matsko is a fine player. Minnesota's agile tackle, Bob Hobert, can't be counted out.

When you get back to statistics, Ohio State has two surging backs hard to beat, Don Clark, sixth best rusher in the nation and Jim Roseboro, ninth best. And Purdue's ripping fullback, Mel Dillard, ranks No. 7.

The midwest board members include Strickler; Joe Falls, Detroit Times; John Harrington, Chicago WBBM, Gordy Graham, La Fayette, Ind., Journal Courier; Dick Cullum, Minneapolis Tribune; Si Burick, Dayton, Ohio, News; Gus Schrader, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Gazette; and Henry J. Mc Cormick, Wisconsin State Journal, Madison, Wis.

McLean, Wilson on All-Star Team; Seven Other Lions Win Mention

Two Washington High School football players were selected as members of South Central Ohio League all-star teams at the SCO Fall Meeting at Greenfield McClain High School Wednesday night.

Roger McLean, the Blue Lions' hard-driving halfback, and Jim Wilson, Washington's one - man defensive platoon, were chosen to the all-SCO squads. McLean was elected as offensive halfback, and Wilson made it as a defensive guard.

Seven other Blue Lions were given honorable mention for their play during the past season, with two of them, John Bainter and Kenny Evans, winning honors both for defense and offense. Honorable mention winners came close to being selected for the all-SCO teams.

The teams were selected by coaches from all five SCO schools.

* * *

THE MEETING got under way after a Thanksgiving turkey dinner with all the trimmings had been served to the approximately 35 guests - coaches, school officials, and newspapermen.

Representatives from Washington C. H. included Coaches Fred Domenico, Richard Filbin, Clyde Cramer, and Herb Russell, Principal John Trace, Superintendent W. A. Smith, clerk - treasurer Fred Rost, and Arthur Engle, faculty ticket manager.

In a routine manner, Wilmington was declared the official football champions of the SCO League for 1956. Circleville and Wilmington were declared baseball champions, and Hillsboro received the honors for track.

C. E Booher, Greenfield principal, chaired the meeting.

These are the all-SCO teams chosen:

Mantle Gains Most Valuable Player Award

NEW YORK (AP)—If Mickey Mantle needs any ammunition for his $50,000 salary bid, he can point to his unanimous election as Most Valuable Player in the American League.

Only once before has a player placed first on the ballots of all 24 members of the Baseball Writers Assn. selection committee, three from each league city. Al Rosen of Cleveland did it in 1953.

Mantle's selection was a foregone conclusion when he swept the triple batting crown with a .353 average, 130 runs batted in and 52 home runs.

Actually the 25-year-old New York Yankee center fielder won the "triple crown" of the majors. His marks were higher than corresponding figures in the National. The ast to lead both leagues in all three divisions was Ted Williams of Boston in 1942.

It was Mantle's first MVP award in the greatest of his six seasons at Yankee Stadium. In addition to his three big victories, Mantle topped both leagues in runs scored, 132, and slugging percentage, .705.

A threat to Babe Ruth's all-time homer record of 60 set in 1927, Mantle finally lost out due to a slump in September.

Mantle's sweep and the solid second-place vote for teammate Yogi Berra emphasized again the ease with which the Yanks won the pennant.

Data Given On OSU-Iowa Grid Outfits

CHICAGO (AP) — Ohio State aims its league-leading attacking force Saturday against Iowa, one of the Big Ten's defensive leaders, with a share of the football title and assurance of the Rose Bowl trip at stake for the Hawkeyes.

Official conference statistics today show how the teams line up on paper for the important showdown at Iowa City.

The Buckeyes, who set a new one-game record for rushing with 465 yards against Indiana last week, boosted their average to 328½ yards per game, 308 of them on the ground.

Next to Ohio State in rushing is Illinois with a 239.2 average.

Second to the Buckeyes in total offense is Michigan State with 323.8. The Spartans have averaged 225 rushing, 98.8 via air.

A feature of the Buckeye attack is an average of 4.9 yards for every rushing play. They have averaged 62.5 ground plays per game, a Big Ten record pace topping the mark of 61.5 by Ohio State in 1944.

Statistically, Iowa is one of the best equipped teams in the conference to check the Buckeyes' bid for an 18th straight Big Ten victory and an unprecedented third successive undisputed title. The Hawkeyes have been particularly rugged against a running game, giving up only 144.5 yards a game. Purdue is No. 1 in this respect with a yield of 109.4.

OSU-Michigan Tilt Due on Television

COLUMBUS (AP)—Television station WLW-C in Columbus will televise the Ohio State-Michigan football game here Nov. 24.

The game, an 82,600 sellout, also will be carried by WOSU-TV, the Ohio State University station.

Title Bout Sought For Kenny Lane

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Jack Kearns is beating the drums for an early lightweight title bout for his boy Kenny Lane, and the crafty old manager said he had $75,000 in cash with which to lure the champion, Joe Brown.

"This showed Lane is championship caliber," Kearns said last night afterhis battler from Muskegon, Mich., had taken aunanimous decision over Frankie Ryff.

Lane, the No. 5 lightweight contender in the Ring magazine ratings, stung Ryff with solid southpaw blows to the head and body and was in command all the way.

Jeffcoat Signs New Redleg Pact

CINCINNATI (AP)—Hal Jeffcoat, called "one of the best pitchers in the league in the last half of the 1956 season" by General Manager Gabe Paul, today signed his 1957 contract with the Redlegs.

It wasn't disclosed whether Jeffcoat got a raise in pay as a result of his late-season showing but he said, "They were very generous with me."

Jeffcoat, a former outfielder, was acquired from the Chicago Cubs after the 1955 season. He was used largely in relief until after the midseason mark when Manager Birdie Tebbets began giving him regular starts.

Football Fan Dies As Son Scores TD

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Death tapped R. W. Vollmer as he sat in the stands rooting for his 14-year-old son, a junior high halfback, to make a touchdown. Vollmer, 49, an avid football fan, was stricken seconds before halfback Russell Vollmer plunged over for the score.

A heart attack brought death to the elder Vollmer.

NCAA Cleanup Lists 3 Points Against Bucks

DETROIT (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic Assn. says probation status for all Ohio State University athletic teams was based on a three-count finding:

1. Emergency loans and gifts to football players.
2. Irregularities in the work program for football players.
3. The offer of the head basketball coach of aid to a prospect.

A Columbus newspaper said: "The athlete involved (in the basketball case) is believed to have been Mike Allen, celebrated all-Ohio center from New Lexington, who quit the Bucks for the University of Dayton last winter. The NCAA charge had nothing to do with the flareup between OSU's Coach Floyd Stahl and Dayton's Tom Blackburn over Allen's transfer."

Jeff FHA Group To Sell Refreshments at Games

The Jeffersonville Future Homemakers of America is making plans to sell hot dogs and ice cream at basketball games.

Beverly Sears and Sharon Smith were chosen at a meeting this week to plan the FHA program for the year. The FHA also will sell slippers at the Jeffersonville Soc Hop Friday.

In Johnny Kucks' only World Series start he blanked the Dodgers, 9-0, winning the 1956 Series for the Yankees.

SPORTS

All County Teams In Action Friday

All four Fayette County teams, with but two victories among them, will be in action Friday night, trying to improve their records.

Madison Mills and Jeffersonville, each with a 1-1 record, have the most to show for their endeavors. Madison Mills goes to Fairfield for its game, while the Jeffs play host to Atlanta.

One intra-county game in on tap as the Mad Anthonys of Wayne High School make the short trip to Ploomingburg to tangle with the Bulldogs. Both teams will be looking for their first win, each having dropped two games.

Swap's Broken Leg Healing OK

CHINO, Calif. (AP)—Rex Ellsworth says Swaps' broken leg is healing satisfactorily but that it is too soon to tell whether he'll ever race again.

Swaps, holder of four world records and co-holder of a fifth, was injured during a workout Oct. 9 at Garden State Park, New Jersey. He is still confined there but co-owner Ellsworth says he plans to bring the 4-year-old California colt home "as soon as possible."

Oregon Tackle Is Top Lineman

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — John Witte, who at 232 pounds can run faster than some ball-carriers, is the Associated Press "Lineman of the Week."

If you haven't yet seen Witte in action, you may on New Year's Day in the Rose Bowl game.

For it was Witte's play in the crucial game against Stanford last week that gave Oregon State the inside track to the Bowl.

A 6-foot, 2-inch tackle from Klamath Falls, Ore., he opened the holes that made it possible for Oregon State to overcome a two-touchdown deficit and nose out Stanford, 20-19.

Michigan State's 1957 football schedule lists home game with Indiana, Pudue, Illinois, Notre Dame, Minnesota and Kansas State.

Street Names Getting Longer

CHICAGO (AP)—Street names are getting longer.

A survey of 971 typical street names has been made to determine what is happening to street signs and their designs.

Today's average street name has almost seven letters, but the average is held down by such old-time favorites as Oak, King, Queen, Walter, River, High, East, West, North and South.

The higher average is due to the suburbanite's desire for a quaint or exclusive sounding street like Wyldhaven, Frost Woods, Briar Cliff, Trestle and Magnolia.

Street Names Getting Longer

CHICAGO (AP)—Street names are getting longer.

A survey of 971 typical street names has been made to determine what is happening to street signs and their designs.

Today's average street name has almost seven letters, but the average is held down by such old-time favorites as Oak, King, Queen, Walter, River, High, East, West, North and South.

The higher average is due to the suburbanite's desire for a quaint or exclusive sounding street like Wyldhaven, Frost Woods, Briar Cliff, Trestle and Magnolia.

Ike, Mamie Hear From Ike, Mamie

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP)—Ike and Mamie recently celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary at nearby Harper Heights — Ike and Mamie Alderman, that is.

President Eisenhower wrote Ike and his wife, Mamie:

"I am honored to share with you both birthday and nickname as well as the fact that we were both fortunate enough to marry Mamies. Mrs. Eisenhower joins me in best wishes to you both. . ."

Alderman, a retired railroader, farmer and coal miner, also has the same birth date as the President.

Auto Suggestion?

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Two Little Rock motorists driving black 1951 and 1952 model cars of the same make were involved in a minor collision here.

Police said that in the excitement that followed Mike Wright drove off in the car belongong to Leon Huey. Later both returned to the wreck scene to swap cars.

ALAN WINSLOW of Jamaica Plain, Mass., isn't holding himself up by the broom. It's just to show how small he is. The real story is that Alan can stand up and he's only 3 months old. (International)

Ike, Mamie Hear From Ike, Mamie

BECKLEY, W. Va. (AP)—Ike and Mamie recently celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary at nearby Harper Heights — Ike and Mamie Alderman, that is.

President Eisenhower wrote Ike and his wife, Mamie:

"I am honored to share with you both birthday and nickname as well as the fact that we were both fortunate enough to marry Mamies. Mrs. Eisenhower joins me in best wishes to you both. . ."

Alderman, a retired railroader, farmer and coal miner, also has the same birth date as the President.

Auto Suggestion?

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Two Little Rock motorists driving black 1951 and 1952 model cars of the same make were involved in a minor collision here.

Police said that in the excitement that followed Mike Wright drove off in the car belongong to Leon Huey. Later both returned to the wreck scene to swap cars.

For Men Only

CARGONDALE, Ill. (AP)—Dr. Eileen Quigley, home economics department chairman, has launched a new class for men only.

It teaches future husbands and fathers the finer points of food selection, table etiquette, grooming, clothing selection and family relations.

NOTICE

The Board of Trustees of Jasper Township, Fayette County, Ohio, have filed their petition with the Court of Common Pleas of Fayette County, Ohio, for authority to transfer funds in the amount of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars from the General Fund to the Road and Bridge Fund of said Township. Said transfer is for the purpose of providing funds to meet obligations incurred in the improvement of township roads, said expenditures being payable out of said Road and Bridge Fund.

Said matter will be for hearing in the Court of Common Pleas, Fayette County, Ohio, on the 30th day of November, 1956, at 10:00 o'clock a. m., and any persons objecting to said transfer of funds are required to file their objections to same on or before the time set for hearing.

New Regulations Cover Filing of Election Expense

Board Must Have Accountings by 4 p. m. on Dec. 6

With the general election out of the way, candidates and committees still have before them the important duty of making a financial accounting for their campaign activities.

There have been changes in the law which give all those, win or lose, who are obligated to file, more time to prepare their statements. They have a 30-day period instead of the former 10 days to carry out this legal order.

The clerk of the Fayette County Board of Elections says that the time limit for filing accounts for the election of Nov. 6, is to be Thursday, Dec. 6, not later than 4 p. m.

One other thing called to the public's attention is that not only candidates and committees must file statements, but the law also requires any person, organization or group which spent any money for or against any issue or candidate also must file an accounting.

* * *

IN FURTHER explanation of the new law, Secretary of State Ted Brown has issued a statement which in part, says:

The statute (Revised Code 3517.-10) was also amended to provide that only payments in excess of $25 (rather than all in excess of $10, as formerly) need be vouched for by a receited bill, filed with the statement of expenditures. These changes were made in order to obtain a statute with which it is reasonably possible to comply.

Another change was also made which places a greater penalty on the failure to file. Under the former statute the only penalty for the failure to file, other than a criminal prosecution, was the prohibition against the boards issuing a certificate of nomination or election. This had the effect of forcing the successful candidates to file but provided no penalty which the boards could impose against the unsuccessful candidates.

"Revised Code Section 3517.11 now provides that the failure of any candidate to file a statement of expenditures shall disqualify him from becoming a candidate again for a period of five years. It should be noted that the Eighth District Court of Appeals has ruled that the filing of such a statement of expenditures by a candidate for office is mandatory but the time within which it is to be filed, is merely directory."

DIVORCE SUIT FILED

Shirley Joyce Lloyd, Washington C. H., a minor represented by her mother, Anna Lois Rummans, has filed suit for divorce from Harold Vernon Lloyd, Brookville, in Common Pleas Court here on grounds of gross neglect and cruelty. She also asks alimony, restoration to her maiden name and $100 for an automobile which she alleges she turned over to the defendant and which she claims he sold and kept the proceeds. They were married March 3, 1956, and have no children.

DIVORCE GRANTED

Robert Beedy has been granted a divorce in Common Pleas Court from Ruth Beedy on a cross-petition charging cruelty and neglect. He was awarded custody of their three children, 6, 5 and 3 years old, and Mrs. Beedy is to have the household goods, providing she assumes the mortgage indebtedness on them. He is pay court costs of $63.65 and attorney fees of $100.

Ohio A-Plant Chief Gets Medal, Cash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manager Kenneth A. Dunbar of the billion dollar atomic plant in southern Ohio Wednesday received a $500 award and a silver medal for "outstanding service" with the Atomic Energy Commission.

Dunbar was credited by the AEC with demonstrating "unusual administrative and technical competence" in bringing the Portsmouth plant into operation ahead of schedule and below official estimates of cost.

The AEC sent Dunbar to Ohio from Paducah, Ky., to head the huge plant when construction started in August of 1952. He had held a similar job at the Paducah atomic installation.

There are now more than 70 million licensed drivers of motor vehicles in the United States.

Stock in Development Corporation Will Be Offered To Public Soon

Stock in the proposed new Washington C. H. Development Corp. is to be offered to the public in the immediate future, possibly within a week or two.

This was revealed Thursday by Tom Murray, chairman of the committee that developed the plan during an eight-month investigation of similar organizations in other cities.

Other members of the committee are Ben Norris, Don E. Wood, Perse Harlow and George Baker.

The committee was appointed by the Industrial Development Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, which later voted an appropriation of up to $1,000 to take care of the preliminary organizational expenses.

However, the Development Corp. is to be a separate and distinct organization—a $200,000 corporation for profit, chartered by the state.

* * *

WHEN AND IF the stock is sold, the present organizing committee is to be dissolved and the shareholders in the corporation will elect a board of directors and officers to direct its activities and administer the funds.

The stock certificates are now being printed and as soon as they are received, they will be offered to investors.

A prospectus has been prepared by the committee to answer the basic questions.

It follows in full:

* * *

1. THE PURPOSE is to promote the economic growth and stability of the community by attracting new industries, thereby creating more jobs, more payrolls, more prosperity and more progress in Washington C. H. and Fayette County.

2. The entire community will be benefited by the increased prosperity and the resultant progress. Furthermore, wider diversification in industry, experience of other cities shows, creates an economic buffer against the reversal of any one type of industry.

3. The stock in the new corporation will be sold to individuals, firms and corporations of the community.

4. It has been elected that 8,000 shares of par value stock be issued at $25.00 per share, for a total of $200,000.

5. Shareholders may own one and not more than 200 shares. This limitation of 200 shares for any one holder is made in order that a wide distribution of the stock may be attained.

6. Subscription blanks for shares will be issued providing for cash and-or monthly payments. Shares are issuable only when payments are received in $25 multibies.

* * *

7. MONIES may be used for the purchase of lands to be developed into an industrial park or to construct or aid in the construction of general purpose plants. Financial aid may be extended to industries for improvement or expansion of facilities when additional employment can be attained by same. There will be no donations. Money will be loaned on an interest basis secured by mortgages, and the profits of the corporation will be distributed to the stockholders as dividends.

8. The board of directors, which will be elected by the stockholders, will make the final decision after thorough investigation of the company.

9. When a minimum of $50,000 in stock subscriptions is reached, the plan will become operative.

10. The funds will be administered by a board of directors to serve without pay.

11. In Danville, Ill., in 17 years of operation, 17 industries were attracted from the period of 1934 - 1951 by a similar plan. As soon as the Danville corporation had its money returned from one newly acquired industry, it then set out and sought other prospects and, thus, was able to turn the initial capital over several times.

12. The life of the corporation will be for the period of 15 years and the charter will provide for the liquidation of its assets at the end of this period. The monies realize from the liquidation will be distributed to stockholders.

* * *

13. THE DEVELOPMENT corporation will be a separate organization with its own officers and directors selected from its own stockholders. The Chamber of Commerce is merely assisting in its formation in an answer to a community need.

14. The corporation should assist present industries in many ways. Officers and directors of the corporation will be seeking to locate new firms here that furnish items used by present plants in their production. Closer sources of production items will help local plants to reduce production costs and, thus, be stronger competitively.

15. It is an investment in the community. At Danville, Ill., the development corporation paid a 3 per cent dividend each year, and upon liquidation at the end of 15 years all stock holders received the total amount of their original investment, plus a dividend of 22 per cent! Meanwhile, payrolls in that city jumped from $3,222,000 to $23,788,000.

'Pony Football' Plan Reviewed By Boosters

The Boosters Club has laid the groundwork for the possible expansion of football to include boys in the fifth and sixth grades.

First steps toward the introduction of what is described as "pony football" into the Washington C. H. elementary schools were taken by the club at its meeting in the Legion Hall Wednesday night.

In general, the plan calls for the organization of a "pony" league, either by schools or prescribed areas. Games probably would be played on Saturday afternoons.

No meeting of the club has been scheduled for next week; the annual football banquet for the Lions Monday night in Legion Hall takes the place of that.

But, the following week the pony football idea is to be taken up more seriously. This meeting is to be held in the fieldhouse at Gardner Park with the parents of boys of eligible age invited to come and learn more about the plan and express their views on it.

While discussion of "pony football" and the coming football banquet occupied most of the meeting, motion pictures of the last game of the season for the Lions, in which they trounced Circleville's Tigers here, were shown.

Farmers Ask Ike To Dismiss Benson

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — The National Farmers Organization Wednesday adopted a resolution asking President Eisenhower not to keep Ezra Taft Benson in his Cabinet as secretary of agriculture during his second term.

The NFO claims a membership of about 180,000 in Midwestern states. It's annual convention closed Wednesday.

The resolution said Benson had shown "a callous disregard for the economic distress of the American farmer."

Japanese Diver Helped by Yanks

SASEBO, Japan (AP)—Yoshio Oyama, a Japanese diver who had been living in and out of the sea for eight days with a severe case of the bends, was released today from an American ship's decompression chamber.

Doctors said he was improved but it was too early to determine final results.

FITTED COAT in gray, black and brown shadow plaid "hairy" wool is from Anthony Blotta's fall and winter collection. Unpressed pleats set into a back yoke are caught into the waistline in back. A narrow black leather belt, attached at the double-breasted front, circles the waist.

Recount Sought

EL CENTRO, Calif. (AP)—A recount requested by his opponent, aviatrix Jacqueline Cochran Odlum, today left Democratic Judge Dalip Singh Saund unofficial winner in the race for California's 29th Congressional Dist. He still had a margin of nearly 4,000.

New Regulations Cover Filing of Election Expense

Board Must Have Accountings by 4 p. m. on Dec. 6

With the general election out of the way, candidates and committees still have before them the important duty of making a financial accounting for their campaign activities.

There have been changes in the law which give all those, win or lose, who are obligated to file, more time to prepare their statements. They have a 30-day period instead of the former 10 days to carry out this legal order.

The clerk of the Fayette County Board of Elections says that the time limit for filing accounts for the election of Nov. 6, is to be Thursday, Dec. 6, not later than 4 p. m.

One other thing called to the public's attention is that not only candidates and committees must file statements, but the law also requires any person, organization or group which spent any money for or against any issue or candidate also must file an accounting.

* * *

IN FURTHER explanation of the new law, Secretary of State Ted Brown has issued a statement which in part, says:

The statute (Revised Code 3517.-10) was also amended to provide that only payments in excess of $25 (rather than all in excess of $10, as formerly) need be vouched for by a receited bill, filed with the statement of expenditures. These changes were made in order to obtain a statute with which it is reasonably possible to comply.

Another change was also made which places a greater penalty on the failure to file. Under the former statute the only penalty for the failure to file, other than a criminal prosecution, was the prohibition against the boards issuing a certificate of nomination or election. This had the effect of forcing the successful candidates to file but provided no penalty which the boards could impose against the unsuccessful candidates.

"Revised Code Section 3517.11 now provides that the failure of any candidate to file a statement of expenditures shall disqualify him from becoming a candidate again for a period of five years. It should be noted that the Eighth District Court of Appeals has ruled that the filing of such a statement of expenditures by a candidate for office is mandatory but the time within which it is to be filed, is merely directory."

Courts

DIVORCE SUIT FILED

Shirley Joyce Lloyd, Washington C. H., a minor represented by her mother, Anna Lois Rummans, has filed suit for divorce from Harold Vernon Lloyd, Brookville, in Common Pleas Court here on grounds of gross neglect and cruelty. She also asks alimony, restoration to her maiden name and $100 for an automobile which she alleges she turned over to the defendant and which she claims he sold and kept the proceeds. They were married March 3, 1956, and have no children.

DIVORCE GRANTED

Robert Beedy has been granted a divorce in Common Pleas Court from Ruth Beedy on a cross-petition charging cruelty and neglect. He was awarded custody of their three children, 6, 5 and 3 years old, and Mrs. Beedy is to have the household goods, providing she assumes the mortgage indebtedness on them. He is pay court costs of $63.65 and attorney fees of $100.

Ohio A-Plant Chief Gets Medal, Cash

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manager Kenneth A. Dunbar of the billion dollar atomic plant in southern Ohio Wednesday received a $500 award and a silver medal for "outstanding service" with the Atomic Energy Commission.

Dunbar was credited by the AEC with demonstrating "unusual administrative and technical competence" in bringing the Portsmouth plant into operation ahead of schedule and below official estimates of cost.

The AEC sent Dunbar to Ohio from Paducah, Ky., to head the huge plant when construction started in August of 1952. He had held a similar job at the Paducah atomic installation.

There are now more than 70 million licensed drivers of motor vehicles in the United States.
